New Order To Bring Price Rollbacks

75,000 Firms Will Compute New Ceilings

DiSalle Also Sees Some Increases

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—In a far-reaching order which officials said would bring many price rollbacks for consumers, the government tonight directed 75,000 manufacturers to reprice a vast range of products.

Price Director Michael DiSalle acknowledged there would be some price increases too, although he said the "net" effect would be a reduction in the general level of manufacturers' prices.

Estimating that the 75,000 manufacturers do about $70,000,000,000 of business yearly, he called the new regulation a major step toward restoring "equitable industrial prices." It covers products ranging from refrigerators and television sets to breakfast cereals and soup mixes.

Replaces General Freeze

DiSalle told a news conference the regulation will:

1. Roll back the prices of companies which "unjustifiably" raised their prices and profit margins after the outbreak of the Korean war; and

2. Provide relief to manufacturers who were caught by the general freeze Jan. 26 with ceiling prices in many cases below actual production costs.

The new regulation replaces the general price freeze under which the manufacturers have been operating. Generally speaking, it is designed to base prices on pre-Korean war figures, plus increases since that time in factory wages and materials cost.

In another action today the Office of Price Stabilization extended for another 30 days—until May 30—the time for 276,000 retail stores to file pricing charts with OPS and put new margin-type ceiling prices into effect.

Advance Notice Required

The new manufacturers' pricing order provides that no individual company may increase prices above present ceilings without first notifying OPS 15 days in advance that it intends to do so. DiSalle said requests for increases will be reviewed closely.

Manufacturers getting relief under the regulation, DiSalle said, will be those who "held back on price increases" last December while cooperating with the government's voluntary price stabilization program.

Reductions in manufacturers' prices, DiSalle said, eventually will be reflected in prices to consumers. Manufacturers have until May 28 to compute their new ceilings. Then it would take more time for lower-priced goods to reach shelves of retail stores.

Commerce Dept. Reports Decline In Retail Sales

Business Spending Plans Called Threat

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The big consumer buying spree of early 1951 halted in March, the Commerce Department reported today.

But the department warned that this "moderation of the inflationary movement" was offset by a rising threat of inflation from another quarter—business firms' plans to invest record sums in new plant and equipment this year.

The threat of a business spending spree was pictured by the agency as making further government controls or other counter-inflationary action necessary, although some makers of autos and other consumer goods are now cutting output and laying off workers.

Inflation Dangers Remain

In its April "survey of current business," the department commented:

"It is clear that further action—whether this takes the form of direct controls or monetary and fiscal measures, or both—will be required to insure the channeling of sufficient resources for defense purposes and to avoid inflationary excesses."

"In such a period," the department publication continued, "government policy must be directed toward curtailing that part of investment (by business in new buildings and machines) as well as consumption not essential to the mobilization effort."

Sales Drop Five Per Cent

Reinforcing its theme, the department—which wields emergency controls over business activities—observed that "not all of the peak investment currently being made or planned for this year is related to the military effort."

Discussing the slowdown in consumer buying, the department said March retail sales dropped five per cent below the preceding month after allowance for seasonable factors. The decline centered in used cars, television sets, household appliances, clothing and general merchandise.

GI Checks In Mail

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The first checks of a $685,000,000 special dividend to holders of 8,000,000 GI insurance policies are in the mails.

The Veterans Administration said the checks cover dividends due on some of the national service life insurance policies with anniversary dates falling during January.

Sen. McMahon Backs Truman Asian Policies

Probe Of M'Arthur Firing Opens May 3

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) declared today that the U. S. Capitol may be by atomic bombs if this country "blown to smithereens next week" follows the wrong policy in Asia.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, spoke up for the administration's policy of limiting the Korean war if possible and against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals for broader action against the Chinese Communists.

This new defense of President Truman's policies came after announcement was made that the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, and the foreign policy issues it raised, will begin May 3, a week from next Thursday.

Open Hearings Up To "Mac"

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he prefers to have MacArthur testify at a closed session. But he added that there will be a public hearing "if the General expresses a desire" for one.

Senate leaders of both parties urged public hearings" as far as possible."

"We will gain more toward achieving national unity than we will lose by having the enemy find out some confidential information," he said.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate's GOP Policy Committee, likewise urged that the "full story" be told except for those military secrets that can't be revealed in open session.

Lehman Criticizes General

Taft said Republican members of Russell's committee will develop their own case against the Truman Far Eastern policies, independently of what MacArthur has to say.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) took the floor with a charge that MacArthur seeks to involve the nation in a "big war to bring a speedy end to a small one."

The White House, meanwhile, said a statement of President Truman's reasons for ousting MacArthur was sent to MacArthur's command in Tokyo along with the dismissal order.

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short gave that reply to an inquiry about yesterday's statement by a MacArthur aide in New York that the General never has been told why he was relieved of his commands.

Buy Canning Sugar Now, Brannan Urges

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan suggested today that housewives stock up on sugar now in anticipation of canning season needs.

He made the suggestion in a letter to Sen. Ellender (D-La) who had asked if something should not be done to bolster producer prices. The Agriculture Department made the correspondence public.

Brannan said prices are relatively low because consumer buying is off. He said that unless there is stocking now the canning season might bring shortages in stores, not because of a shortage of sugar but because of transportation difficulties.

Girl Paralyzed In Both Legs And Arms Wins Art Contest

The brown-haired girl, a cripple since she was seven years old, beamed happily at word of the recognition. The $15 prize was secondary.

She paints, mainly ceramic figurines, by holding the brush in her teeth. Figurines are those little bits of colorful porcelain you used to admire in your grandmother's whatnot.

To learn the art, Nancy Sue overcame a terrific handicap. She can move her arms only by moving her shoulders. But the paints and brushes are always handy by her bedside. With what little power she has to move her fingers, she grasps a brush, then arching her back takes the brush in her mouth.

Nancy Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Smith. There are three other children in the family, Joe, 15, and Billy, 13, both accomplished pianists, and Jeanette, 10. Smith is a grocer.

Fainting Father

Nick Barkulis (right) faints while rescuers drag the Des Plaines River on Chicago's west side in search of his son and a playmate, missing since Monday afternoon when they went fishing. "Cugie's" Singer Sues "Mrs. Cugie" For Half Million

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (AP)—Abbe Lane, singer with Xavier Cugat's Latin band, named the musician's wife in a half million dollar damage suit today.

She also charged that the former Lorraine Allen was not divorced from a previous husband when she married Cugat. Therefore, she says, Mrs. Cugat wrongfully named her a co-respondent in a separate maintenance suit.

Cugat, 51, was in the Chicago hotel room of the 19-year-old Miss Lane in January when Mrs. Cugat and friends, including private detectives, walked in. Mrs. Cugat said Miss Lane was nude, Miss Lane said she wasn't.

McCarthy Links Attlee To Reds

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) charged tonight that the British government is actively helping the Chinese Communists "while British boys are dying in Korea."

"Out of 10 ships going into Communist ports with war materials, seven ships are sailing under the British flag," McCarthy told the Senate. "I understand it is something which is also of great interest to the mothers of Great Britain."

McCarthy said Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government does not represent the British people any more than "the Acheson crowd" represents the people of the United States.

He waved two large photographs which he said showed Attlee reviewing "a Communist parade" in 1937 or 1938, giving "the Communist salute," and wrote a letter "in Communist terms" to a Communist bridage in the Spanish civil war.

McCarthy repeated a charge, which he made in a Wisconsin speech last night, that "the real president" of the United States is a Kremlin-conceived monster "given birth" by Secretary of State Acheson with British government leaders as midwives.

Actor Lawrence Is Former Red

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Movie Actor Marc Lawrence, acknowledging that he once joined the Communist Party because he was a "curious schmoe," today rattled off a list of Hollywood figures he said engaged in Red activities.

Among them were such names as Actress Karen Morley against whom the House Un-American Activities Committee is asking an arrest warrant, Actor Lionel Stander who is on the committee's list of upcoming witnesses, Actor Sterling Hayden who has testified he once was a Red but quit, and several who have refused to answer questions.

Lawrence told the committee he got out of the party after he found that curiosity had led him into "an unholy mistake."

And he said it is "silly" for Hollywood veterans to deny they know any Communists.

Lawrence's ready answers were in sharp contrast to the position of two other witnesses in the Reds-in-Hollywood investigation — Writers' Agent George Willner and Character Actor Morris Carnovsky.

Both Willner and Carnovsky retired behind the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, saying testimony about Communist activities might tend to incriminate them.

Philip Murray, CIO Head, Seriously Ill

PITTSBURGH, April 24 (AP)—Philip Murray, 64, head of the CIO and United Steelworkers, is seriously ill in Mercy Hospital.

The hospital said Murray's condition is "fair."

AIROLO, Switzerland, April 24 (AP)—A fast passenger train running from Milan to Zurich was hit by an avalanche and partially buried in the high Alps a few miles south of here tonight. Early reports said one person was killed and four seriously injured.

O'Conor To Head Committee; More Funds Are Voted

Sen. Kefauver Will Stay On As Member

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Senate's crime investigation goes on at least until next Sept. 1 and perhaps longer but with a new chairman, Sen. O'Conor (D-Md).

And Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tieups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late today in a compromise promoted by the Senate Democratic Policy Committee. It was swiftly approved by the Senate itself, without objection.

The Republican members of the special investigating group, Sens. Wiley (Wis) and Tobey (NH) had wanted an extension to next Jan. 15, with $150,000 in new money to work with.

More Funds Provided

They settled, however, for four more months after the presently scheduled terminal date of April 30, plus a chance to keep the operation going under the management of the regular Commerce Committee of the Senate. Nobody said whether there will be any more televised hearings such as climaxed the Kefauver group's work last month.

The extension resolution provides that by Sept. 1 the special committee shall turn over its records to the Commerce group, along with any unspent money. The standing committee then can go on with the same sort of investigations the Kefauver committee has been making.

The resolution also provides the crime committee with another $100,000 of expense money. It already has had $265,000.

The decision first was disclosed, in part, by Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz).

Kefauver "Hard To Persuade"

He told reporters, after a long session of the Democratic Policy Committee, of the decision to carry the investigation on and of an agreement by Kefauver to stay on the committee with the proviso that O'Conor take the chair.

Asked why it took so long, McFarland said Kefauver was "hard to persuade."

Kefauver has been pleading that the press of other work does not leave him time enough for the crime committee.

He has taken the position also that enough information has been brought out to form the basis for legislative recommendations to combat organized crime.

Dawes Funeral Rites Will Be Held Today

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—A church service and private burial is planned Wednesday for Charles Gates Dawes.

Dawes, soldier, banker and statesman who served as vice president of the United States under Calvin Coolidge, died last night at the age of 85 while quietly reading in his library. He had spent the evening working on plans for Gen. MacArthur's arrival in Chicago Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. in the First Congregational Church in suburban Evanston. The Rev. Martin L. Goslin will officiate. Burial in Rosehill Cemetery will be private.

TO HEAD PROBE—Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor (above), Maryland Democrat, will become chairman of the Senate's Crime Investigating Committee, succeeding Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) who will stay on as a member, under a program approved yesterday by the Senate. The inquiry will continue at least until Sept. 1.

Ridgway Shares M'Arthur Views, Whitney Asserts

Urged Pentagon Back Use Of Chiang Troops

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—An aide said today Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to throw Chinese Nationalists into battle was shared by top Army, Navy and air commanders in Korea.

The spokesman said Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Far Eastern commander, went directly to the Pentagon with such a proposal—apparently soon after he got his first look at the situation in Korea.

"As far as I know, there has been no shift in the opinion of any military leader on the scene," added Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, personal advisor to MacArthur.

No "Deviation From Viewpoint"

"There has not been the slighest deviation from the viewpoint Gen. MacArthur expressed."

MacArthur was dismissed by President Truman for his differing views on American foreign policy in the Far East—including his belief that Chinese troops on Formosa should be sent into battle.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East, including Ridgway, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, and Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy of the Navy, also favored the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops against Chinese Reds on the mainland.

In Washington, Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short declined comment on Whitney's statements. There was no immediate reaction from the Pentagon, either.

Sent "Strong Message"

Whitney said Ridgway analyzed the situation after he first went to Korea and then "sent a very strong message to the Pentagon through Gen. MacArthur advocating use of those troops to strengthen our military operations."

MacArthur estimates about 600,000 Nationalist troops are available on Formosa. Other estimates set the figure higher or lower by a few hundred thousand.

Below-Parity Ceilings Opposed By Brannan

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan went on record today against any move to push price ceilings on farm products below parity levels.

His stand, before the House Agriculture Committee, was taken in informed quarters as a strong indication that the parity principle will be protected in any legislation the administration proposes to extend the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30.

North Carolina's Governor Plugs Truman's Reelection

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Gov. W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina put in a plug today for President Truman's renomination in 1952, saying that "when this MacArthur thing settles down Truman is going to be stronger than ever."

Scott made the statement to reporters after a North Carolina delegation called at the Democratic National Committee to urge that the party's national campaign be opened around Labor Day of next year at Scott's Haw River farm.

Chairman William Boyle tentatively approved the idea which, if carried out, would establish a precedent. Democratic presidential candidates have long taken the South for granted and in only rare instances has it proved a battleground.

"You started a Truman boom this morning didn't you?" a reporter asked Scott.

"Yes I did," he replied.

Gov. Scott, whose own term expires next year along with Mr. Truman's, added if the President runs again he will be for him.

Ridgway Says Heaviest Blow Still To Come

U. N. Forces Give Up Hwachon Reservoir

TOKYO, Wednesday, April 25 (AP)—Reinforced Allied troops today dug in and slowed the big Chinese Red breakthrough force in Central Korea.

The Allied supreme commander warned, however, that the biggest Communist blow was still to come.

Many residents of Seoul were abandoning the old Korean capital for the third time in less than a year.

The first objective of the four-day old Red counter-offensive by upwards of half a million men apparently was to cut that road in Central Korea and then swing in behind Allied forces to the west.

Reds 10 Miles Below 38th

Three Chinese army corps—105,000 at full strength—had punched a big hole in the mountainous middle of Korea, then plunged south across the 38th parallel as much as 10 miles.

The Allied top commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, took a look on a flying visit to the front and then said the Red drive has not "attained its maximum strength."

The General said the outcome "may well prove decisive" but he expressed confidence the hard-pressed Eighth Army would meet the test.

In Central Korea, Allied forces gave up Hwachon reservoir.

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U. N. line.

Red Waves Slaughtered

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the Red offensive opened the Communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of Central Korea in a flanking movement.

However, there was some cautious optimism. One heavily-censored dispatch from the western front said United Nations troops who were hit by a terrific opening punch now were "standing firm against slightly lessened Chinese pressure."

Newspaper Price Boosts Forecast

"The newspapers are still trying to fight against raising their prices," said R. M. Hederman, Jr., general manager of the Jackson (Miss) Clarion-Ledger, "but it's hard for them to see how they can avoid it.

"Some publishers already have found it mandatory to up their prices. There doesn't seem to be any general trend yet. But it looks as if it will come to that, simply as a result of the law of diminishing returns."

Hederman presided at a closed session of executives whose newspapers have circulations from 10,000 to 50,000. Later, he outlined his remarks to reporters.

"Cugie's" Singer Sues "Mrs. Cugie" For Half Million

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (AP)—Abbe Lane, singer with Xavier Cugat's Latin band, named the musician's wife in a half million dollar damage suit today.

She also charged that the former Lorraine Allen was not divorced from a previous husband when she married Cugat. Therefore, she says, Mrs. Cugat wrongfully named her a co-respondent in a separate maintenance suit.

Cugat, 51, was in the Chicago hotel room of the 19-year-old Miss Lane in January when Mrs. Cugat and friends, including private detectives, walked in. Mrs. Cugat said Miss Lane was nude, Miss Lane said she wasn't.

McCarthy Links Attlee To Reds

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) charged tonight that the British government is actively helping the Chinese Communists "while British boys are dying in Korea."

"Out of 10 ships going into Communist ports with war materials, seven ships are sailing under the British flag," McCarthy told the Senate. "I understand it is something which is also of great interest to the mothers of Great Britain."

McCarthy said Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government does not represent the British people any more than "the Acheson crowd" represents the people of the United States.

He waved two large photographs which he said showed Attlee reviewing "a Communist parade" in 1937 or 1938, giving "the Communist salute," and wrote a letter "in Communist terms" to a Communist bridage in the Spanish civil war.

McCarthy repeated a charge, which he made in a Wisconsin speech last night, that "the real president" of the United States is a Kremlin-conceived monster "given birth" by Secretary of State Acheson with British government leaders as midwives.

Actor Lawrence Is Former Red

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Movie Actor Marc Lawrence, acknowledging that he once joined the Communist Party because he was a "curious schmoe," today rattled off a list of Hollywood figures he said engaged in Red activities.

Among them were such names as Actress Karen Morley against whom the House Un-American Activities Committee is asking an arrest warrant, Actor Lionel Stander who is on the committee's list of upcoming witnesses, Actor Sterling Hayden who has testified he once was a Red but quit, and several who have refused to answer questions.

Lawrence told the committee he got out of the party after he found that curiosity had led him into "an unholy mistake."

And he said it is "silly" for Hollywood veterans to deny they know any Communists.

Lawrence's ready answers were in sharp contrast to the position of two other witnesses in the Reds-in-Hollywood investigation — Writers' Agent George Willner and Character Actor Morris Carnovsky.

Both Willner and Carnovsky retired behind the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, saying testimony about Communist activities might tend to incriminate them.

PITTSBURGH, April 24 (AP)—Philip Murray, 64, head of the CIO and United Steelworkers, is seriously ill in Mercy Hospital.

O'Conor To Head Committee; More Funds Are Voted

Sen. Kefauver Will Stay On As Member

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Senate's crime investigation goes on at least until next Sept. 1 and perhaps longer but with a new chairman, Sen. O'Conor (D-Md).

And Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tieups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late today in a compromise promoted by the Senate Democratic Policy Committee. It was swiftly approved by the Senate itself, without objection.

The Republican members of the special investigating group, Sens. Wiley (Wis) and Tobey (NH) had wanted an extension to next Jan. 15, with $150,000 in new money to work with.

More Funds Provided

They settled, however, for four more months after the presently scheduled terminal date of April 30, plus a chance to keep the operation going under the management of the regular Commerce Committee of the Senate. Nobody said whether there will be any more televised hearings such as climaxed the Kefauver group's work last month.

The extension resolution provides that by Sept. 1 the special committee shall turn over its records to the Commerce group, along with any unspent money. The standing committee then can go on with the same sort of investigations the Kefauver committee has been making.

The resolution also provides the crime committee with another $100,000 of expense money. It already has had $265,000.

The decision first was disclosed, in part, by Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz).

Kefauver "Hard To Persuade"

He told reporters, after a long session of the Democratic Policy Committee, of the decision to carry the investigation on and of an agreement by Kefauver to stay on the committee with the proviso that O'Conor take the chair.

Asked why it took so long, McFarland said Kefauver was "hard to persuade."

Kefauver has been pleading that the press of other work does not leave him time enough for the crime committee.

He has taken the position also that enough information has been brought out to form the basis for legislative recommendations to combat organized crime.

Dawes Funeral Rites Will Be Held Today

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—A church service and private burial is planned Wednesday for Charles Gates Dawes.

Dawes, soldier, banker and statesman who served as vice president of the United States under Calvin Coolidge, died last night at the age of 85 while quietly reading in his library. He had spent the evening working on plans for Gen. MacArthur's arrival in Chicago Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. in the First Congregational Church in suburban Evanston. The Rev. Martin L. Goslin will officiate. Burial in Rosehill Cemetery will be private.

TO HEAD PROBE—Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor (above), Maryland Democrat, will become chairman of the Senate's Crime Investigating Committee, succeeding Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) who will stay on as a member, under a program approved yesterday by the Senate. The inquiry will continue at least until Sept. 1.

Ridgway Shares M'Arthur Views, Whitney Asserts

Urged Pentagon Back Use Of Chiang Troops

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—An aide said today Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to throw Chinese Nationalists into battle was shared by top Army, Navy and air commanders in Korea.

The spokesman said Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Far Eastern commander, went directly to the Pentagon with such a proposal—apparently soon after he got his first look at the situation in Korea.

"As far as I know, there has been no shift in the opinion of any military leader on the scene," added Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, personal advisor to MacArthur.

No "Deviation From Viewpoint"

"There has not been the slighest deviation from the viewpoint Gen. MacArthur expressed."

MacArthur was dismissed by President Truman for his differing views on American foreign policy in the Far East—including his belief that Chinese troops on Formosa should be sent into battle.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East, including Ridgway, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, and Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy of the Navy, also favored the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops against Chinese Reds on the mainland.

In Washington, Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short declined comment on Whitney's statements. There was no immediate reaction from the Pentagon, either.

Sent "Strong Message"

Whitney said Ridgway analyzed the situation after he first went to Korea and then "sent a very strong message to the Pentagon through Gen. MacArthur advocating use of those troops to strengthen our military operations."

MacArthur estimates about 600,000 Nationalist troops are available on Formosa. Other estimates set the figure higher or lower by a few hundred thousand.

Below-Parity Ceilings Opposed By Brannan

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan went on record today against any move to push price ceilings on farm products below parity levels.

His stand, before the House Agriculture Committee, was taken in informed quarters as a strong indication that the parity principle will be protected in any legislation the administration proposes to extend the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30.

North Carolina's Governor Plugs Truman's Reelection

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Gov. W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina put in a plug today for President Truman's renomination in 1952, saying that "when this MacArthur thing settles down Truman is going to be stronger than ever."

Scott made the statement to reporters after a North Carolina delegation called at the Democratic National Committee to urge that the party's national campaign be opened around Labor Day of next year at Scott's Haw River farm.

Chairman William Boyle tentatively approved the idea which, if carried out, would establish a precedent. Democratic presidential candidates have long taken the South for granted and in only rare instances has it proved a battleground.

"You started a Truman boom this morning didn't you?" a reporter asked Scott.

"Yes I did," he replied.

Gov. Scott, whose own term expires next year along with Mr. Truman's, added if the President runs again he will be for him.

Ridgway Says Heaviest Blow Still To Come

U. N. Forces Give Up Hwachon Reservoir

TOKYO, Wednesday, April 25 (AP)—Reinforced Allied troops today dug in and slowed the big Chinese Red breakthrough force in Central Korea.

The Allied supreme commander warned, however, that the biggest Communist blow was still to come.

Many residents of Seoul were abandoning the old Korean capital for the third time in less than a year.

The first objective of the four-day old Red counter-offensive by upwards of half a million men apparently was to cut that road in Central Korea and then swing in behind Allied forces to the west.

Reds 10 Miles Below 38th

Three Chinese army corps—105,000 at full strength—had punched a big hole in the mountainous middle of Korea, then plunged south across the 38th parallel as much as 10 miles.

The Allied top commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, took a look on a flying visit to the front and then said the Red drive has not "attained its maximum strength."

The General said the outcome "may well prove decisive" but he expressed confidence the hard-pressed Eighth Army would meet the test.

In Central Korea, Allied forces gave up Hwachon reservoir.

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U. N. line.

Red Waves Slaughtered

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the Red offensive opened the Communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of Central Korea in a flanking movement.

However, there was some cautious optimism. One heavily-censored dispatch from the western front said United Nations troops who were hit by a terrific opening punch now were "standing firm against slightly lessened Chinese pressure."

Newspaper Price Boosts Forecast

"The newspapers are still trying to fight against raising their prices," said R. M. Hederman, Jr., general manager of the Jackson (Miss) Clarion-Ledger, "but it's hard for them to see how they can avoid it.

"Some publishers already have found it mandatory to up their prices. There doesn't seem to be any general trend yet. But it looks as if it will come to that, simply as a result of the law of diminishing returns."

Hederman presided at a closed session of executives whose newspapers have circulations from 10,000 to 50,000. Later, he outlined his remarks to reporters.

Weather Forecast

Considerable cloudiness and warmer today; tomorrow warm and windy with showers.

New Order To Bring Price Rollbacks

75,000 Firms Will Compute New Ceilings

DiSalle Also Sees Some Increases

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—In a far-reaching order which officials said would bring many price rollbacks for consumers, the government tonight directed 75,000 manufacturers to reprice a vast range of products.

Price Director Michael DiSalle acknowledged there would be some price increases too, although he said the "net" effect would be a reduction in the general level of manufacturers' prices.

Estimating that the 75,000 manufacturers do about $70,000,000,000 of business yearly, he called the new regulation a major step toward restoring "equitable industrial prices." It covers products ranging from refrigerators and television sets to breakfast cereals and soup mixes.

Replaces General Freeze

DiSalle told a news conference the regulation will:

1. Roll back the prices of companies which "unjustifiably" raised their prices and profit margins after the outbreak of the Korean war; and

2. Provide relief to manufacturers who were caught by the general freeze Jan. 26 with ceiling prices in many cases below actual production costs.

The new regulation replaces the general price freeze under which the manufacturers have been operating. Generally speaking, it is designed to base prices on pre-Korean war figures, plus increases since that time in factory wages and materials cost.

In another action today the Office of Price Stabilization extended for another 30 days—until May 30—the time for 276,000 retail stores to file pricing charts with OPS and put new margin-type ceiling prices into effect.

Advance Notice Required

The new manufacturers' pricing order provides that no individual company may increase prices above present ceilings without first notifying OPS 15 days in advance that it intends to do so. DiSalle said requests for increases will be reviewed closely.

Manufacturers getting relief under the regulation, DiSalle said, will be those who "held back on price increases" last December while cooperating with the government's voluntary price stabilization program.

Reductions in manufacturers' prices, DiSalle said, eventually will be reflected in prices to consumers. Manufacturers have until May 28 to compute their new ceilings. Then it would take more time for lower-priced goods to reach shelves of retail stores.

WANTS NEW EXAM—Accordionist Dick Contino awaits arraignment yesterday on a second draft evasion charge at Los Angeles. Commerce Dept. Reports Decline In Retail Sales

Business Spending Plans Called Threat

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The big consumer buying spree of early 1951 halted in March, the Commerce Department reported today.

But the department warned that this "moderation of the inflationary movement" was offset by a rising threat of inflation from another quarter—business firms' plans to invest record sums in new plant and equipment this year.

The threat of a business spending spree was pictured by the agency as making further government controls or other counter-inflationary action necessary, although some makers of autos and other consumer goods are now cutting output and laying off workers.

Inflation Dangers Remain

In its April "survey of current business," the department commented:

"It is clear that further action—whether this takes the form of direct controls or monetary and fiscal measures, or both—will be required to insure the channeling of sufficient resources for defense purposes and to avoid inflationary excesses."

"In such a period," the department publication continued, "government policy must be directed toward curtailing that part of investment (by business in new buildings and machines) as well as consumption not essential to the mobilization effort."

Sales Drop Five Per Cent

Reinforcing its theme, the department—which wields emergency controls over business activities—observed that "not all of the peak investment currently being made or planned for this year is related to the military effort."

Discussing the slowdown in consumer buying, the department said March retail sales dropped five per cent below the preceding month after allowance for seasonable factors. The decline centered in used cars, television sets, household appliances, clothing and general merchandise.

Sen. McMahon Backs Truman Asian Policies

Probe Of M'Arthur Firing Opens May 3

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) declared today that the U. S. Capitol may be by atomic bombs if this country "blown to smithereens next week" follows the wrong policy in Asia.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, spoke up for the administration's policy of limiting the Korean war if possible and against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals for broader action against the Chinese Communists.

This new defense of President Truman's policies came after announcement was made that the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, and the foreign policy issues it raised, will begin May 3, a week from next Thursday.

Open Hearings Up To "Mac"

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he prefers to have MacArthur testify at a closed session. But he added that there will be a public hearing "if the General expresses a desire" for one.

Senate leaders of both parties urged public hearings" as far as possible."

"We will gain more toward achieving national unity than we will lose by having the enemy find out some confidential information," he said.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate's GOP Policy Committee, likewise urged that the "full story" be told except for those military secrets that can't be revealed in open session.

Lehman Criticizes General

Taft said Republican members of Russell's committee will develop their own case against the Truman Far Eastern policies, independently of what MacArthur has to say.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) took the floor with a charge that MacArthur seeks to involve the nation in a "big war to bring a speedy end to a small one."

The White House, meanwhile, said a statement of President Truman's reasons for ousting MacArthur was sent to MacArthur's command in Tokyo along with the dismissal order.

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short gave that reply to an inquiry about yesterday's statement by a MacArthur aide in New York that the General never has been told why he was relieved of his commands.

Buy Canning Sugar Now, Brannan Urges

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan suggested today that housewives stock up on sugar now in anticipation of canning season needs.

He made the suggestion in a letter to Sen. Ellender (D-La) who had asked if something should not be done to bolster producer prices. The Agriculture Department made the correspondence public.

Brannan said prices are relatively low because consumer buying is off. He said that unless there is stocking now the canning season might bring shortages in stores, not because of a shortage of sugar but because of transportation difficulties.

The brown-haired girl, a cripple since she was seven years old, beamed happily at word of the recognition. The $15 prize was secondary.

Scott made the statement to reporters after a North Carolina delegation called at the Democratic National Committee to urge that the party's national campaign be opened around Labor Day of next year at Scott's Haw River farm.

Chairman William Boyle tentatively approved the idea which, if carried out, would establish a precedent. Democratic presidential candidates have long taken the South for granted and in only rare instances has it proved a battleground.

"You started a Truman boom this morning didn't you?" a reporter asked Scott.

"Yes I did," he replied.

Gov. Scott, whose own term expires next year along with Mr. Truman's, added if the President runs again he will be for him.

Ridgway Says Heaviest Blow Still To Come

U. N. Forces Give Up Hwachon Reservoir

TOKYO, Wednesday, April 25 (AP)—Reinforced Allied troops today dug in and slowed the big Chinese Red breakthrough force in Central Korea.

The Allied supreme commander warned, however, that the biggest Communist blow was still to come.

Many residents of Seoul were abandoning the old Korean capital for the third time in less than a year.

The first objective of the four-day old Red counter-offensive by upwards of half a million men apparently was to cut that road in Central Korea and then swing in behind Allied forces to the west.

Reds 10 Miles Below 38th

Three Chinese army corps—105,000 at full strength—had punched a big hole in the mountainous middle of Korea, then plunged south across the 38th parallel as much as 10 miles.

The Allied top commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, took a look on a flying visit to the front and then said the Red drive has not "attained its maximum strength."

The General said the outcome "may well prove decisive" but he expressed confidence the hard-pressed Eighth Army would meet the test.

In Central Korea, Allied forces gave up Hwachon reservoir.

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U. N. line.

Red Waves Slaughtered

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the Red offensive opened the Communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of Central Korea in a flanking movement.

However, there was some cautious optimism. One heavily-censored dispatch from the western front said United Nations troops who were hit by a terrific opening punch now were "standing firm against slightly lessened Chinese pressure."

Newspaper Price Boosts Forecast

"The newspapers are still trying to fight against raising their prices," said R. M. Hederman, Jr., general manager of the Jackson (Miss) Clarion-Ledger, "but it's hard for them to see how they can avoid it.

"Some publishers already have found it mandatory to up their prices. There doesn't seem to be any general trend yet. But it looks as if it will come to that, simply as a result of the law of diminishing returns."

Hederman presided at a closed session of executives whose newspapers have circulations from 10,000 to 50,000. Later, he outlined his remarks to reporters.

Dikes Holding In Flood Area

[By The Associated Press]

The crest of the surging Mississippi hit Iowa river cities Tuesday, but all major dikes held and the danger of extensive new damage eased on that area.

The only dike break reported was at Spring Lake, Ill. An old levee crumbled, flooding 3,000 acres of government-owned recreation land below Savanna.

However, the worst of the flood won't reach threatened downstream Illinois, Iowa and Missouri cities until later in the week.

Meanwhile, a serious timber fire raged in parched Oregon and a dozen small fires broke out in the dry Pacific northwest. The entire Pacific northwest, dried by nearly a month of drought, has become a fire hazard.

The Mississippi flood already has made 7,400 persons homeless in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. The Red Cross estimated another 24,000 persons are threatened with evacuation.

The most critical spot, Sabula, an Iowa community of 800 persons, apparently was winning the battle of the Mississippi. Sixty per cent of the town is below the level of the river—being held back by two mile-long levees to the north and south.

Sabula's adults and school children have conducted around-the-clock sandbagging operations for four days. The dikes have been strengthened and day and night patrols have been on guard against leaks.

Senators Will Probe Ohio Senate Election

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP) — Senate investigators decided today to hold public hearings on complaints of improper tactics and literature in last year's Ohio senatorial campaign.

At the same time they ordered a "limited series" of public hearings on suggestions for "remedial" legislation covering campaign practices.

Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of a Senate Elections subcommittee said the Ohio probe was voted since "tactics and election practices in the Ohio senatorial campaign are alleged to parallel those complained of in the Maryland campaign."

Lawyer Indicates Rita, Aly Through

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP) — A lawyer today provided the first official inkling that the storybook romance of the Prince and the Princess—Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth—is headed for a non-fairy-tale crackup.

The glamorous actress' attorney, Bartley Crum, was asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from the Moslem Prince. Said he: "No decision has been reached yet."

The significance of this statement was in the fact that it was the first time anyone able to speak for the actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

Donner Is Found Guilty Of Murder

TOWSON, Md., April 24 (AP) — Erving Herman Donner, 25-year-old steel-worker, was convicted of first degree murder today for the slaying of Thelma Parker.

The jury deliberated 35 minutes after the day and a half trial. The conviction carries a mandatory death sentence.

The body of Miss Parker, 54-year-old aircraft worker, was found near her home in Essex. She had been strangled and partly stripped of her clothes.

The state yesterday introduced a statement signed by Donner which quoted him as saying he "hit her in the head. The girl fell backward and I drug her up an embankment x x x I only wanted to attack her."

Shortly before the case went to the jury, Donner took the stand to deny completely the statement. He said he signed it to get away from the long hours of questioning and because he was told he would be transferred to another jail.

"I never knew Miss Parker and I did not kill her," he declared.

Three Gls Killed In Jap Train Fire

YOKOHAMA, Wednesday, April 25 (AP)—Fire caused by a dangling live wire roared through a crowded interurban train yesterday, killing 97 persons, including three American soldiers.

The Army reduced the toll of known American dead after it had been announced earlier that seven Americans had perished.

The Army said its investigation failed to show that four other foreigners who died were U. S. soldiers.

Fifty-nine other persons were injured, some seriously. Names of the soldiers were withheld temporarily.

Flames flashed through the old wooden coach. The electrically-operated doors would not work. The windows were small ones, so designed in wartime to save on glass. Only the smallest person could squeeze through.

As the flames roared, passengers screamed in terror.

Revision Of State's Election Laws Urged

BALTIMORE, April 24 (AP)—The Baltimore City grand jury today urged the state to completely revise its Corrupt Practices Act to catch any candidates and politicians ducking under it.

The grand jury made the request in a report filed after investigating activities connected with the city's recent primary election. It asked the criminal court to make the report available to the Legislative Council for consideration.

The body's chief complaints hinged on the apparent opportunity of political groups to take an active part in election machinery.

The report recommended that "the supervisors of elections and all employes of that office should be under civil service and removed from any political domination."

Sports Promoter Sues Oil Tycoon As Result Of Fight

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (INS)—Three suits for damages totaling $210,000 brought Texas Oil Tycoon Glenn H. McCarthy into federal court in Los Angeles today as a defendant.

McCarthy appeared before Federal Judge James M. Carter to answer suits filed by Larry Rummans, sports promoter, growing out of a fight in McCarthy's Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

Rummans asked $100,000 in one suit, charging false imprisonment. He alleged McCarthy had employes of the hotel lock him in a room and keep him there two days during September, 1949.

The second suit asked $100,000 on a charge of assault and battery, Rummans charging the millionaire oil man kicked him while employes held him down on the floor.

In still another suit Rummans asked $10,000 for his services as a promoter of a football game between the Cleveland Browns and a team of professional stars from other football clubs.

McCarthy denied all of Rummans' allegations although he admitted there was a fight. He insisted Rummans started it.

Bill To Shift Federal Workers Introduced

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—A bill to move at least 25,000 federal workers from the District of Columbia area permanently was introduced today by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho).

It is the decentralization section of the so-called government dispersal bill which the Senate rejected yesterday.

Dworshak contends the primary purpose of the dispersal bill was not to make the capital less vulnerable as a target for enemy bombing but to make space for the large influx of employes being brought here in the war effort.

There's one job Amcelle never finishes

During the 26 years Amcelle has been in operation we've never stopped trying to find better methods of making better acetate yarn.

A lot of the progress made during these years has come from suggestions made by men and women busy at their production jobs, for there are things that don't show up in laboratory test tubes and engineering blue-prints. Last year, for instance, our employees came up with 2,258 suggestions for cutting costs or raising quality, for making the job safer or easier, and for making the plant a cleaner and more pleasant place to work.

During the years a formal suggestion system has been in operation at Amcelle, 10,751 accepted suggestions have been incorporated into our procedures, earning their originators sums ranging from $5.00 to $550.00 per idea. Other accepted suggestions are being tested and studied to determine if additional awards can be justified.

Thinking about better ways to do a job pays off at Amcelle. A practicable suggestion that cuts costs, improves quality, or has other desirable benefits not only earns a cash award for the originator but, by enabling Amcelle to serve customers better, helps to make everybody's job more secure.

The significance of this statement was in the fact that it was the first time anyone able to speak for the actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

Donner Is Found Guilty Of Murder

TOWSON, Md., April 24 (AP) — Erving Herman Donner, 25-year-old steel-worker, was convicted of first degree murder today for the slaying of Thelma Parker.

The jury deliberated 35 minutes after the day and a half trial. The conviction carries a mandatory death sentence.

The body of Miss Parker, 54-year-old aircraft worker, was found near her home in Essex. She had been strangled and partly stripped of her clothes.

The state yesterday introduced a statement signed by Donner which quoted him as saying he "hit her in the head. The girl fell backward and I drug her up an embankment x x x I only wanted to attack her."

Shortly before the case went to the jury, Donner took the stand to deny completely the statement. He said he signed it to get away from the long hours of questioning and because he was told he would be transferred to another jail.

"I never knew Miss Parker and I did not kill her," he declared.

Three Gls Killed In Jap Train Fire

YOKOHAMA, Wednesday, April 25 (AP)—Fire caused by a dangling live wire roared through a crowded interurban train yesterday, killing 97 persons, including three American soldiers.

The Army reduced the toll of known American dead after it had been announced earlier that seven Americans had perished.

The Army said its investigation failed to show that four other foreigners who died were U. S. soldiers.

Fifty-nine other persons were injured, some seriously. Names of the soldiers were withheld temporarily.

Flames flashed through the old wooden coach. The electrically-operated doors would not work. The windows were small ones, so designed in wartime to save on glass. Only the smallest person could squeeze through.

As the flames roared, passengers screamed in terror.

Revision Of State's Election Laws Urged

BALTIMORE, April 24 (AP)—The Baltimore City grand jury today urged the state to completely revise its Corrupt Practices Act to catch any candidates and politicians ducking under it.

The grand jury made the request in a report filed after investigating activities connected with the city's recent primary election. It asked the criminal court to make the report available to the Legislative Council for consideration.

The body's chief complaints hinged on the apparent opportunity of political groups to take an active part in election machinery.

The report recommended that "the supervisors of elections and all employes of that office should be under civil service and removed from any political domination."

Sports Promoter Sues Oil Tycoon As Result Of Fight

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (INS)—Three suits for damages totaling $210,000 brought Texas Oil Tycoon Glenn H. McCarthy into federal court in Los Angeles today as a defendant.

McCarthy appeared before Federal Judge James M. Carter to answer suits filed by Larry Rummans, sports promoter, growing out of a fight in McCarthy's Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

Rummans asked $100,000 in one suit, charging false imprisonment. He alleged McCarthy had employes of the hotel lock him in a room and keep him there two days during September, 1949.

The second suit asked $100,000 on a charge of assault and battery. Rummans charging the millionaire oil man kicked him while employes held him down on the floor.

In still another suit Rummans asked $10,000 for his services as a promoter of a football game between the Cleveland Browns and a team of professional stars from other football clubs.

McCarthy denied all of Rummans' allegations although he admitted there was a fight. He insisted Rummans started it.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Chairman Mon Wallgren of the Federal Power Commission said today he will resign "sometime this summer."

Asked whether he is going to throw his hat into the political ring in Washington state, Wallgren said he is "not sure the people want me."

He added that there is a race for governor and one for senator coming up in that state, and said "I might go out and look the situation over."

U. Of North Carolina Admits First Negro

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 24 (AP)—The University of North Carolina admitted the first negro to its medical school today.

A letter of acceptance was mailed to Edward O. Diggs, a student at A. and T. College in Greensboro.

Diggs, the first negro ever admitted to the 162-year-old university, was accepted on a six to one vote of the admissions committee of the medical school.

Bill To Shift Federal Workers Introduced

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—A bill to move at least 25,000 federal workers from the District of Columbia area permanently was introduced today by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho).

It is the decentralization section of the so-called government dispersal bill which the Senate rejected yesterday.

Dworshak contends the primary purpose of the dispersal bill was not to make the capital less vulnerable as a target for enemy bombing but to make space for the large influx of employes being brought here in the war effort.

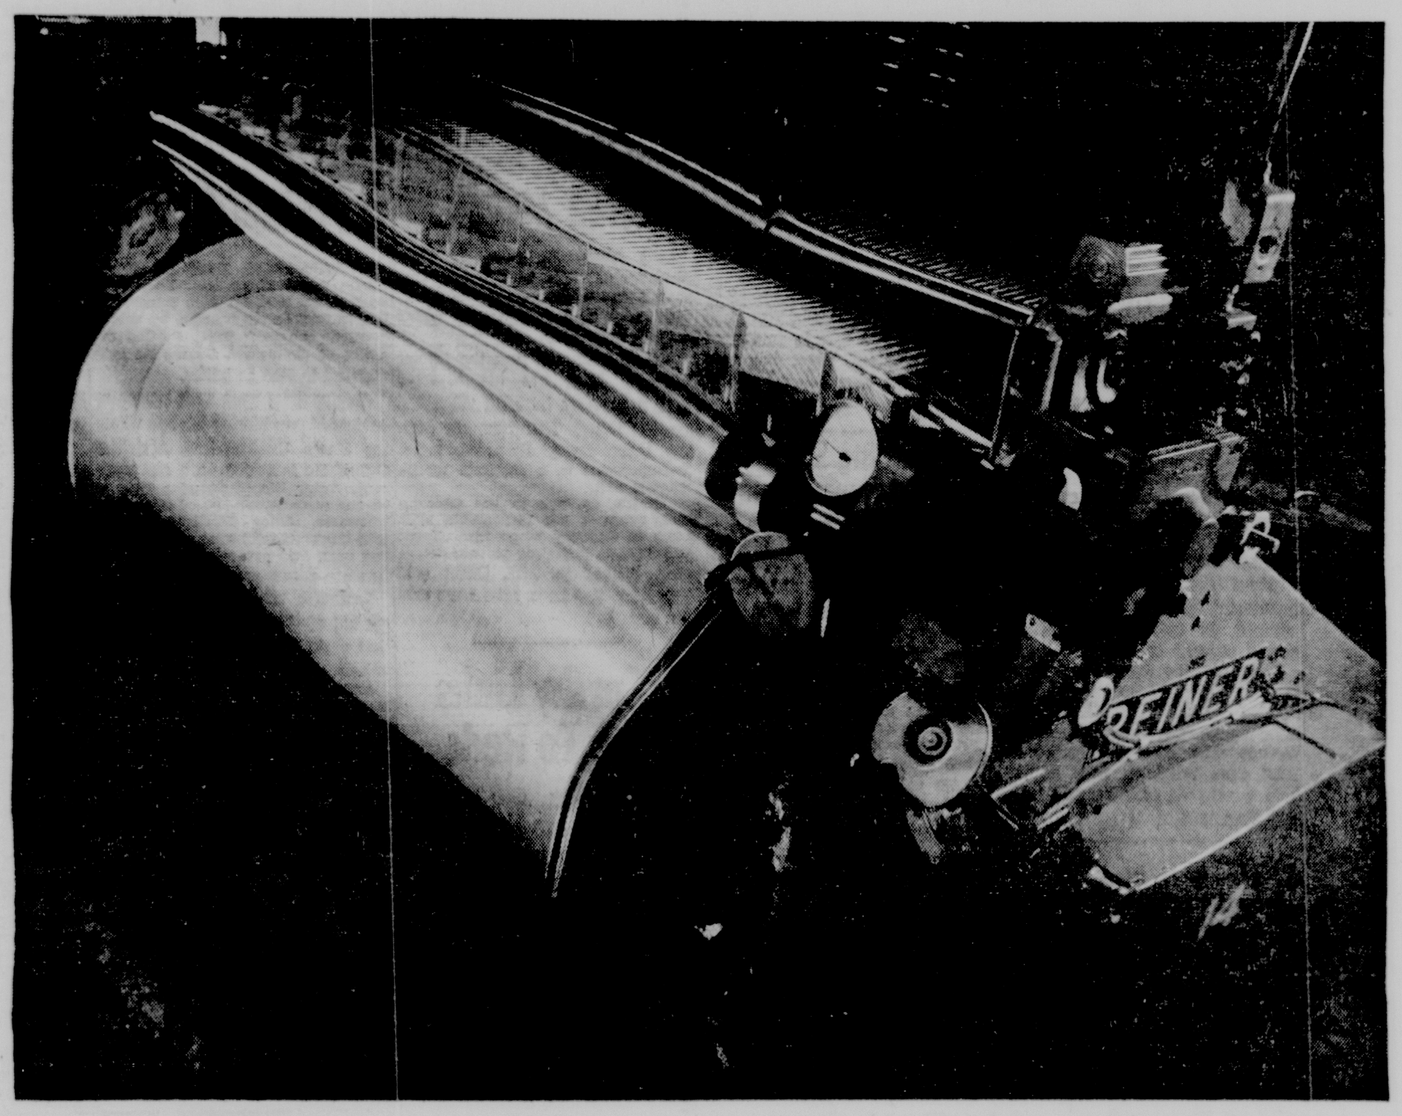
There's one job Amcelle never finishes

During the 26 years Amcelle has been in operation we've never stopped trying to find better methods of making better acetate yarn.

A lot of the progress made during these years has come from suggestions made by men and women busy at their production jobs, for there are things that don't show up in laboratory test tubes and engineering blue-prints. Last year, for instance, our employees came up with 2,258 suggestions for cutting costs or raising quality, for making the job safer or easier, and for making the plant a cleaner and more pleasant place to work.

During the years a formal suggestion system has been in operation at Amcelle, 10,751 accepted suggestions have been incorporated into our procedures, earning their originators sums ranging from $5.00 to $550.00 per idea. Other accepted suggestions are being tested and studied to determine if additional awards can be justified.



Celanese CORPORATION OF AMERICA AMCELLE PLANT

Shown above is a machine for winding yarn on beams for shipment to fabric weaving mills. It is a new machine of the latest design and considered just about perfect for the job. However, employees working with this equipment have made several suggestions to improve its operation and will probably make many more in the future.

Thinking about better ways to do a job pays off at Amcelle. A practicable suggestion that cuts costs, improves quality, or has other desirable benefits not only earns a cash award for the originator but, by enabling Amcelle to serve customers better, helps to make everybody's job more secure.

Acheson And Predecessors

The repercussions of the dismissal of General MacArthur may make it even harder for President Truman to hold on to his Secretary of State. "If MacArthur was a liability in our foreign policy, how about Acheson?" was demanded by many members of Congress who condemned the action on MacArthur. And several newspapers that upheld Mr. Truman in getting rid of the General suggested that at the same time he would do well to wipe the slate clean by finding a new Secretary of State.

On Saturday Dean G. Acheson had headed the State Department for 2¼ years. This hasn't been too short a term of office when compared with the terms of Mr. Acheson's 14 predecessors since 1898, when the Spanish-American War precipitated the U. S. into the international arena. Of those 14, five served for less than 2¼ years and another (Bryan) for only a few days more. If the 11¾ years of Cordell Hull, the all-time record, be omitted, the average service of the post-Spanish War Secretaries of State was only three years.

For that matter, 2¼ years isn't a short term for a Truman Cabinet member. No other President has made so many Cabinet shifts as the present chief executive considering the length of respective administrations.

Up to the present, Secretary Acheson cannot be said to have distinguished his tenure in the State Department by any outstanding single policy. The intervention in Korea was really a Truman decision, and as for opposition to Communist China in UN, Acheson has announced that the U.S. would not try to use its veto power to prevent such admission. It is true that the Atlantic Security treaty was developed and ratified under Acheson, but the way had been paved for it by Senator Vandenberg before Acheson took office, and it was proposed by President Truman the day before Acheson was sworn in.

Most of the other Secretaries of State since the Spanish-American War have had some distinctive policy associated with their names:—

John Hay, 1898-1905—The "Open Door," or equal economic opportunity for all nations, in China; preservation of Chinese sovereignty.

Philander C. Knox, 1909-13—"Dollar diplomacy," or protection of U.S. investments abroad.

Frank B. Kellogg, 1925-29—Kellogg-Briand treaty by which nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

Cordell Hull, 1933-34—Reciprocal tariff agreements and other steps to break down barriers in international trade.

Dimmed Brightness

From Detroit, world automotive capital, comes word that substantial changes in the bodies of 1952 model cars are in prospect, if tooling comes through on schedule. As there isn't much doubt that the tools will be delivered, 1952 model changes will go through, almost as planned.

Car changes are a solemn, expensive undertaking, similar to remodeling a house. The 1952 changes left the drawing boards long before there was thought of defense stockpiling. Not all materials will be available, but ingenious engineers are developing substitutes. Apart from the greatest design changes in bodies since the war's end, further improvements in automatic transmissions and power plants are planned.

One design change is to increase headroom, which will come from eliminating those long, sloping backs with rear windows that are neither vertical nor horizontal. In the rear seats of some present models, a passenger cannot sit upright with his hat on. When the passion for streamlining and exterior appearance makes for discomfort within, designers defeat their own purpose, which is to increase consumer demand for their product.

As to exterior, use of chromium bumpers and other fittings (what is called "bright work" on boats) has reached such an extreme as to cheapen the appearance of some cars. Real elegance depends upon a certain degree of restraint. An expensive car ought not to suggest a juke box. From Detroit comes word that some of the bright exterior fittings will be dimmed in cars of the higher price brackets. What was formerly referred to as "quiet good taste" will once more have a chance.

Names Out Of The News

A little news item chronicles the appearance at the 50th anniversary celebration of Elk City, Okla., of Jess Willard, who worked in Elk City as a hod carrier 40 years ago. To the younger generation the name didn't register. Jess, of course, was the heavyweight champion of the world who was defeated by Jack Dempsey. Who was Dempsey? He was defeated by Tunney—but this could go on forever.

Names that are in all the newspapers during the heyday of the individuals they identify are forgotten quickly when they cease to appear in print. How many of the big shots of the Truman Administration will be readily identifiable by a newspaper reader 10 years hence? Vaughan? Acheson? Any of the President's congressional leaders?

The name of Lindbergh has disappeared from the public prints and members of the younger set have a hazy idea of who he is. Twenty years ago he was the nation's No. 1 hero, and his comings and goings were chronicled in the press to the point that publicity became distasteful to him.

Who today can identify Rexford Guy Tugwell? Fifteen years ago he was frequently referred to in the newspapers as "assistant president."

Nothing seems more certain than death, taxes and the oblivion that invariably overtakes public figures. Politicians, actors, prize fighters—all suffer the same fate.

Editorial Paragraphs

Many a gardener wishes the seed would grow and bear fruit without his aid. The dandelion and the thistle do so, but he doesn't seem to appreciate them.

Some guests boast a natural ability to make their host happy. All they have to do is go home at the proper hour.

How To Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Air Contaminants

MOST city folk envy the small towner because he is able to breathe fresh air. Urbanites are tired of living in and inhaling an atmosphere of dust, soot, and irritating gases. Derogatory remarks against industry are common but we must remember that smoking chimneys are signs of prosperity and one of the reasons why cities exist.

It has been said that air pollution costs each of us from $8 to $20 per year. We do not know how these figures were computed but assume they include our laundry bills, cleaning materials, wear and tear, and respiratory infections. In some parts of the country more than monetary losses have been suffered: the Donora disaster, for example. On the other hand, the cost of making a city dirt free also is expensive. In many instances the program would boost the price of business so high that most customers would find the prices out of line and take their business elsewhere. On the contrary, there are many illustrations of industries that profited by installing filters and other anti-pollution equipment.

The big fellow is not always responsible for air pollution. The little man and the weather man play a role equally if not more important. This has been demonstrated repeatedly by surveys conducted on days when factories are shut down and rail transportation at a minimum. Home furnaces belch forth irritating gases from oil and smoke from coal. In addition, as the house deteriorates and the gutters rust, the particles reach the air. This augments the tons of dirt that descend upon each square mile of the city every month. The little fellow also has an automobile with an exhaust pipe. Moreover, the tires are wearing away, leaving a residue with each mile of travel. It is only a bit at a time but with thousands of cars going millions of miles daily the rubbery dust increases air pollution.

The role played by weather and topography is uncontrolable and therefore these factors must be considered potential troublemakers in any area where dust and dirt are rife. Wind is a potent factor in preventing intolerable conditions in certain cities and theoretically is able to blow away anything that floats in the air, but it may stir up dust that has settled to the ground and in this respect add to the general messiness.

Temperature changes influence air currents. When the earth is warmer than the air there is a natural rise in atmosphere. Warm air, being lighter than cold air, takes up pollution with it. If the reverse condition exists, everything settles or hovers off the ground. Smog follows a combination of this situation and fog or heavy humidity. This is serious, especially if the atmosphere contains irritating or poisonous gases. Animals and plants also may suffer. Aged and infirm men and women are affected long before vigorous individuals. This must be taken into consideration when studying the effect of air pollution; to be effective, it must be safe for the weakest elements in an area.

LOOKS ARE DECEIVING

E. R. S. writes: Will you say something about people who look well but are really ill? I have essential hypertension and my doctor advises me to rest a great deal and lead a calm life, doing little socially. When I am forced to go out I hear remarks that I'm just imagining I'm sick or I look so well there can't be anything wrong with me. They don't know about my dizzy spells, headache, fatigue, and insomnia.

REPLY

Many abnormalities do not alter the appearance of the individual; they do not have a toxic effect and consequently do not wear down the individual. These include a host of orthopedic, circulatory, and neurologic disturbances, as well as hypertension, peptic ulcer, and others.

AFTERNOON TEMPERATURE

Mrs. F. writes: My 4 year old daughter runs a temperature of 99.2 to 99.6 degrees every afternoon. She is healthy and eats well. Could these readings indicate that there is something wrong with her?

REPLY

If your family physician has found the youngster healthy, there is nothing to worry about. The elevated readings may be normal for her. The temperature should not be taken after eating or exercising. The rectal thermometer may give a more accurate picture. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on normal variations in temperature.

ACTH REACTION

L. T. writes: After my doctor gave me two shots of ACTH, my fingers swelled and blisters appeared. Itching was so bad I walked the floor day and night. Is this a common reaction to ACTH?

REPLY

No. Such reactions do occur but they are rare. In fact, ACTH has been used with good results in some cases of drug sensitivity and various allergic conditions.

Truman-MacArthur Conversations At Wake Island Reported In January M-G-R; President Indicated He And Mac In Accord On Formosa Question

WASHINGTON—A highlight of the current Truman-MacArthur controversy is the New York Times story summarizing the conversations between the two men at Wake Island.

Because the New York Times story had the earmarks of being leaked out by the White House, some MacArthur proponents have challenged it, while MacArthur states that no records were made of the conversations on Wake Island.

In view of this controversy, the Washington Merry-Go-Round's account of the Wake Island conference, published on Jan. 23, some months prior to the Times' April 21 account, may be significant. For the President can hardly be accused of any partiality toward this writer except in his choice of cuss words.

Writing at that time — three months before the Truman-MacArthur controversy — I reported that:

1. MacArthur was so sure of victory he promised General Bradley that he would transfer one full division to Europe.

2. MacArthur assured the President the Chinese would not intervene.

3. MacArthur expected to get his troops back to the United States by Christmas.

4. Because of the certainty of victory, much of the conference was devoted to plans for reconstructing Korea.

5. Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant conversation of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation.

What They Said

Because the Wake Island conference now appears to be playing such an important part in the Truman-MacArthur controversy, the salient portions of my Jan. 23 Wake Island column follow:

The President of the United States flew halfway round the world to confer with General MacArthur yet aside from a few conversational pleasantries reported by accompanying newsmen, nothing has been published regarding what happened on this mid-Pacific island.

The direct talks between MacArthur and President Truman took place with no one else present; no stenographic notes were taken. It is next to impossible, therefore, to report accurately what happened. Furthermore, the stenographic notes made of the more extended conversations between Truman, MacArthur, General Bradley, and the other military men are still so secret that each copy is numbered.

However, I believe it is important that the American people know what took place at Wake Island; so herewith I shall report some of the conversations recorded in these notes.

Only one clue was given in the more extended conversation as to what Truman and MacArthur talked about in their private meeting. This was when someone asked the President about Formosa, and he cut further discussion short with the curt reply:

"General MacArthur and I have discussed Formosa already and we are in complete agreement on the subject."

The trend of discussion in the rest of the conference was that a military victory was already in the bag. Almost more time was given to a discussion of Korean rehabilitation, therefore, than to military strategy. When it came to the latter, General MacArthur dominated the conversation.

"The North Koreans," he explained, "have about 15,000 guerrillas left in the South, but the winter will take care of most of them. The others are a beaten force. They are only fighting to save face. It goes against the grain to have to destroy them."

Home By Christmas

MacArthur assured Truman that he could "finish the job in North Korea" in a short time. According to the stenographic notes he said:

"I hope to be able to have the 8th Army back in Japan by Christmas. I may be able to send a convoy into Pyongyang immediately."

At this point, President Truman asked "What about Chinese intervention?"

MacArthur's reply was: "They could have intervened earlier when it would have been decisive, but that time has passed. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. Although there are several hundred thousand along the Yalu River, it is not likely that they could cause us much trouble."

He also implied that he could "take care" of the Chinese, even if they decided to cross the Yalu River.

At the same time MacArthur described his plans for completing the conquest of Korea, he also argued against keeping American troops in Korea.

Obviously this raised the question of why march across the frozen North Korean wastes to the Yalu River if the plan was to march right back again in time to return the 8th Army to Japan by Christmas. However, no one at the Wake Island conference seemed to challenge MacArthur regarding this risky move.

MacArthur's advice on the future of Korea was "We should turn Korea over to the Koreans as quickly as we can and get out as quickly as we can.

"Korea is a poor country," he said, "and we cannot afford to impose an occupation on them. . . . Military occupations are always failures. I want to withdraw all our troops as soon as possible."

Troops To Europe

At one point, Gen. Omar Bradley asked whether MacArthur could make any troops available for Europe in the next few months.

MacArthur replied: "Yes, I think a Division can be made available early in 1951."

Bradley also remarked that he hoped MacArthur wouldn't have the same trouble he had with American pilots in Europe shooting up railroad bridges that were needed later for rehabilitation.

"I have had the same trouble," MacArthur replied. The stenographic notes show laughter at this point.

Only other laughter came when John Muccio, U. S. Ambassador to Korea, proposed using sound trucks for propaganda purposes to sell democracy to the Korean people. This prompted the President to observe:

"I believe in sound trucks. I won two elections with them."

Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant exposition of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation, and virtually no effort was made to challenge his opinions.

Perhaps also this was the most tragic part of the conference.

Changed Attitude

By MARK SULLIVAN

A COMMITTEE of the Senate is about to investigate the differences between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur, and policies of the Administration about China. As planned, the investigating committee would consist of the combined Armed Services Committee and Foreign Relations Committee. To this there is some demurring from Senate Republicans; they point out that on both these standing committees the Democrats have majorities. The Republicans would prefer a new committee made up of equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, 12 from each party.

However composed, the committee will begin work as soon as Gen. MacArthur is available to state his views and be questioned by the committee. The expectation is that he will be the first witness. Because of this and the surrounding circumstances the tendency of the committee will be to deal primarily with the present, centering about President Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, and the address the latter made before Congress. But there cannot be clear and adequate light for the public unless the investigation deals with the past, with actions and policies of the Administration that preceded Korea.

Total Miscalculations

Whenever present conditions seethe, there is a tendency to overlook the past. This is natural and has some justification. To give undue attention to the past may be, to quote an aphorism expressed in "Time" magazine recently, "to make the future a prisoner of the past." Accepting this as a tenable philosophy generally, there is in the United States today a special condition. We are already a prisoner of the past in the sense that the Administration now in power is the same that made the policies and decisions that preceded Korea. Most of the relevant ones had to do with China, and many of them were, in the words of a charitable judgment expressed at the time China fell to Russian communism, "fatal miscalculations."

Herein is the cause of much of the recent public expression of violent disapproval of President Truman, it was not inspired solely by Mr. Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur. The people knew that mistakes had been made. They saw the Administration that had made the mistakes still in power and tenacious upon power. They saw President Truman resentful toward those in Congress who, when the debate upon sending troops to Europe began, proposed even a mild and advisory limitation on his power; they saw him, in the case of Gen. MacArthur, penalize difference with him by spectacular removal. But these things that the people saw are not the whole of the field about which the country needs to know more exactly and more in detail.

Should Check Past

Until close to the end of World War II, our relations with China had been formal alliance in war with the government under Chiang Kai-shek, accompanied by historic amity and friendship on the part of the Chinese people. Today the government of China is a Communist one formally allied to Russia. It is engaged in war upon us, and the war is wanton in the sense that we did not attack. These contrasting conditions are the termini of the six years of history which the coming Senate investigation needs to go into for the enlightment of our people.

The contrast is largely a contrast of attitudes toward Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalist government he headed. During the years when he was in alliance with us in fighting Japan, we gave him military and economic help. We conferred honors on him, including military citations that praised him extravagantly. President Roosevelt wrote letters of appreciation to him. When Madam Chiang Kai-shek visited the United States our government went to extreme lengths in giving her honor.

The change in the attitude of our government began in February, 1945, when President Roosevelt promised Stalin territory at the expense of China. The change continued and went farther when the Truman Administration took, toward Chiang Kai-shek, an attitude which could not but undermine him and his Nationalist government. Presently the Chiang Kai-shek government was out, the Communist government was in power.

What the coming Senate investigation needs to go into and report to the people is the cause and source of the change in attitude on the part of our government that took place after 1945.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Red air offensive may have a decisive effect on American policy in the Far East.

If the Communists, whether from bases in China or Russia, begin to frustrate our air defense in Korea, authority to bomb the Communist bases will be given. There are some rumors that the Far Eastern Command may already have such contingent instructions.

Fundamentally, the main fact, as between those who say that bombarding the Manchurian airfields will bring on a general war and those who say it will not bring any such result, is that nobody really knows the Communist intentions or policy.

Much has been made by Administration spokesmen of the point that General MacArthur at Wake Island in October last year, in the course of a discussion of many other things, hazarded the guess that the Chinese Communists would not intervene in Korea. Actually General MacArthur had no other information except that furnished him by the Central Intelligence Agency of our government, which presumably has informants throughout the world, and that which came to him from the Department of State.

Relied On Data

In line with the belief that the Department of State is supposed to be most expert on the subject of political information, General MacArthur relied on the data furnished him by this and other agencies of the government. It will be recalled that, just four or five weeks before the Wake Island conference, not only General MacArthur but American people as a whole were formally told that Communist China would not intervene in the Korean War. Here is an excerpt from a script prepared in advance by Secretary of State Acheson for a large network of television stations on September 10 last and which has since been published as an official document by the Department of State. It is as follows:

"Mr. Bancroft (of CBS): Well, Mr. Secretary, what are the chances, do you think, of Communist China getting herself involved in support of the Korean Communists?

"Secretary Acheson: I should think it would be sheer madness on the part of the Chinese Communists to do that, and I see no advantage to them in doing it. . .

"Now, I give the people in Peiping credit for being intelligent enough to see what is happening to them. Why they should want to further their own dismemberment and destruction by getting at cross purposes will all the free nations of the world who are inherently their friends and have always been friends of the chinese as against this imperialism coming down from the Soviet Union I cannot see. And since there is nothing in it for them, I don't see why they should yield to what is undoubtedly pressures from the Communist movement to get into this Korean row."

Denied Air Reconnaissance

The foregoing was substantially the kind of information which continued to be sent to General MacArthur during the latter part of September and October of last year and he relied on it because the Department of State not only has access through Great Britain to the sources of information of the Indian and Arab governments and the other diplomats in Peiping who are friendly to the Communist government but also to the reports of intelligence officers in the civil branch of our government here who, every day, analyze world-wide reports.

General MacArthur did not have a staff of intelligence agents stationed in Peiping. He might know what the enemy was doing if he had agents behind the enemy lines but air reconnaissance, which was the only certain way to observe what was going on in Manchuria, was denied to the General.

On the subject of whether or not Russia will intervene in the Korean War more actively than she has already and whether she will feel obliged to come to the aid of Communist China because of a mutual-assistance pact, it is pointed out that policy-makers here have no authoritative information on Russian intentions either. During the greater part of World War II, Russia and Japan had an offensive and defensive alliance which logically should have brought Russia into conflict with the United States when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and a state of war ensued. But Russia not only ignored that mutual-assistance pact — she subsequently denounced it and joined the United States against Japan.

Nobody in our Department of State or in our military service really knows Russia's intentions. The only good analysis that has been borne out by events was that made by General Clay when he insisted that, if we stood our ground at the time of the Berlin blockade, Russia would not start a war. It is the same kind of analysis as General MacArthur is making today — a diagnosis of military rather than political factors.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Americanisms

I OFTEN wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "A Dictionary of Americanisms on Historical Principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "Beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not American, then beigel and lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is beigel and lox from city hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson Bridge.

Instead of lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it was actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office.

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "hell!" And that took me back what seems to be to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him Hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act.

Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today; it's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for a half dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world steamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances with life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard word, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads:

"In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

It's an old trick.

Acheson And Predecessors

The repercussions of the dismissal of General MacArthur may make it even harder for President Truman to hold on to his Secretary of State. "If MacArthur was a liability in our foreign policy, how about Acheson?" was demanded by many members of Congress who condemned the action on MacArthur. And several newspapers that upheld Mr. Truman in getting rid of the General suggested that at the same time he would do well to wipe the slate clean by finding a new Secretary of State.

On Saturday Dean G. Acheson had headed the State Department for 2¼ years. This hasn't been too short a term of office when compared with the terms of Mr. Acheson's 14 predecessors since 1898, when the Spanish-American War precipitated the U. S. into the international arena. Of those 14, five served for less than 2¼ years and another (Bryan) for only a few days more. If the 11¾ years of Cordell Hull, the all-time record, be omitted, the average service of the post-Spanish War Secretaries of State was only three years.

For that matter, 2¼ years isn't a short term for a Truman Cabinet member. No other President has made so many Cabinet shifts as the present chief executive considering the length of respective administrations.

Up to the present, Secretary Acheson cannot be said to have distinguished his tenure in the State Department by any outstanding single policy. The intervention in Korea was really a Truman decision, and as for opposition to Communist China in UN, Acheson has announced that the U.S. would not try to use its veto power to prevent such admission. It is true that the Atlantic Security treaty was developed and ratified under Acheson, but the way had been paved for it by Senator Vandenberg before Acheson took office, and it was proposed by President Truman the day before Acheson was sworn in.

Most of the other Secretaries of State since the Spanish-American War have had some distinctive policy associated with their names:—

John Hay, 1898-1905—The "Open Door," or equal economic opportunity for all nations, in China; preservation of Chinese sovereignty.

Philander C. Knox, 1909-13—"Dollar diplomacy," or protection of U.S. investments abroad.

Frank B. Kellogg, 1925-29—Kellogg-Briand treaty by which nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

Cordell Hull, 1933-34—Reciprocal tariff agreements and other steps to break down barriers in international trade.

Dimmed Brightness

From Detroit, world automotive capital, comes word that substantial changes in the bodies of 1952 model cars are in prospect, if tooling comes through on schedule. As there isn't much doubt that the tools will be delivered, 1952 model changes will go through, almost as planned.

Car changes are a solemn, expensive undertaking, similar to remodeling a house. The 1952 changes left the drawing boards long before there was thought of defense stockpiling. Not all materials will be available, but ingenious engineers are developing substitutes. Apart from the greatest design changes in bodies since the war's end, further improvements in automatic transmissions and power plants are planned.

One design change is to increase headroom, which will come from eliminating those long, sloping backs with rear windows that are neither vertical nor horizontal. In the rear seats of some present models, a passenger cannot sit upright with his hat on. When the passion for streamlining and exterior appearance makes for discomfort within, designers defeat their own purpose, which is to increase consumer demand for their product.

As to exterior, use of chromium bumpers and other fittings (what is called "bright work" on boats) has reached such an extreme as to cheapen the appearance of some cars. Real elegance depends upon a certain degree of restraint. An expensive car ought not to suggest a juke box. From Detroit comes word that some of the bright exterior fittings will be dimmed in cars of the higher price brackets. What was formerly referred to as "quiet good taste" will once more have a chance.

Names Out Of The News

A little news item chronicles the appearance at the 50th anniversary celebration of Elk City, Okla., of Jess Willard, who worked in Elk City as a hod carrier 40 years ago. To the younger generation the name didn't register. Jess, of course, was the heavyweight champion of the world who was defeated by Jack Dempsey. Who was Dempsey? He was defeated by Tunney—but this could go on forever.

Names that are in all the newspapers during the heyday of the individuals they identify are forgotten quickly when they cease to appear in print. How many of the big shots of the Truman Administration will be readily identifiable by a newspaper reader 10 years hence? Vaughan? Acheson? Any of the President's congressional leaders?

The name of Lindbergh has disappeared from the public prints and members of the younger set have a hazy idea of who he is. Twenty years ago he was the nation's No. 1 hero, and his comings and goings were chronicled in the press to the point that publicity became distasteful to him.

Who today can identify Rexford Guy Tugwell? Fifteen years ago he was frequently referred to in the newspapers as "assistant president."

Nothing seems more certain than death, taxes and the oblivion that invariably overtakes public figures. Politicians, actors, prize fighters—all suffer the same fate.

Editorial Paragraphs

How To Keep Well

Air Contaminants

MOST city folk envy the small towner because he is able to breathe fresh air. Urbanites are tired of living in and inhaling an atmosphere of dust, soot, and irritating gases. Derogatory remarks against industry are common but we must remember that smoking chimneys are signs of prosperity and one of the reasons why cities exist.

It has been said that air pollution costs each of us from $8 to $20 per year. We do not know how these figures were computed but assume they include our laundry bills, cleaning materials, wear and tear, and respiratory infections. In some parts of the country more than monetary losses have been suffered: the Donora disaster, for example. On the other hand, the cost of making a city dirt free also is expensive. In many instances the program would boost the price of business so high that most customers would find the prices out of line and take their business elsewhere. On the contrary, there are many illustrations of industries that profited by installing filters and other anti-pollution equipment.

The big fellow is not always responsible for air pollution. The little man and the weather man play a role equally if not more important. This has been demonstrated repeatedly by surveys conducted on days when factories are shut down and rail transportation at a minimum. Home furnaces belch forth irritating gases from oil and smoke from coal. In addition, as the house deteriorates and the gutters rust, the particles reach the air. This augments the tons of dirt that descend upon each square mile of the city every month. The little fellow also has an automobile with an exhaust pipe. Moreover, the tires are wearing away, leaving a residue with each mile of travel. It is only a bit at a time but with thousands of cars going millions of miles daily the rubbery dust increases air pollution.

The role played by weather and topography is uncontrolable and therefore these factors must be considered potential troublemakers in any area where dust and dirt are rife. Wind is a potent factor in preventing intolerable conditions in certain cities and theoretically is able to blow away anything that floats in the air, but it may stir up dust that has settled to the ground and in this respect add to the general messiness.

Temperature changes influence air currents. When the earth is warmer than the air there is a natural rise in atmosphere. Warm air, being lighter than cold air, takes up pollution with it. If the reverse condition exists, everything settles or hovers off the ground. Smog follows a combination of this situation and fog or heavy humidity. This is serious, especially if the atmosphere contains irritating or poisonous gases. Animals and plants also may suffer. Aged and infirm men and women are affected long before vigorous individuals. This must be taken into consideration when studying the effect of air pollution; to be effective, it must be safe for the weakest elements in an area.

LOOKS ARE DECEIVING

E. R. S. writes: Will you say something about people who look well but are really ill? I have essential hypertension and my doctor advises me to rest a great deal and lead a calm life, doing little socially. When I am forced to go out I hear remarks that I'm just imagining I'm sick or I look so well there can't be anything wrong with me. They don't know about my dizzy spells, headache, fatigue, and insomnia.

REPLY

Many abnormalities do not alter the appearance of the individual; they do not have a toxic effect and consequently do not wear down the individual. These include a host of orthopedic, circulatory, and neurologic disturbances, as well as hypertension, peptic ulcer, and others.

AFTERNOON TEMPERATURE

Mrs. F. writes: My 4 year old daughter runs a temperature of 99.2 to 99.6 degrees every afternoon. She is healthy and eats well. Could these readings indicate that there is something wrong with her?

REPLY

If your family physician has found the youngster healthy, there is nothing to worry about. The elevated readings may be normal for her. The temperature should not be taken after eating or exercising. The rectal thermometer may give a more accurate picture. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on normal variations in temperature.

ACTH REACTION

L. T. writes: After my doctor gave me two shots of ACTH, my fingers swelled and blisters appeared. Itching was so bad I walked the floor day and night. Is this a common reaction to ACTH?

REPLY

No. Such reactions do occur but they are rare. In fact, ACTH has been used with good results in some cases of drug sensitivity and various allergic conditions.

Truman-MacArthur Conversations At Wake Island Reported In January M-G-R; President Indicated He And Mac In Accord On Formosa Question

WASHINGTON—A highlight of the current Truman-MacArthur controversy is the New York Times story summarizing the conversations between the two men at Wake Island.

Because the New York Times story had the earmarks of being leaked out by the White House, some MacArthur proponents have challenged it, while MacArthur states that no records were made of the conversations on Wake Island.

In view of this controversy, the Washington Merry-Go-Round's account of the Wake Island conference, published on Jan. 23, some months prior to the Times' April 21 account, may be significant. For the President can hardly be accused of any partiality toward this writer except in his choice of cuss words.

Writing at that time — three months before the Truman-MacArthur controversy — I reported that:

1. MacArthur was so sure of victory he promised General Bradley that he would transfer one full division to Europe.

2. MacArthur assured the President the Chinese would not intervene.

3. MacArthur expected to get his troops back to the United States by Christmas.

4. Because of the certainty of victory, much of the conference was devoted to plans for reconstructing Korea.

5. Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant conversation of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation.

What They Said

Because the Wake Island conference now appears to be playing such an important part in the Truman-MacArthur controversy, the salient portions of my Jan. 23 Wake Island column follow:

The President of the United States flew halfway round the world to confer with General MacArthur yet aside from a few conversational pleasantries reported by accompanying newsmen, nothing has been published regarding what happened on this mid-Pacific island.

The direct talks between MacArthur and President Truman took place with no one else present; no stenographic notes were taken. It is next to impossible, therefore, to report accurately what happened. Furthermore, the stenographic notes made of the more extended conversations between Truman, MacArthur, General Bradley, and the other military men are still so secret that each copy is numbered.

However, I believe it is important that the American people know what took place at Wake Island; so herewith I shall report some of the conversations recorded in these notes.

Only one clue was given in the more extended conversation as to what Truman and MacArthur talked about in their private meeting. This was when someone asked the President about Formosa, and he cut further discussion short with the curt reply:

"General MacArthur and I have discussed Formosa already and we are in complete agreement on the subject."

The trend of discussion in the rest of the conference was that a military victory was already in the bag. Almost more time was given to a discussion of Korean rehabilitation, therefore, than to military strategy. When it came to the latter, General MacArthur dominated the conversation.

"The North Koreans," he explained, "have about 15,000 guerrillas left in the South, but the winter will take care of most of them. The others are a beaten force. They are only fighting to save face. It goes against the grain to have to destroy them."

Home By Christmas

MacArthur assured Truman that he could "finish the job in North Korea" in a short time. According to the stenographic notes he said:

"I hope to be able to have the 8th Army back in Japan by Christmas. I may be able to send a convoy into Pyongyang immediately."

At this point, President Truman asked "What about Chinese intervention?"

MacArthur's reply was: "They could have intervened earlier when it would have been decisive, but that time has passed. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. Although there are several hundred thousand along the Yalu River, it is not likely that they could cause us much trouble."

He also implied that he could "take care" of the Chinese, even if they decided to cross the Yalu River.

At the same time MacArthur described his plans for completing the conquest of Korea, he also argued against keeping American troops in Korea.

Obviously this raised the question of why march across the frozen North Korean wastes to the Yalu River if the plan was to march right back again in time to return the 8th Army to Japan by Christmas. However, no one at the Wake Island conference seemed to challenge MacArthur regarding this risky move.

MacArthur's advice on the future of Korea was "We should turn Korea over to the Koreans as quickly as we can and get out as quickly as we can.

"Korea is a poor country," he said, "and we cannot afford to impose an occupation on them. . . . Military occupations are always failures. I want to withdraw all our troops as soon as possible."

Troops To Europe

At one point, Gen. Omar Bradley asked whether MacArthur could make any troops available for Europe in the next few months.

MacArthur replied: "Yes, I think a Division can be made available early in 1951."

Bradley also remarked that he hoped MacArthur wouldn't have the same trouble he had with American pilots in Europe shooting up railroad bridges that were needed later for rehabilitation.

"I have had the same trouble," MacArthur replied. The stenographic notes show laughter at this point.

Only other laughter came when John Muccio, U. S. Ambassador to Korea, proposed using sound trucks for propaganda purposes to sell democracy to the Korean people. This prompted the President to observe:

"I believe in sound trucks. I won two elections with them."

Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant exposition of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation, and virtually no effort was made to challenge his opinions.

Perhaps also this was the most tragic part of the conference.

Changed Attitude

By MARK SULLIVAN

A COMMITTEE of the Senate is about to investigate the differences between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur, and policies of the Administration about China. As planned, the investigating committee would consist of the combined Armed Services Committee and Foreign Relations Committee. To this there is some demurring from Senate Republicans; they point out that on both these standing committees the Democrats have majorities. The Republicans would prefer a new committee made up of equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, 12 from each party.

However composed, the committee will begin work as soon as Gen. MacArthur is available to state his views and be questioned by the committee. The expectation is that he will be the first witness. Because of this and the surrounding circumstances the tendency of the committee will be to deal primarily with the present, centering about President Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, and the address the latter made before Congress. But there cannot be clear and adequate light for the public unless the investigation deals with the past, with actions and policies of the Administration that preceded Korea.

Total Miscalculations

Whenever present conditions seethe, there is a tendency to overlook the past. This is natural and has some justification. To give undue attention to the past may be, to quote an aphorism expressed in "Time" magazine recently, "to make the future a prisoner of the past." Accepting this as a tenable philosophy generally, there is in the United States today a special condition. We are already a prisoner of the past in the sense that the Administration now in power is the same that made the policies and decisions that preceded Korea. Most of the relevant ones had to do with China, and many of them were, in the words of a charitable judgment expressed at the time China fell to Russian communism, "fatal miscalculations."

Herein is the cause of much of the recent public expression of violent disapproval of President Truman, it was not inspired solely by Mr. Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur. The people knew that mistakes had been made. They saw the Administration that had made the mistakes still in power and tenacious upon power. They saw President Truman resentful toward those in Congress who, when the debate upon sending troops to Europe began, proposed even a mild and advisory limitation on his power; they saw him, in the case of Gen. MacArthur, penalize difference with him by spectacular removal. But these things that the people saw are not the whole of the field about which the country needs to know more exactly and more in detail.

Should Check Past

Until close to the end of World War II, our relations with China had been formal alliance in war with the government under Chiang Kai-shek, accompanied by historic amity and friendship on the part of the Chinese people. Today the government of China is a Communist one formally allied to Russia. It is engaged in war upon us, and the war is wanton in the sense that we did not attack. These contrasting conditions are the termini of the six years of history which the coming Senate investigation needs to go into for the enlightment of our people.

The contrast is largely a contrast of attitudes toward Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalist government he headed. During the years when he was in alliance with us in fighting Japan, we gave him military and economic help. We conferred honors on him, including military citations that praised him extravagantly. President Roosevelt wrote letters of appreciation to him. When Madam Chiang Kai-shek visited the United States our government went to extreme lengths in giving her honor.

The change in the attitude of our government began in February, 1945, when President Roosevelt promised Stalin territory at the expense of China. The change continued and went farther when the Truman Administration took, toward Chiang Kai-shek, an attitude which could not but undermine him and his Nationalist government. Presently the Chiang Kai-shek government was out, the Communist government was in power.

What the coming Senate investigation needs to go into and report to the people is the cause and source of the change in attitude on the part of our government that took place after 1945.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Red air offensive may have a decisive effect on American policy in the Far East.

If the Communists, whether from bases in China or Russia, begin to frustrate our air defense in Korea, authority to bomb the Communist bases will be given. There are some rumors that the Far Eastern Command may already have such contingent instructions.

Fundamentally, the main fact, as between those who say that bombarding the Manchurian airfields will bring on a general war and those who say it will not bring any such result, is that nobody really knows the Communist intentions or policy.

Much has been made by Administration spokesmen of the point that General MacArthur at Wake Island in October last year, in the course of a discussion of many other things, hazarded the guess that the Chinese Communists would not intervene in Korea. Actually General MacArthur had no other information except that furnished him by the Central Intelligence Agency of our government, which presumably has informants throughout the world, and that which came to him from the Department of State.

Relied On Data

In line with the belief that the Department of State is supposed to be most expert on the subject of political information, General MacArthur relied on the data furnished him by this and other agencies of the government. It will be recalled that, just four or five weeks before the Wake Island conference, not only General MacArthur but American people as a whole were formally told that Communist China would not intervene in the Korean War. Here is an excerpt from a script prepared in advance by Secretary of State Acheson for a large network of television stations on September 10 last and which has since been published as an official document by the Department of State. It is as follows:

"Mr. Bancroft (of CBS): Well, Mr. Secretary, what are the chances, do you think, of Communist China getting herself involved in support of the Korean Communists?

"Secretary Acheson: I should think it would be sheer madness on the part of the Chinese Communists to do that, and I see no advantage to them in doing it. . .

"Now, I give the people in Peiping credit for being intelligent enough to see what is happening to them. Why they should want to further their own dismemberment and destruction by getting at cross purposes will all the free nations of the world who are inherently their friends and have always been friends of the chinese as against this imperialism coming down from the Soviet Union I cannot see. And since there is nothing in it for them, I don't see why they should yield to what is undoubtedly pressures from the Communist movement to get into this Korean row."

Denied Air Reconnaissance

The foregoing was substantially the kind of information which continued to be sent to General MacArthur during the latter part of September and October of last year and he relied on it because the Department of State not only has access through Great Britain to the sources of information of the Indian and Arab governments and the other diplomats in Peiping who are friendly to the Communist government but also to the reports of intelligence officers in the civil branch of our government here who, every day, analyze world-wide reports.

General MacArthur did not have a staff of intelligence agents stationed in Peiping. He might know what the enemy was doing if he had agents behind the enemy lines but air reconnaissance, which was the only certain way to observe what was going on in Manchuria, was denied to the General.

On the subject of whether or not Russia will intervene in the Korean War more actively than she has already and whether she will feel obliged to come to the aid of Communist China because of a mutual-assistance pact, it is pointed out that policy-makers here have no authoritative information on Russian intentions either. During the greater part of World War II, Russia and Japan had an offensive and defensive alliance which logically should have brought Russia into conflict with the United States when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and a state of war ensued. But Russia not only ignored that mutual-assistance pact — she subsequently denounced it and joined the United States against Japan.

Nobody in our Department of State or in our military service really knows Russia's intentions. The only good analysis that has been borne out by events was that made by General Clay when he insisted that, if we stood our ground at the time of the Berlin blockade, Russia would not start a war. It is the same kind of analysis as General MacArthur is making today — a diagnosis of military rather than political factors.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Americanisms

I OFTEN wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "A Dictionary of Americanisms on Historical Principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "Beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not American, then beigel and lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is beigel and lox from city hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson Bridge.

Instead of lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it was actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office.

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "hell!" And that took me back what seems to be to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him Hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act.

Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today; it's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for a half dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world steamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances with life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard word, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads:

"In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

It's an old trick.

Acheson And Predecessors

The repercussions of the dismissal of General MacArthur may make it even harder for President Truman to hold on to his Secretary of State. "If MacArthur was a liability in our foreign policy, how about Acheson?" was demanded by many members of Congress who condemned the action on MacArthur. And several newspapers that upheld Mr. Truman in getting rid of the General suggested that at the same time he would do well to wipe the slate clean by finding a new Secretary of State.

On Saturday Dean G. Acheson had headed the State Department for 2¼ years. This hasn't been too short a term of office when compared with the terms of Mr. Acheson's 14 predecessors since 1898, when the Spanish-American War precipitated the U. S. into the international arena. Of those 14, five served for less than 2¼ years and another (Bryan) for only a few days more. If the 11¾ years of Cordell Hull, the all-time record, be omitted, the average service of the post-Spanish War Secretaries of State was only three years.

For that matter, 2¼ years isn't a short term for a Truman Cabinet member. No other President has made so many Cabinet shifts as the present chief executive considering the length of respective administrations.

Up to the present, Secretary Acheson cannot be said to have distinguished his tenure in the State Department by any outstanding single policy. The intervention in Korea was really a Truman decision, and as for opposition to Communist China in UN, Acheson has announced that the U.S. would not try to use its veto power to prevent such admission. It is true that the Atlantic Security treaty was developed and ratified under Acheson, but the way had been paved for it by Senator Vandenberg before Acheson took office, and it was proposed by President Truman the day before Acheson was sworn in.

Most of the other Secretaries of State since the Spanish-American War have had some distinctive policy associated with their names:—

John Hay, 1898-1905—The "Open Door," or equal economic opportunity for all nations, in China; preservation of Chinese sovereignty.

Philander C. Knox, 1909-13—"Dollar diplomacy," or protection of U.S. investments abroad.

Frank B. Kellogg, 1925-29—Kellogg-Briand treaty by which nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

Cordell Hull, 1933-34—Reciprocal tariff agreements and other steps to break down barriers in international trade.

Dimmed Brightness

From Detroit, world automotive capital, comes word that substantial changes in the bodies of 1952 model cars are in prospect, if tooling comes through on schedule. As there isn't much doubt that the tools will be delivered, 1952 model changes will go through, almost as planned.

Car changes are a solemn, expensive undertaking, similar to remodeling a house. The 1952 changes left the drawing boards long before there was thought of defense stockpiling. Not all materials will be available, but ingenious engineers are developing substitutes. Apart from the greatest design changes in bodies since the war's end, further improvements in automatic transmissions and power plants are planned.

One design change is to increase headroom, which will come from eliminating those long, sloping backs with rear windows that are neither vertical nor horizontal. In the rear seats of some present models, a passenger cannot sit upright with his hat on. When the passion for streamlining and exterior appearance makes for discomfort within, designers defeat their own purpose, which is to increase consumer demand for their product.

As to exterior, use of chromium bumpers and other fittings (what is called "bright work" on boats) has reached such an extreme as to cheapen the appearance of some cars. Real elegance depends upon a certain degree of restraint. An expensive car ought not to suggest a juke box. From Detroit comes word that some of the bright exterior fittings will be dimmed in cars of the higher price brackets. What was formerly referred to as "quiet good taste" will once more have a chance.

Names Out Of The News

A little news item chronicles the appearance at the 50th anniversary celebration of Elk City, Okla., of Jess Willard, who worked in Elk City as a hod carrier 40 years ago. To the younger generation the name didn't register. Jess, of course, was the heavyweight champion of the world who was defeated by Jack Dempsey. Who was Dempsey? He was defeated by Tunney—but this could go on forever.

Names that are in all the newspapers during the heyday of the individuals they identify are forgotten quickly when they cease to appear in print. How many of the big shots of the Truman Administration will be readily identifiable by a newspaper reader 10 years hence? Vaughan? Acheson? Any of the President's congressional leaders?

The name of Lindbergh has disappeared from the public prints and members of the younger set have a hazy idea of who he is. Twenty years ago he was the nation's No. 1 hero, and his comings and goings were chronicled in the press to the point that publicity became distasteful to him.

Who today can identify Rexford Guy Tugwell? Fifteen years ago he was frequently referred to in the newspapers as "assistant president."

Nothing seems more certain than death, taxes and the oblivion that invariably overtakes public figures. Politicians, actors, prize fighters—all suffer the same fate.

How To Keep Well

Air Contaminants

MOST city folk envy the small towner because he is able to breathe fresh air. Urbanites are tired of living in and inhaling an atmosphere of dust, soot, and irritating gases. Derogatory remarks against industry are common but we must remember that smoking chimneys are signs of prosperity and one of the reasons why cities exist.

It has been said that air pollution costs each of us from $8 to $20 per year. We do not know how these figures were computed but assume they include our laundry bills, cleaning materials, wear and tear, and respiratory infections. In some parts of the country more than monetary losses have been suffered: the Donora disaster, for example. On the other hand, the cost of making a city dirt free also is expensive. In many instances the program would boost the price of business so high that most customers would find the prices out of line and take their business elsewhere. On the contrary, there are many illustrations of industries that profited by installing filters and other anti-pollution equipment.

The big fellow is not always responsible for air pollution. The little man and the weather man play a role equally if not more important. This has been demonstrated repeatedly by surveys conducted on days when factories are shut down and rail transportation at a minimum. Home furnaces belch forth irritating gases from oil and smoke from coal. In addition, as the house deteriorates and the gutters rust, the particles reach the air. This augments the tons of dirt that descend upon each square mile of the city every month. The little fellow also has an automobile with an exhaust pipe. Moreover, the tires are wearing away, leaving a residue with each mile of travel. It is only a bit at a time but with thousands of cars going millions of miles daily the rubbery dust increases air pollution.

The role played by weather and topography is uncontrolable and therefore these factors must be considered potential troublemakers in any area where dust and dirt are rife. Wind is a potent factor in preventing intolerable conditions in certain cities and theoretically is able to blow away anything that floats in the air, but it may stir up dust that has settled to the ground and in this respect add to the general messiness.

Temperature changes influence air currents. When the earth is warmer than the air there is a natural rise in atmosphere. Warm air, being lighter than cold air, takes up pollution with it. If the reverse condition exists, everything settles or hovers off the ground. Smog follows a combination of this situation and fog or heavy humidity. This is serious, especially if the atmosphere contains irritating or poisonous gases. Animals and plants also may suffer. Aged and infirm men and women are affected long before vigorous individuals. This must be taken into consideration when studying the effect of air pollution; to be effective, it must be safe for the weakest elements in an area.

LOOKS ARE DECEIVING

E. R. S. writes: Will you say something about people who look well but are really ill? I have essential hypertension and my doctor advises me to rest a great deal and lead a calm life, doing little socially. When I am forced to go out I hear remarks that I'm just imagining I'm sick or I look so well there can't be anything wrong with me. They don't know about my dizzy spells, headache, fatigue, and insomnia.

REPLY

Many abnormalities do not alter the appearance of the individual; they do not have a toxic effect and consequently do not wear down the individual. These include a host of orthopedic, circulatory, and neurologic disturbances, as well as hypertension, peptic ulcer, and others.

AFTERNOON TEMPERATURE

Mrs. F. writes: My 4 year old daughter runs a temperature of 99.2 to 99.6 degrees every afternoon. She is healthy and eats well. Could these readings indicate that there is something wrong with her?

REPLY

If your family physician has found the youngster healthy, there is nothing to worry about. The elevated readings may be normal for her. The temperature should not be taken after eating or exercising. The rectal thermometer may give a more accurate picture. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on normal variations in temperature.

ACTH REACTION

L. T. writes: After my doctor gave me two shots of ACTH, my fingers swelled and blisters appeared. Itching was so bad I walked the floor day and night. Is this a common reaction to ACTH?

REPLY

No. Such reactions do occur but they are rare. In fact, ACTH has been used with good results in some cases of drug sensitivity and various allergic conditions.

Truman-MacArthur Conversations At Wake Island Reported In January M-G-R; President Indicated He And Mac In Accord On Formosa Question

WASHINGTON—A highlight of the current Truman-MacArthur controversy is the New York Times story summarizing the conversations between the two men at Wake Island.

Because the New York Times story had the earmarks of being leaked out by the White House, some MacArthur proponents have challenged it, while MacArthur states that no records were made of the conversations on Wake Island.

In view of this controversy, the Washington Merry-Go-Round's account of the Wake Island conference, published on Jan. 23, some months prior to the Times' April 21 account, may be significant. For the President can hardly be accused of any partiality toward this writer except in his choice of cuss words.

Writing at that time — three months before the Truman-MacArthur controversy — I reported that:

1. MacArthur was so sure of victory he promised General Bradley that he would transfer one full division to Europe.

2. MacArthur assured the President the Chinese would not intervene.

3. MacArthur expected to get his troops back to the United States by Christmas.

4. Because of the certainty of victory, much of the conference was devoted to plans for reconstructing Korea.

5. Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant conversation of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation.

What They Said

Because the Wake Island conference now appears to be playing such an important part in the Truman-MacArthur controversy, the salient portions of my Jan. 23 Wake Island column follow:

The President of the United States flew halfway round the world to confer with General MacArthur yet aside from a few conversational pleasantries reported by accompanying newsmen, nothing has been published regarding what happened on this mid-Pacific island.

The direct talks between MacArthur and President Truman took place with no one else present; no stenographic notes were taken. It is next to impossible, therefore, to report accurately what happened. Furthermore, the stenographic notes made of the more extended conversations between Truman, MacArthur, General Bradley, and the other military men are still so secret that each copy is numbered.

However, I believe it is important that the American people know what took place at Wake Island; so herewith I shall report some of the conversations recorded in these notes.

Only one clue was given in the more extended conversation as to what Truman and MacArthur talked about in their private meeting. This was when someone asked the President about Formosa, and he cut further discussion short with the curt reply:

"General MacArthur and I have discussed Formosa already and we are in complete agreement on the subject."

The trend of discussion in the rest of the conference was that a military victory was already in the bag. Almost more time was given to a discussion of Korean rehabilitation, therefore, than to military strategy. When it came to the latter, General MacArthur dominated the conversation.

"The North Koreans," he explained, "have about 15,000 guerrillas left in the South, but the winter will take care of most of them. The others are a beaten force. They are only fighting to save face. It goes against the grain to have to destroy them."

Home By Christmas

MacArthur assured Truman that he could "finish the job in North Korea" in a short time. According to the stenographic notes he said:

"I hope to be able to have the 8th Army back in Japan by Christmas. I may be able to send a convoy into Pyongyang immediately."

At this point, President Truman asked "What about Chinese intervention?"

MacArthur's reply was: "They could have intervened earlier when it would have been decisive, but that time has passed. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. Although there are several hundred thousand along the Yalu River, it is not likely that they could cause us much trouble."

He also implied that he could "take care" of the Chinese, even if they decided to cross the Yalu River.

At the same time MacArthur described his plans for completing the conquest of Korea, he also argued against keeping American troops in Korea.

Obviously this raised the question of why march across the frozen North Korean wastes to the Yalu River if the plan was to march right back again in time to return the 8th Army to Japan by Christmas. However, no one at the Wake Island conference seemed to challenge MacArthur regarding this risky move.

MacArthur's advice on the future of Korea was "We should turn Korea over to the Koreans as quickly as we can and get out as quickly as we can.

"Korea is a poor country," he said, "and we cannot afford to impose an occupation on them. . . . Military occupations are always failures. I want to withdraw all our troops as soon as possible."

Troops To Europe

At one point, Gen. Omar Bradley asked whether MacArthur could make any troops available for Europe in the next few months.

MacArthur replied: "Yes, I think a Division can be made available early in 1951."

Bradley also remarked that he hoped MacArthur wouldn't have the same trouble he had with American pilots in Europe shooting up railroad bridges that were needed later for rehabilitation.

"I have had the same trouble," MacArthur replied. The stenographic notes show laughter at this point.

Only other laughter came when John Muccio, U. S. Ambassador to Korea, proposed using sound trucks for propaganda purposes to sell democracy to the Korean people. This prompted the President to observe: "I believe in sound trucks. I won two elections with them."

Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant exposition of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation, and virtually no effort was made to challenge his opinions.

Perhaps also this was the most tragic part of the conference.

Changed Attitude

By MARK SULLIVAN

A COMMITTEE of the Senate is about to investigate the differences between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur, and policies of the Administration about China. As planned, the investigating committee would consist of the combined Armed Services Committee and Foreign Relations Committee. To this there is some demurring from Senate Republicans; they point out that on both these standing committees the Democrats have majorities. The Republicans would prefer a new committee made up of equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, 12 from each party.

However composed, the committee will begin work as soon as Gen. MacArthur is available to state his views and be questioned by the committee. The expectation is that he will be the first witness. Because of this and the surrounding circumstances the tendency of the committee will be to deal primarily with the present, centering about President Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, and the address the latter made before Congress. But there cannot be clear and adequate light for the public unless the investigation deals with the past, with actions and policies of the Administration that preceded Korea.

Total Miscalculations

Whenever present conditions seethe, there is a tendency to overlook the past. This is natural and has some justification. To give undue attention to the past may be, to quote an aphorism expressed in "Time" magazine recently, "to make the future a prisoner of the past." Accepting this as a tenable philosophy generally, there is in the United States today a special condition. We are already a prisoner of the past in the sense that the Administration now in power is the same that made the policies and decisions that preceded Korea. Most of the relevant ones had to do with China, and many of them were, in the words of a charitable judgment expressed at the time China fell to Russian communism, "fatal miscalculations."

Herein is the cause of much of the recent public expression of violent disapproval of President Truman, it was not inspired solely by Mr. Truman's dismissal of Gen. MacArthur. The people knew that mistakes had been made. They saw the Administration that had made the mistakes still in power and tenacious upon power. They saw President Truman resentful toward those in Congress who, when the debate upon sending troops to Europe began, proposed even a mild and advisory limitation on his power; they saw him, in the case of Gen. MacArthur, penalize difference with him by spectacular removal. But these things that the people saw are not the whole of the field about which the country needs to know more exactly and more in detail.

Should Check Past

Until close to the end of World War II, our relations with China had been formal alliance in war with the government under Chiang Kai-shek, accompanied by historic amity and friendship on the part of the Chinese people. Today the government of China is a Communist one formally allied to Russia. It is engaged in war upon us, and the war is wanton in the sense that we did not attack. These contrasting conditions are the termini of the six years of history which the coming Senate investigation needs to go into for the enlightment of our people.

The contrast is largely a contrast of attitudes toward Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalist government he headed. During the years when he was in alliance with us in fighting Japan, we gave him military and economic help. We conferred honors on him, including military citations that praised him extravagantly. President Roosevelt wrote letters of appreciation to him. When Madam Chiang Kai-shek visited the United States our government went to extreme lengths in giving her honor.

The change in the attitude of our government began in February, 1945, when President Roosevelt promised Stalin territory at the expense of China. The change continued and went farther when the Truman Administration took, toward Chiang Kai-shek, an attitude which could not but undermine him and his Nationalist government. Presently the Chiang Kai-shek government was out, the Communist government was in power.

What the coming Senate investigation needs to go into and report to the people is the cause and source of the change in attitude on the part of our government that took place after 1945.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Red air offensive may have a decisive effect on American policy in the Far East.

If the Communists, whether from bases in China or Russia, begin to frustrate our air defense in Korea, authority to bomb the Communist bases will be given. There are some rumors that the Far Eastern Command may already have such contingent instructions.

Fundamentally, the main fact, as between those who say that bombarding the Manchurian airfields will bring on a general war and those who say it will not bring any such result, is that nobody really knows the Communist intentions or policy.

Much has been made by Administration spokesmen of the point that General MacArthur at Wake Island in October last year, in the course of a discussion of many other things, hazarded the guess that the Chinese Communists would not intervene in Korea. Actually General MacArthur had no other information except that furnished him by the Central Intelligence Agency of our government, which presumably has informants throughout the world, and that which came to him from the Department of State.

Relied On Data

In line with the belief that the Department of State is supposed to be most expert on the subject of political information, General MacArthur relied on the data furnished him by this and other agencies of the government. It will be recalled that, just four or five weeks before the Wake Island conference, not only General MacArthur but American people as a whole were formally told that Communist China would not intervene in the Korean War. Here is an excerpt from a script prepared in advance by Secretary of State Acheson for a large network of television stations on September 10 last and which has since been published as an official document by the Department of State. It is as follows:

"Mr. Bancroft (of CBS): Well, Mr. Secretary, what are the chances, do you think, of Communist China getting herself involved in support of the Korean Communists?

"Secretary Acheson: I should think it would be sheer madness on the part of the Chinese Communists to do that, and I see no advantage to them in doing it. . .

"Now, I give the people in Peiping credit for being intelligent enough to see what is happening to them. Why they should want to further their own dismemberment and destruction by getting at cross purposes will all the free nations of the world who are inherently their friends and have always been friends of the chinese as against this imperialism coming down from the Soviet Union I cannot see. And since there is nothing in it for them, I don't see why they should yield to what is undoubtedly pressures from the Communist movement to get into this Korean row."

Denied Air Reconnaissance

The foregoing was substantially the kind of information which continued to be sent to General MacArthur during the latter part of September and October of last year and he relied on it because the Department of State not only has access through Great Britain to the sources of information of the Indian and Arab governments and the other diplomats in Peiping who are friendly to the Communist government but also to the reports of intelligence officers in the civil branch of our government here who, every day, analyze world-wide reports.

General MacArthur did not have a staff of intelligence agents stationed in Peiping. He might know what the enemy was doing if he had agents behind the enemy lines but air reconnaissance, which was the only certain way to observe what was going on in Manchuria, was denied to the General.

On the subject of whether or not Russia will intervene in the Korean War more actively than she has already and whether she will feel obliged to come to the aid of Communist China because of a mutual-assistance pact, it is pointed out that policy-makers here have no authoritative information on Russian intentions either. During the greater part of World War II, Russia and Japan had an offensive and defensive alliance which logically should have brought Russia into conflict with the United States when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and a state of war ensued. But Russia not only ignored that mutual-assistance pact — she subsequently denounced it and joined the United States against Japan.

Nobody in our Department of State or in our military service really knows Russia's intentions. The only good analysis that has been borne out by events was that made by General Clay when he insisted that, if we stood our ground at the time of the Berlin blockade, Russia would not start a war. It is the same kind of analysis as General MacArthur is making today — a diagnosis of military rather than political factors.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Americanisms

I OFTEN wonder what drives a scholar to do such a job as the production of "A Dictionary of Americanisms on Historical Principles." The two volumes consist of about 2,000 pages and deal with words which have been added to the English language in the United States.

Having heard a Damon Runyon story on the radio and being an occasional guest at Lindy's on Broadway, I looked for "Bagel" and even for "Beigel." I could not find it, nor could I find lox, which disturbed me no end. For if Broadway is not American, then beigel and lox are not Americanisms. I know that some go for hot dogs and some for chile con carne, but on Broadway, it is beigel and lox from city hall for more than 15 miles to the Henry Hudson Bridge.

Instead of lox, I found a definition of a Lucy Stoner, which is a gal who, although married, insists upon using her maiden name, to everybody's confusion. Nobody knows how to address an invitation to a Lucy Stoner and her husband, and when the wife is more famous, the poor husband goes through life as Mr. Lucy Stoner.

This dictionary marks "free lunch" as obsolete, which is altogether true. The only thing free in the United States is the air we breathe, and the beauty of the sky. Yet, the very phrase, "free lunch," raises a nostalgic tear. Very young people will never know how good a free lunch could be and that it was actually free and came with nickel beer. And the beer was full and rich. Those days are over and now we pay for everything.

Well, I looked through these fat volumes of an evening when I sought escape from such speeches as General Omar Bradley delivered in Chicago. No military man can possibly believe in a stalemated war and I could not help wondering why a fine man like General Bradley would say such a thing. Funny, the things that happen to a man in high office.

So I found that "Hail Columbia" is a synonym for the expletive, "hell!" And that took me back what seems to be to be a century or two when women used to say politely, "I'll give him Hail Columbia!" That was to avoid saying such a bad word as hell. Imagine what those sweet ladies would have thought if they heard what President Truman said about Drew Pearson and the kind of words that have to be used to get a good curtain on a second act.

Maybe words don't count, but when I saw, in this dictionary, that a half-dollar is worth 50 cents, I wondered what the book is talking about. Now, anybody knows that a half-dollar won't buy in 1951 anything like 50 cents in purchasing power. Nobody knows what a half-dollar is worth today; it's always going down when you go to a store. Used to be that a family could get plenty to eat for a half dollar; there was a time when a good workman got a dollar a day and a full dinner pail.

It would seem from the record that it was back in those days that immigrants from all over the world steamed into this country because conditions were so favorable here, compared with the countries they came from. Life was pretty good here and we were a friendly folk and thought that one man was as good as another. Nobody worried about security in those days because nobody ever heard of it. A man took his chances with life and made his way as best he could, usually by hard word, long hours, thrift, and imagination. Some, of course, failed. But nobody knew about this thing called security, which, as we know, cannot be guaranteed by anyone or anything.

If you can afford to buy this book and want to enjoy an argument with your wife on how things started, get hold of these two volumes. They could be an antidote for canasta; they could be a respite from the Truman-Acheson government that reigns over us. You might even discover why those who want war call it peace. There is a little item in this book which reads:

"In order to work the Negro with greater facility in the interest of Osborn and his gang, this secret league was named the Lincoln Brotherhood."

It's an old trick.

U. S. Department of Agriculture figures show there are now some 80,000,000 cubic feet of gross storage in 11,600 locker plants to handle perishable foods at zero temperatures.

More than five and a half million non-farm homes in the United States have no flush toilets.

Kefauver Suggests O'Dwyer "Search His Conscience"

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) suggests that William O'Dwyer "search his conscience as to whether he thinks he is doing his country a service" by continuing as ambassador to Mexico.

The chairman of the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee said however, he couldn't predict whether O'Dwyer would remain in the "critical post of ambassador to an important neighboring country."

Reviewing the committee's findings in New York hearings, the Senator wrote in the Saturday Evening Post of what he termed the former mayor's "truculent defense of his political and official conduct."

"To me," he said, "the position of Mr. O'Dwyer was particularly lamentable—a melancholy essay on political morality. It was not inspiring to see this man, who, at the moment he was testifying, occupied the honored position of United States ambassador to Mexico, seek to defend his own conduct by repeatedly shifting responsibilities to other officials."

However, the Senator added, "I shall not prejudice" any possible perjury action against O'Dwyer or other witnesses heard in New York "by prejudicing the various issues."

It was in New York that John P. Crane, president of the New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association, testified he had given $10,000 in cash to O'Dwyer as evidence of political campaign support and $55,000 to former First Deputy Fire Commissioner James J. Moran, a close friend of O'Dwyer. Previously, both O'Dwyer and Moran had testified under oath that they had received no such gifts.

"Our committee," Sen. Kefauver noted, "found it necessary to request the United States District Attorney to determine which had committed perjury and to take appropriate action."

The district attorney so far has announced only that he is investigating the matter.

The Senator said the whole committee was disappointed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's failure to testify in New York before the group. He had been invited to give his views on the gambling situation and "his expert opinions on crime in general."

Dewey replied that he would be glad to meet the committee in Albany.

"All of us," the Senator continued, "thought it rather remarkable that Mr. Dewey, instead of coming to the location of the hearings as governors in other states did, should bid us to move our large staff up to Albany to talk with him."

The Senator said he personally has urged the immigration Service, regardless of legal difficulties, to explore every avenue for possible deportation action against Frank Costello, alleged head of an eastern crime syndicate.

Costello, Sen. Kefauver said, also faces possible perjury action and prosecution for contempt of Congress because of his refusal to supply the committee with a statement of his financial net worth.

The Senator said the committee "is making numerous recommendations to the Senate" to combat the national crime picture. He listed five:

1. Tightening up of immigration and deportation regulations.
2. A public listing by the Securities and Exchange Commission of the names of all large investors in legitimate businesses to expose any criminal elements involved.
3. Placing the Continental Press Service, described by Kefauver as "the collosal nationwide racing service," under supervision of the Federal Communications Commission "to provide strict surveillance

There were no deaths at Lackland from pneumonia or suicide during the first 29 days of January, when the storm descended on the Air Force. The AWOL rate during that period was one man out of every 1,000 trainees. (The overall Air Force rate is a steady five out of each 1,000 airmen.)

Draftees were informed they had the right to present their gripes to a panel set up by the inspector general. At the time of the offer there were 52,000 men at Lackland. Some 475 made complaints, about one man in every 100.

Trainees gained an average of a little over 10 pounds per man in the first 48 days of the Lackland land rush.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson's Senate Preparedness Subcommittee charged that the Air Force had made a greedy grab for U. S. manpower and that it was mainly inoculating civilians rather than indoctrinating airmen.

Tain't so, the figures show. Of the original 60,000 men who reported to Lackland during the rush month, 18,000 were sent to major commands in the U. S. for continuation of training. Another 18,000 entered pre-academic training at technical training schools of the Air Training Command.

• — • — •

Some 9,000 more were sent to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., for indoctrination training — and the remaining 15,000 were retained at Lackland for 48 days of training at eight hours a day, seven days a week.

The indoctrination program includes counselling, aptitude testing, career programs, math, welfare, character guidance, combat fundamentals, weapons and marksmanship, drill, citizenship, responsibilities of the individual in a civilian community, ground safety, security and psychological warfare.

There are 160 courses of instruction open to airmen, ranging from fundamental radio and repairs to advanced courses in the maintenance of the latest jet engines.

There were no complaints at Lackland over the scarcity of chaplains. During the peak month there were 42 Catholic, 32 Protestant, two Jewish and seven other denominational services held weekly for trainees.

One remarkable statistic came out of Lackland. World War II figures showed that only three per cent expressed a formal desire to get into combat duty as soon as possible. At Lackland, two thirds of the January trainees said either that they wanted combat duty after completion of training or would willingly undertake combat duties if ordered.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

IF YOU could order a brand new, well-protioned figure, would you do it? And how much would you be willing to pay? Does the expenditure of a little effort seem too high a price?

I'm not offering you beauty at cut-rates. There's no such thing. My beauty bargain is a promise to [illegible] in this column the best instruction available for remolding your figure to perfection. If you will just promise yourself to carry out faithfully all instruction that pertains to your individual problems, the new, beautiful figure will be yours!

For Increased Bustline

For those who accept this bargain, no figure fault will be insurmountable. With this combination of knowing and doing, it is even possible to increase the bustline — yes, in spite of all you may have heard to the contrary. Some of the cases on my records show an increase of as much as two inches.

If bust development is your aim, you are one who must be doubly particular about following instructions — and here they are:

1. School yourself to perform very slowly and deliberately all exercises prescribed. Speed and vigor only defeat your purpose.
2. If your weight is under par, combine your exercies with a gaining diet.
3. Be persistent. You won't see appreciable results for a month and not then, if you skip one day!
4. Participation in an active sport will speed results. Swimming, using the breast stroke, pulls into play the very muscles you are trying to strengthen and increase. So does archery.

The most effective exercise follows: Cross your wrists and grasp the upper side of your forearms midway between the elbows and the wrists. Now, raise your arms to shoulder level. Grip hard and push your hands toward your elbows. (Don't let your hands slide up-

THE AIR FORCE came in for a rough rap from a senator or two not long ago, but the figures do not bear out the solons' viewing-with-alarm.

Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, was described by one congressional group as a nest of desertion, poisoned food, suicide, death by freezing, etc. There was said to be a wholesale pneumonia epidemic.

Such reports were more or less inevitable. Lackland has a capacity of 27,500 men. During the first nine days of January it received 35,324 trainees. By January 17 there were 68,731 men at Lackland. They were coming in at the rate of 3,500 a day and being shipped on at the rate of only 2,000 a day.

At the sound of the first growl from Congress, the Air Force, being as Congress-shy as any other service, sped some of its top investigative brass to the scene—Maj. Gen. Kenneth P. McNaughton, director of training; Maj. Gen. E. L. Eubank, deputy inspector general, and Asst. Secretary Eurgen W. Zuckert.

• — • — •

In case you have a boy there, the Air Force wants you to know that he's being taken care of better than was reported. The show was certainly oversubscribed, so far as the seating capacity of Lackland is concerned. But there has been no major breakdown of morale, medical care, food or clothing.

There were no deaths at Lackland from pneumonia or suicide during the first 29 days of January, when the storm descended on the Air Force. The AWOL rate during that period was one man out of every 1,000 trainees. (The overall Air Force rate is a steady five out of each 1,000 airmen.)

Draftees were informed they had the right to present their gripes to a panel set up by the inspector general. At the time of the offer there were 52,000 men at Lackland. Some 475 made complaints, about one man in every 100.

Trainees gained an average of a little over 10 pounds per man in the first 48 days of the Lackland land rush.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson's Senate Preparedness Subcommittee charged that the Air Force had made a greedy grab for U. S. manpower and that it was mainly inoculating civilians rather than indoctrinating airmen.

Tain't so, the figures show. Of the original 60,000 men who reported to Lackland during the rush month, 18,000 were sent to major commands in the U. S. for continuation of training. Another 18,000 entered pre-academic training at technical training schools of the Air Training Command.

• — • — •

Some 9,000 more were sent to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., for indoctrination training — and the remaining 15,000 were retained at Lackland for 48 days of training at eight hours a day, seven days a week.

The indoctrination program includes counselling, aptitude testing, career programs, math, welfare, character guidance, combat fundamentals, weapons and marksmanship, drill, citizenship, responsibilities of the individual in a civilian community, ground safety, security and psychological warfare.

There are 160 courses of instruction open to airmen, ranging from fundamental radio and repairs to advanced courses in the maintenance of the latest jet engines.

There were no complaints at Lackland over the scarcity of chaplains. During the peak month there were 42 Catholic, 32 Protestant, two Jewish and seven other denominational services held weekly for trainees.

One remarkable statistic came out of Lackland. World War II figures showed that only three per cent expressed a formal desire to get into combat duty as soon as possible. At Lackland, two thirds of the January trainees said either that they wanted combat duty after completion of training or would willingly undertake combat duties if ordered.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

IF YOU could order a brand new, well-protioned figure, would you do it? And how much would you be willing to pay? Does the expenditure of a little effort seem too high a price?

I'm not offering you beauty at cut-rates. There's no such thing. My beauty bargain is a promise to [illegible] in this column the best instruction available for remolding [illegible] figure to perfection. If you will just promise yourself to carry out faithfully all instruction that pertains to your individual problems, the new, beautiful figure will be yours!

For Increased Bustline

For those who accept this bargain, no figure fault will be insurmountable. With this combination of knowing and doing, it is even possible to increase the bustline — yes, in spite of all you may have heard to the contrary. Some of the cases on my records show an increase of as much as two inches.

If bust development is your aim, you are one who must be doubly particular about following instructions — and here they are:

1. School yourself to perform very slowly and deliberately all exercises prescribed. Speed and vigor only defeat your purpose.

2. If your weight is under par, combine your exercies with a gaining diet.

3. Be persistent. You won't see appreciable results for a month and not then, if you skip one day!

4. Participation in an active sport will speed results. Swimming, using the breast stroke, pulls into play the very muscles you are trying to strengthen and increase. So does archery.

The most effective exercise follows: Cross your wrists and grasp the upper side of your forearms midway between the elbows and the wrists. Now, raise your arms to shoulder level. Grip hard and push your hands toward your elbows. (Don't let your hands slide up-

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

THE AIR FORCE came in for a rough rap from a senator or two not long ago, but the figures do not bear out the solons' viewing-with-alarm.

Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, was described by one congressional group as a nest of desertion, poisoned food, suicide, death by freezing, etc. There was said to be a wholesale pneumonia epidemic.

Such reports were more or less inevitable. Lackland has a capacity of 27,500 men. During the first nine days of January it received 35,324 trainees. By January 17 there were 68,731 men at Lackland. They were coming in at the rate of 3,500 a day and being shipped on at the rate of only 2,000 a day.

At the sound of the first growl from Congress, the Air Force, being as Congress-shy as any other service, sped some of its top investigative brass to the scene—Maj. Gen. Kenneth P. McNaughton, director of training; Maj. Gen. E. L. Eubank, deputy inspector general, and Asst. Secretary Eurgen W. Zuckert.

• — • — •

In case you have a boy there, the Air Force wants you to know that he's being taken care of better than was reported. The show was certainly oversubscribed, so far as the seating capacity of Lackland is concerned. But there has been no major breakdown of morale, medical care, food or clothing.

City Garbage Collection Pact Approved By Council

The Mayor and Council executed a contract Monday night with John Riley and Son for the collection of garbage in the city.

The approved one-year pact, effective May 1, calls for $65,940 and Riley furnished $50,000 bond through the National Surety Corporation, New York.

Herschel B. Smith, 1123 Virginia Avenue, appeared before the council to protest lack of protection from arc lights at a welding shop next door to his home. He said the arc was a threat to children's eyes and asked that something be done. Assistant Chief of Police B. Frank Gaffney said he would investigate.

The council approved a proclamation by Mayor Thomas S. Post naming the week of May 6 "National Music Week."

The Park Board was re-created. Its members are Mrs. Marguerite Findlay, Mayor Post and Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property.

Mrs. Roeder was given permission to advertise for bids for the construction of a fire escape at the Girl Scout House, Greene Street, and other contingent work; and for road oil in truck-load lots for unpaved thoroughfares.

Loyal Order of Moose, Lodge 271, submitted a resolution in which it urged that no cut be made in the recreation budget.

The State Industrial Accident Commission and the Department of Safety invited the council to attend the Maryland State-Wide Safety Conference and Exhibit at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, May 10-11.

Attorneys File Appeal In Hughes Manslaughter Case

Attorneys for William J. Hughes, 25-year-old Midland coal trucker, yesterday morning filed an appeal to the Maryland Court of Appeals from the conviction and sentence to three months in the Allegany county jail of their client on a charge of manslaughter.

Edward J. Ryan and Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., attorneys for Hughes, posted $1,000 bond for him and he was given his freedom pending a hearing and decision by the high state court.

Hughes was found guilty by Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish and Associate Judge George Henderson in a written opinion filed last Saturday in Circuit Court here. Hughes had been scheduled to start the three-month jail term yesterday morning.

Appears In Court

He appeared in court yesterday morning with his parents and a brother.

Hughes was charged with manslaughter in the death of Thomas Robertson, 43-year-old Lonaconing coal miner, who was struck by a truck driven by Hughes on the Old Cemetery Road near Knapp's Meadow last May during picketing by a group of miners.

Robertson died in Miners' Hospital at Frostburg several hours later from a macerated brain and fractured skull. Another picket, Melvin Cuthbertson, also of Lonaconing was also struck by the truck and he suffered a fractured arm.

Not Justified

The written opinion filed by the two judges stated in part:

x x x "In finding Hughes guilty of manslaughter we want to make it clear that it was not simply that he was angered because his legal rights had been violated. There were good grounds for his feeling of resentment. But this did not justify him in doing what he did with a dangerous instrumentality and swerving a truck toward men on the side of the road. He would have had every right, if he were actually in danger at the time, to do what was apparently necessary to protect himself which might well include going on through a threatening group without slackening speed. Nor do we want to be understood as accepting at their face value the statements that the pickets were there for the purpose only of peaceful picketing. On similar occasions trucks of coal have been dumped. There have been so many reports in the newspapers and complaint to the Court, that we have no doubt in our minds as to what would have been attempted had Hughes actually returned with a load of coal. x x"

Several civil suits brought by Robertson's widow and Cuthbertson against Hughes and the coal company operated by his family for damages totaling $32,000 have been removed to Washington County Circuit Court at Hagerstown for hearing.

Cumberlander Draws 30-Day Jail Sentence

A Cumberland motorist who said a passenger "put his foot on the gas to speed up the car" recently was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail at Frederick.

The defendant, Oscar D. McCoy, was committed in default of a $50 fine imposed for exceeding 50 miles an hour. He also drew guilty verdicts on charges of passing when the way ahead was not clear and failing to obey a written summons.

Substitute Magistrate Edward J. Smith meted out a jail term to run concurrently with the 30-day sentence when McCoy was unable to pay $10 fine on the passing count. A fine of $10 on the third charge was suspended.

McCoy testified he was driving toward Baltimore in the car of Dorsey H. Durham, of Indiana, who urged him to speed up the trip. At one point the passenger reached over and "put his foot on the gas," he said.

State Police arrested McCoy when he ran another car off Route 40-A near Braddock February 11.

McHenry Urges Action Now To Control Beetles

Persons who wish to stop the ravages of the Japanese beetle on their lawns should act now while the grubs of the insect are feeding on grass roots, according to County Farm Agent Ralph F. McHenry.

McHenry advises the use of 50 per cent wettable DDT mixed at the ratio of one pound with three pounds of dry sand and the mixture spread over approximately 1,000 feet of lawn. The sand is used for the purpose of adding bulk and giving an even spread to the DDT.

Persons who live in areas where there have been heavy infestations of Japanese beetles in recent years are especially advised to combat the pests now before damage to lawns occurs.

McHenry said that the Jap beetle grubs are feeding on grass roots and that the DDT mixture will sift down to the roots of the grass when it rains to kill the grubs.

The warning to act now is being made, McHenry said, as it will be too late to do anything after the beetles emerge sometime during the second or third week in June.

McHenry said that persons who live in areas where there have been no Jap beetle infestations in the past should play safe and use the DDT mixture. He also cautioned persons who have had top soil placed on their lawns to use the DDT mixture. Much of the top soil available in this area comes from bottom lands of the Potomac river and Evitts Creek, areas of heavy beetle infestation, and the grubs will emerge this summer and ruin new lawns if some control is not exercised now, McHenry warned.

Taylor Given Three Year Sentence On Arson Charge

William D. Taylor, 17, Kolberg Hill, Westernport, yesterday morning was sentenced to an indeterminate term not to exceed three years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males by Associate Judge George Henderson as a result of conviction on a charge of arson.

Sentencing of Taylor had been delayed by Judge Henderson to allow him time to study the entire case and background of the youth. Yesterday morning he was brought from the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis to Judge Henderson's chambers and sentence was passed after the court lectured Taylor.

The youth was charged with setting fire to the Harris Powder Company magazine near Westernport last December 28. The resulting fire destroyed the contents of the concrete block building with a loss of more than $1,000 in various type explosives.

After a trial in Circuit Court before a jury the youth was found guilty and the jurors recommended leniency. Judge Henderson said he had determined it "would be unsafe to turn Taylor loose at this time." The court said due to Taylor's "peculiar quirk" it was not willing to endanger a great many people by releasing him.

Judge Henderson pointed out to Taylor that while he is at the reformatory he would have a chance to study a trade. The court also said at such time as the superintendent of the institution determined that Taylor had changed his attitude he would be released.

When that time arrives Taylor was told to return to his home and stay away from his former companions, whom the court said may have had some influence on his actions, and to be of good behavior.

McHenry Urges Action Now To Control Beetles

Persons who wish to stop the ravages of the Japanese beetle on their lawns should act now while the grubs of the insect are feeding on grass roots, according to County Farm Agent Ralph F. McHenry.

McHenry advises the use of 50 per cent wettable DDT mixed at the ratio of one pound with three pounds of dry sand and the mixture spread over approximately 1,000 feet of lawn. The sand is used for the purpose of adding bulk and giving an even spread to the DDT.

Persons who live in areas where there have been heavy infestations of Japanese beetles in recent years are especially advised to combat the pests now before damage to lawns occurs.

McHenry said that the Jap beetle grubs are feeding on grass roots and that the DDT mixture will sift down to the roots of the grass when it rains to kill the grubs.

The warning to act now is being made, McHenry said, as it will be too late to do anything after the beetles emerge sometime during the second or third week in June.

McHenry said that persons who live in areas where there have been no Jap beetle infestations in the past should play safe and use the DDT mixture. He also cautioned persons who have had top soil placed on their lawns to use the DDT mixture. Much of the top soil available in this area comes from bottom lands of the Potomac river and Evitts Creek, areas of heavy beetle infestation, and the grubs will emerge this summer and ruin new lawns if some control is not exercised now, McHenry warned.

Taylor Given Three Year Sentence On Arson Charge

William D. Taylor, 17, Kolberg Hill, Westernport, yesterday morning was sentenced to an indeterminate term not to exceed three years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males by Associate Judge George Henderson as a result of conviction on a charge of arson.

Sentencing of Taylor had been delayed by Judge Henderson to allow him time to study the entire case and background of the youth. Yesterday morning he was brought from the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis to Judge Henderson's chambers and sentence was passed after the court lectured Taylor.

The youth was charged with setting fire to the Harris Powder Company magazine near Westernport last December 28. The resulting fire destroyed the contents of the concrete block building with a loss of more than $1,000 in various type explosives.

After a trial in Circuit Court before a jury the youth was found guilty and the jurors recommended leniency. Judge Henderson said he had determined it "would be unsafe to turn Taylor loose at this time." The court said due to Taylor's "peculiar quirk" it was not willing to endanger a great many people by releasing him.

Judge Henderson pointed out to Taylor that while he is at the reformatory he would have a chance to study a trade. The court also said at such time as the superintendent of the institution determined that Taylor had changed his attitude he would be released.

When that time arrives Taylor was told to return to his home and stay away from his former companions, whom the court said may have had some influence on his actions, and to be of good behavior.

Australia Ends War Crime Trials With 156 Japs Sentenced To Death

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY—(AP)—Australia has ended its trails of Japanese accused of war crimes.

In all, 156 Japanese were sentenced to death for crimes against Australian servicemen. Of these, 143 have been hanged.

The last trials began June 5 last year at Los Negros in the Admiralty Islands north of New Guinea. There 91 suspects were arraigned on 113 charges. The war crimes court acquitted 43 Japanese, gave 15 sentences of life imprisonment, other shorter sentences, and passed the death sentence 14 times.

One Japanese was sentenced to death twice. It is those 13 sentenced to death at the Los Negros trials who have not yet been executed. The death sentence must be reviewed and confirmed by the military board in Australia.

The last Japanese to be tried was former First Class Seaman Jyosuke Miyazaki, accused of murdering an Australian prisoner of war at Koepang in 1942. He was acquitted.

At the end of the Los Negros trials, Senior Defense Counsel Choji Nakayama said he was grateful for the "extremely fair" way in which the trials had been conducted.

"Even accused war criminals told me they had been struck by the fairness of their trials," he said.

"At the beginning of the trials we Japanese lawyers were handicapped because of our ignorance of British law. In Japan the law is modelled on the German system.

"However, the court was patient and gave us every possible assistance. Every help was given us to allow the other side of the picture to be presented."

They sentenced 156 Japanese to death, 38 to life imprisonment, and 429 more to varying terms of imprisonment.

Apart from the trials at Los Negros, Australian war crimes courts sat in Rabaul, Darwin, and in Malaya in 1946-47.

An inexpensive little Want Ad was the spark that blazed the way to the founding of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. business.

The partners of this great mail order business were brought together by a 55c Help Wanted ad in the Chicago DAILY NEWS.

In 1886 Richard W. Sears, who was station agent for the Minneapolis & St. Paul Railway in North Redwood, discovered that he could make money by selling watches by mail. He moved to Chicago. He needed a watch maker and adjuster, so he inserted the following ad in the DAILY NEWS.

"Watchmaker wanted with references who can furnish tools. State age, experience, and salary required. T39 Daily News."

The ad was answered by A. C. Roebuck. This was the beginning of a business which last year spent over 25 million dollars on newspaper advertising alone, and did a volume of business amounting to over 2 billion dollars.

The advertising medium which brought Sears and Roebuck together has never been forgotten.

SYDNEY—(AP)—Australia has ended its trails of Japanese accused of war crimes.

In all, 156 Japanese were sentenced to death for crimes against Australian servicemen. Of these, 143 have been hanged.

The last trials began June 5 last year at Los Negros in the Admiralty Islands north of New Guinea. There 91 suspects were arraigned on 113 charges. The war crimes court acquitted 43 Japanese, gave 15 sentences of life imprisonment, other shorter sentences, and passed the death sentence 14 times.

One Japanese was sentenced to death twice. It is those 13 sentenced to death at the Los Negros trials who have not yet been executed. The death sentence must be reviewed and confirmed by the military board in Australia.

The last Japanese to be tried was former First Class Seaman Jyosuke Miyazaki, accused of murdering an Australian prisoner of war at Koepang in 1942. He was acquitted.

At the end of the Los Negros trials, Senior Defense Counsel Choji Nakayama said he was grateful for the "extremely fair" way in which the trials had been conducted.

"Even accused war criminals told me they had been struck by the fairness of their trials," he said.

"At the beginning of the trials we Japanese lawyers were handicapped because of our ignorance of British law. In Japan the law is modelled on the German system.

"However, the court was patient and gave us every possible assistance. Every help was given us to allow the other side of the picture to be presented."

In a review in Melbourne of Australia war crimes trials, Army Minister Josiah Francis announced the courts completed 296 trials.

They sentenced 156 Japanese to death, 38 to life imprisonment, and 429 more to varying terms of imprisonment.

Apart from the trials at Los Negros, Australian war crimes courts sat in Rabaul, Darwin, and in Malaya in 1946-47.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE FLAME?

An inexpensive little Want Ad was the spark that blazed the way to the founding of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. business.

The partners of this great mail order business were brought together by a 55c Help Wanted ad in the Chicago DAILY NEWS.

In 1886 Richard W. Sears, who was station agent for the Minneapolis & St. Paul Railway in North Redwood, discovered that he could make money by selling watches by mail. He moved to Chicago. He needed a watch maker and adjuster, so he inserted the following ad in the DAILY NEWS.

"Watchmaker wanted with references who can furnish tools. State age, experience, and salary required. T39 Daily News."

The ad was answered by A. C. Roebuck. This was the beginning of a business which last year spent over 25 million dollars on newspaper advertising alone, and did a volume of business amounting to over 2 billion dollars.

The advertising medium which brought Sears and Roebuck together has never been forgotten.

The Old Second Guesser

By JOHN N. WHEELER

How Writers Operate

IT was Balzac who wrote the story of the suspicious husband who thought his wife was unfaithful to him. Arriving home suddenly and unexpectedly one day, which is supposed to be against the French rules, he charged his missus with having been with his rival. She denied it. He pointed to a closet in her room and, according to my recollection, said,

"Who's in there?"

"No one," she answered. He then called a stone mason and ordered him to build a brick wall in front of the door.

"I take your word for it," he replied, "but I also want to be cautious." According to the tale, for a few days there were some stirrings which could be heard faintly and, after that, all was quiet.

This is a great plot for a short story. How do authors get ideas? Most of the good ones write about what they know from their own experiences with a veneer of fiction. One of the best is Ernest Hemingway, and all his books are based on his adventurous life. Ring Lardner never had much success until he began to tell tales collected from his observations while traveling with the Big League ball clubs. He had a very accurate ear and could report conversations of the players, as they really talked, with here and there some slight exaggeration. Those who followed and tried to imitate him, thinking they would make it better by just dreaming up the dialogue, never got to first base.

There is another theory among some kibitzers in the literary world that a writer can do better work if he warms up by taking a few shots before sitting down to his typewriter. There may have been some who could produce masterpieces when stimulated, but I have never met one, and I have seen big name guys try it.

Irvin Cobb used to tell about one time he decided to write a play and joined a dramatist at his country place with whom he expected to collaborate. For two or three days, they just sat around until Irvin became impatient and asked,

"When do we start work?"

"We've got to wait for the must to hit us and get into the mood," replied the other.

"Let's sit down in front of a typewriter," said Cobb. "That's the best way to get going. We may not manufacture a masterpiece the first time but we'll throw out something."

He had faced deadlines in the newspaper business most of his life with no time to wait for inspiration. That was the way he always worked.

We were on the train going to Cincinnati for the crooked World's Series in 1919, and in our crowd was Porter Emerson Browne who had met with some success as a playwright, but up until then had had no real hits. But Fisher and I told him about the trip we took with Pancho Villa, the Mexican guerrilla, filling in the colorful and picturesque details. Our friend made a drama out of it called "The Bad Man" which was the biggest success of his career, and we never got a cut. Holbrook Blinn played the part of Villa.

Once when a reporter on the New York Herald, I decided I would get a realistic Sunday story, so I dressed myself in my oldest clothes and made up to look like a bum from Skid Row — or maybe two bums. Then I joined the Bowery bread line at midnight, hoping to get some lurid anecdotes about the seamy side of life. I thought I looked pretty seedy and like the real McCoy, so was surprised when the man next to me scrutinized me carefully after I asked him a couple of questions.

"Get the hell out of here," he said, "you damned dude."

When Alexander Woollcott, the temperamental author and drama critic, was working for the New York Times, he got a much better offer from the Morning World which went to his head and tongue. As he sat clearing his desk out preparatory to leaving, he started boasting about how much money he was going to make and how important he was. A stable mate in the next stall stood it as long as he could and then turned to him and acidly remarked,

"Woollcott, some day you are going to be found with your throat cut from ear to ear and a million people in New York will be accused of the murder." This scathing crack reflected his popularity at the time, and might apply to several current conceited authors.

On the other hand, a lot of writers who have never been west of the Hudson River are turning out cowboy stories.

Enardo "Lefty" Arnone fired the third strike past 13 batters as Beall High School's defending champions crushed Fort Hill at Frostburg, 13-1, Douglas Connolly, LaSalle twirler, tossed a 2-hitter to give the Explorers a 4-0 decision over Central High at Lonaconing, Ronnie Sisk twirled Allegany High to a 7-4 verdict over Hyndman High School and Barton downed Bruce High at Westernport, 3-1, in Bi-State Scholastic Conference games played yesterday.

Arnone, who whiffed 14 AHS batters in last Saturday's league opener, extended to strikeout string to 27 by mowing down 13 Sentinels in yesterday's tilt in which "Bobby" Cavanaugh's outfit was limited to four hits.

Score Eight in 6th

Beall led 5-1 going into the 6th when Coach Ed Finzel's outfit chased eight tallies over the platter on a combination of doubles by Hess and Brady, four singles, an error, hit batsman and base on balls. Joe Beck who relieved Lewis in the 6th was the victim of the bombardment, yielding five of the six hits in Beall's big inning.

Brady and Miller collected half of Beall's eight hits.

Lewis was charged with the loss. Fort Hill made seven errors.

LaSalle Wins Early

LaSalle jumped on Kenneth Burt, Central's starting pitcher, for four hits, including Don Farrell's double, and four runs in the first inning to put the game on ice early at Lonaconing. Relief pitcher Jack Brodie let the Explorers down with one bingle in 6⅔ innings and whiffed eight.

Doug Connolly went the route for Charley Doyle's team, yielded two hits, both of which were credited to Brodie, and fanned seven.

Sisk Strikes Out 14

Sisk slammed the third strike past 14 Hyndman batsmen as Coach Hubert Radcliffe's Campers crashed the win column for the first time this season at Hyndman.

Payton was Allegany's leading hitter with a double, tiple and single to his credit. Jack Shaffer collected three of the Pennsylvanians' eight safeties. Buskirk who was relieved by Jim Shaffer in the 4th was charged with the loss.

Tichnell Beats Bruce

Arnold Tichnell twirled Barton High to a 3-1 verdict over Bruce High at Westernport. The Barton hurler yielded only three hits and struck out nine. The Braves knocked Foley out of the box in the first frame and Bobby Raines, his successor, yielded only one run in 6 2/6 stanzas. Marple's double was the only extra base hit of the game.

Westlake Stars As Corsairs Win In Chicago, 6-4

Bill Werle's Relief Pitching Stops Cubs

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs today.

Wally Westlake

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

The Cubs chased Vernon Law in their half of the eighth, and fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law. The loser was rookie Omar (Turk) Lown, who lasted seven innings.

Cavarretta had followed Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff double and Bob Dillinger's bobble on Hank Sauer's grounder with a whistling two-bagger to right field. That put across two runs and brought in Werle as Law's successor with none out and the Cubs behind 6-4.

After Westlake's fine catch of Pafko's liner, Bill Serena doubled, but Werle put out the fire by getting the next batter on a pop-up. It was Werle's fourth relief appearance he now has hurled 10 scoreless innings. Box:

Jack Goldsmith Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Jack Goldsmith, 31, former Long Island University basketball star, today pleaded innocent to an indictment charging bribery in the besketball fix scandal.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor branded Goldsmith as "a cheat and a double crosser," and said the accused had substantial information about a group of fixers.

In the 1946-'47 basketball season, O'Connor told General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, Goldsmith was a star player "and as a player he was fixed."

Judge Streit fixed bail at $50,000 pending trial, for which no date was set.

Goldsmith was indicted yesterday with William Rivlin, 45, fugitive ex-convict who served a jail sentence for trying to fix a basketball game two years ago. A 14-state alarm was sent out for Rivlin's arrest.

Senators Show Little Respect For Boston Sox

Kuzava Scores 7-5 Win For Washington

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators batted, won the game for the Washington club which has lost only one of its five games.

The Senators picked up single runs in the third and sixth and then put it way in the seventh.

Boston's other three runs also came on homers. Bob Doerr hit his first of the year in the seventh with a mate aboard and Ted Williams lashed his third of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Major Loop Crowds Off 22 Per Cent

Figures First Week 95,762 Under 1950

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Blame it on the weather, TV, General MacArthur or the cost of living, but major league baseball attendance is off some 22 per cent for the first week of the season.

Actually more home dates were played this year than last, 45 to 40, and there were fewer postponements, 13-8, than last spring.

The two-league total for the week was 673,306 as compared to 769,068 in 1950, a drop of 95,762. Figured on a per game basis, the percentage drop is roughly 22 per cent.

American League figures show the most marked decline, particularly at Boston, Detroit and St. Louis. Both the Red Sox and Tigers are off more than 35,000 for their first three home dates.

Both the New York Giants and Yankees showed healthy increases with top flight attractions. The highly touted Giants opened at home with Brooklyn, always an excellent box office draw. The Yanks had the Red Sox for the first two days, although the last game of the series was washed out.

Largest turnout of the new season was the opening 48,316 at Cleveland for the St. Louis Browns. The Brownies cut themselves a welcome slice of cash after drawing only a total of 6,739 for their first two home dates. The Philadelphia A's also got off slowly at the gate with 10,340 for two night dates, including the opener. Detroit approached its all time low yesterday with only 2,125 for a game with the Browns.

In another week the lights will be burning brightly in most of the parks, except Wrigley Field.

Pioneers Tie KHS For Lead In Conference

Grant Cunningham Is Returned Victor Over Jim Householder, 3-1

Romney High School's baseball team performed the "giant killer" role of defeating two leading contenders for the Potomac Valley Conference championship on successive days by stopping Keyser High School yesterday on Newcome Field, Keyser, by the score of 3-1.

Grant Cunningham gained the decision over Jimmy Householder in yesterday's contest as Romney tied Keyser for first place in the P.V.C. Each school has a record of four wins and one loss. Householder also saw his 4-game winning streak shattered in yesterday's game.

Each team was limited to three hits and Householder's double was the game's only extra base blow.

Keyser scored its lone run in the third when Stanley walked, advanced to 2nd on Hamilton's sacrifice, moved to third on a wild throw by Cunningham and was squeezed home by Bishop.

Romney sewed up the game by scoring twice in the 4th without the aid of a base hit. Stanley's muff of Jack Heavener's long fly to left started the trouble. An error by Stickley, wild throws by Lipscomb and Householder and Michael's muff of a throw to the plate marked the Keyser blow-up. Romney scored its final tally in the 6th.

Romney High School plays host to Petersburg today at 2 p. m. in a P.V.C. contest. Keyser plays at Petersburg tomorrow. Box score:

Enardo "Lefty" Arnone fired the third strike past 13 batters as Beall High School's defending champions crushed Fort Hill at Frostburg, 13-1, Douglas Connolly, LaSalle twirler, tossed a 2-hitter to give the Explorers a 4-0 decision over Central High at Lonaconing, Ronnie Sisk twirled Allegany High to a 7-4 verdict over Hyndman High School and Barton downed Bruce High at Westernport, 3-1, in Bi-State Scholastic Conference games played yesterday.

Arnone, who whiffed 14 AHS batters in last Saturday's league opener, extended to strikeout string to 27 by mowing down 13 Sentinels in yesterday's tilt in which "Bobby" Cavanaugh's outfit was limited to four hits.

Score Eight in 6th

Beall led 5-1 going into the 6th when Coach Ed Finzel's outfit chased eight tallies over the platter on a combination of doubles by Hess and Brady, four singles, an error, hit batsman and base on balls. Joe Beck who relieved Lewis in the 6th was the victim of the bombardment, yielding five of the six hits in Beall's big inning.

Brady and Miller collected half of Beall's eight hits.

Lewis was charged with the loss. Fort Hill made seven errors.

LaSalle Wins Early

LaSalle jumped on Kenneth Burt, Central's starting pitcher, for four hits, including Don Farrell's double, and four runs in the first inning to put the game on ice early at Lonaconing. Relief pitcher Jack Brodie let the Explorers down with one bingle in 6⅔ innings and whiffed eight.

Doug Connolly went the route for Charley Doyle's team, yielded two hits, both of which were credited to Brodie, and fanned seven.

Sisk Strikes Out 14

Sisk slammed the third strike past 14 Hyndman batsmen as Coach Hubert Radcliffe's Campers crashed the win column for the first time this season at Hyndman.

Payton was Allegany's leading hitter with a double, tiple and single to his credit. Jack Shaffer collected three of the Pehnsylvanians' eight safeties. Buskirk who was relieved by Jim Shaffer in the 4th was charged with the loss.

Tichnell Beats Bruce

Arnold Tichnell twirled Barton High to a 3-1 verdict over Bruce High at Westernport. The Barton hurler yielded only three hits and struck out nine. The Braves knocked Foley out of the box in the first frame and Bobby Raines, his successor, yielded only one run in 6 2/6 stanzas. Marple's double was the only extra base hit of the game.

Westlake Stars As Corsairs Win In Chicago, 6-4

Bill Werle's Relief Pitching Stops Cubs

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs today.

Wally Westlake

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

The Cubs chased Vernon Law in their half of the eighth, and fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law. The loser was rookie Omar (Turk) Lown, who lasted seven innings.

Cavarretta had followed Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff double and Bob Dillinger's bobble on Hank Sauer's grounder with a whistling two-bagger to right field. That put across two runs and brought in Werle as Law's successor with none out and the Cubs behind 6-4.

After Westlake's fine catch of Pafko's liner, Bill Serena doubled, but Werle put out the fire by getting the next batter on a pop-up. It was Werle's fourth relief appearance he now has hurled 10 scoreless innings. Box:

Jack Goldsmith Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Jack Goldsmith, 31, former Long Island University basketball star, today pleaded innocent to an indictment charging bribery in the besketball fix scandal.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor branded Goldsmith as "a cheat and a double crosser," and said the accused had substantial information about a group of fixers.

In the 1946-'47 basketball season, O'Connor told General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, Goldsmith was a star player "and as a player he was fixed."

Judge Streit fixed bail at $50,000 pending trial, for which no date was set.

Goldsmith was indicted yesterday with William Rivlin, 45, fugitive ex-convict who served a jail sentence for trying to fix a basketball game two years ago. A 14-state alarm was sent out for Rivlin's arrest.

Senators Show Little Respect For Boston Sox

Kuzava Scores 7-5 Win For Washington

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators batted, won the game for the Washington club which has lost only one of its five games.

The Senators picked up single runs in the third and sixth and then put it way in the seventh.

Boston's other three runs also came on homers. Bob Doerr hit his first of the year in the seventh with a mate aboard and Ted Williams lashed his third of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Major Loop Crowds Off 22 Per Cent

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Blame it on the weather, TV, General MacArthur or the cost of living, but major league baseball attendance is off some 22 per cent for the first week of the season.

Actually more home dates were played this year than last, 45 to 40, and there were fewer postponements, 13-8, than last spring.

The two-league total for the week was 673,306 as compared to 769,068 in 1950, a drop of 95,762. Figured on a per game basis, the percentage drop is roughly 22 per cent.

American League figures show the most marked decline, particularly at Boston, Detroit and St. Louis. Both the Red Sox and Tigers are off more than 35,000 for their first three home dates.

Both the New York Giants and Yankees showed healthy increases with top flight attractions. The highly touted Giants opened at home with Brooklyn, always an excellent box office draw. The Yanks had the Red Sox for the first two days, although the last game of the series was washed out.

Largest turnout of the new season was the opening 48,316 at Cleveland for the St. Louis Browns. The Brownies cut themselves a welcome slice of cash after drawing only a total of 6,739 for their first two home dates. The Philadelphia A's also got off slowly at the gate with 10,340 for two night dates, including the opener. Detroit approached its all time low yesterday with only 2,125 for a game with the Browns.

In another week the lights will be burning brightly in most of the parks, except Wrigley Field.

Pioneers Tie KHS For Lead In Conference

Grant Cunningham Is Returned Victor Over Jim Householder, 3-1

Romney High School's baseball team performed the "giant killer" role of defeating two leading contenders for the Potomac Valley Conference championship on successive days by stopping Keyser High School yesterday on Newcome Field, Keyser, by the score of 3-1.

Grant Cunningham gained the decision over Jimmy Householder in yesterday's contest as Romney tied Keyser for first place in the P.V.C. Each school has a record of four wins and one loss. Householder also saw his 4-game winning streak shattered in yesterday's game.

Each team was limited to three hits and Householder's double was the game's only extra base blow.

Keyser scored its lone run in the third when Stanley walked, advanced to 2nd on Hamilton's sacrifice, moved to third on a wild throw by Cunningham and was squeezed home by Bishop.

Romney sewed up the game by scoring twice in the 4th without the aid of a base hit. Stanley's muff of Jack Heavener's long fly to left started the trouble. An error by Stickley, wild throws by Lipscomb and Householder and Michael's muff of a throw to the plate marked the Keyser blow-up. Romney scored its final tally in the 6th.

Romney High School plays host to Petersburg today at 2 p. m. in a P.V.C. contest. Keyser plays at Petersburg tomorrow. Box score:

Enardo "Lefty" Arnone fired the third strike past 13 batters as Beall High School's defending champions crushed Fort Hill at Frostburg, 13-1. Douglas Connolly, LaSalle twirler, tossed a 2-hitter to give the Explorers a 4-0 decision over Central High at Lonaconing. Ronnie Sisk twirled Allegany High to a 7-4 verdict over Hyndman High School and Barton downed Bruce High at Westernport, 3-1, in Bi-State Scholastic Conference games played yesterday.

Arnone, who whiffed 14 AHS batters in last Saturday's league opener, extended to strikeout string to 27 by mowing down 13 Sentinels in yesterday's tilt in which "Bobby" Cavanaugh's outfit was limited to four hits.

Score Eight in 6th

Beall led 5-1 going into the 6th when Coach Ed Finzel's outfit chased eight tallies over the platter on a combination of doubles by Hess and Brady, four singles, an error, hit batsman and base on balls. Joe Beck who relieved Lewis in the 6th was the victim of the bombardment, yielding five of the six hits in Beall's big inning.

Brady and Miller collected half of Beall's eight hits.

Lewis was charged with the loss. Fort Hill made seven errors.

LaSalle Wins Early

LaSalle jumped on Kenneth Burt, Central's starting pitcher, for four hits, including Don Farrell's double, and four runs in the first inning to put the game on ice early at Lonaconing. Relief pitcher Jack Brodie let the Explorers down with one bingle in 6⅔ innings and whiffed eight.

Doug Connolly went the route for Charley Doyle's team, yielded two hits, both of which were credited to Brodie, and fanned seven.

Sisk Strikes Out 14

Sisk slammed the third strike past 14 Hyndman batsmen as Coach Hubert Radcliffe's Campers crashed the win column for the first time this season at Hyndman.

Payton was Allegany's leading hitter with a double, tiple and single to his credit. Jack Shaffer collected three of the Pennsylvanians' eight safeties. Buskirk who was relieved by Jim Shaffer in the 4th was charged with the loss.

Tichnell Beats Bruce

Arnold Tichnell twirled Barton High to a 3-1 verdict over Bruce High at Westernport. The Barton hurler yielded only three hits and struck out nine. The Braves knocked Foley out of the box in the first frame and Bobby Raines, his successor, yielded only one run in 6 2/6 stanzas. Marple's double was the only extra base hit of the game.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP) — College football's greatest array of players—the Associated Press' all-time All-America Team—will meet at the National Celebrities Golf Tournament June 2-3 to receive awards from the Touchdown Club of Washington.

Bus Ham, sports editor of the Washington Post, which sponsors the tournament, announced today that the following first team immortals had accepted invitations: Ben Oosterbaan, Michigan, and Don Hutson, Alabama, ends; Bronko Nagurski, Minnesota, and Wilbur Henry, Washington and Jefferson, tackles; Pudge Heffelfinger, Yale, and Robert Suffridge, Tennessee, guards; Jim Thorpe, Carlisle, and Ernie Nevers, Stanford, backs.

Of the other first team members, Adolph Schulz, Michigan, center, and Walter Eckersall, Chicago, quarterback, are dead. Harold (Red) Grange, Illinois, halfback, will not be able to attend.

Proceeds of the big tournament are used to help combat juvenile delinquency. Famous figures of government, the entertainment world, and sports compete in it.

The tournament will be played at the Army-Navy Country Club and is expected to draw 7,500.

Jack Goldsmith Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Jack Goldsmith, 31, former Long Island University basketball star, today pleaded innocent to an indictment charging bribery in the besketball fix scandal.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor branded Goldsmith as "a cheat and a double crosser," and said the accused had substantial information about a group of fixers.

In the 1946-'47 basketball season, O'Connor told General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, Goldsmith was a star player "and as a player he was fixed."

Judge Streit fixed bail at $50,000 pending trial, for which no date was set.

Goldsmith was indicted yesterday with William Rivlin, 45, fugitive ex-convict who served a jail sentence for trying to fix a basketball game two years ago. A 14-state alarm was sent out for Rivlin's arrest.

Westlake Stars As Corsairs Win In Chicago, 6-4

Bill Werle's Relief Pitching Stops Cubs

Wally Westlake

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs today.

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

The Cubs chased Vernon Law in their half of the eighth, and fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law. The loser was rookie Omar (Turk) Lown, who lasted seven innings.

Cavarretta had followed Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff double and Bob Dillinger's bobble on Hank Sauer's grounder with a whistling two-bagger to right field. That put across two runs and brought in Werle as Law's successor with none out and the Cubs behind 6-4.

After Westlake's fine catch of Pafko's liner, Bill Serena doubled, but Werle put out the fire by getting the next batter on a pop-up. It was Werle's fourth relief appearance he now has hurled 10 scoreless innings. Box:

Senators Show Little Respect For Boston Sox

Kuzava Scores 7-5 Win For Washington

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators batted, won the game for the Washington club which has lost only one of its five games.

The Senators picked up single runs in the third and sixth and then put it way in the seventh.

Boston's other three runs also came on homers, Bob Doerr hit his first of the year in the seventh with a mate aboard and Ted Williams lashed his third of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Hogbin Whiffs 14 As Paw Paw High Wallops Silents

ROMNEY, W. Va., April 24 — Hogbin, Paw Paw High School pitcher, struck out 14 batsmen today and Coach Bob Hartman's Mountaineers trounced the West Virginia School for the Deaf by the score of 22-8.

Paw Paw scored in every inning but the fourth in the 6-inning contest. Hogbin was also the visitors' leading sticker with a homer and three singles in six trips to the plate.

Reed who started on the peak and was derricked in the third was the losing pitcher. Brown and Boyd shared four of the Silents' nine safeties. The locals committed eight errors. Box:

LATEST figure to be questioned in the fixing of cage games in New York, Jackie Goldsmith (above), former Long Island U. star, was held in $50,000 bail on a bribery charge. Major Loop Crowds Off 22 Per Cent

Figures First Week 95,762 Under 1950

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Blame it on the weather, TV, General MacArthur or the cost of living, but major league baseball attendance is off some 22 per cent for the first week of the season.

Actually more home dates were played this year than last, 45 to 40, and there were fewer postponements, 13-8, than last spring.

The two-league total for the week was 673,306 as compared to 769,068 in 1950, a drop of 95,762. Figured on a per game basis, the percentage drop is roughly 22 per cent.

American League figures show the most marked decline, particularly at Boston, Detroit and St. Louis. Both the Red Sox and Tigers are off more than 35,000 for their first three home dates.

Both the New York Giants and Yankees showed healthy increases with top flight attractions. The highly touted Giants opened at home with Brooklyn, always an excellent box office draw. The Yanks had the Red Sox for the first two days, although the last game of the series was washed out.

Largest turnout of the new season was the opening 48,316 at Cleveland for the St. Louis Browns. The Brownies cut themselves a welcome slice of cash after drawing only a total of 6,739 for their first two home dates. The Philadelphia A's also got off slowly at the gate with 10,340 for two night dates, including the opener. Detroit approached its all time low yesterday with only 2,125 for a game with the Browns.

In another week the lights will be burning brightly in most of the parks, except Wrigley Field.

Pioneers Tie KHS For Lead In Conference

Grant Cunningham Is Returned Victor Over Jim Householder, 3-1

Romney High School's baseball team performed the "giant killer" role of defeating two leading contenders for the Potomac Valley Conference championship on successive days by stopping Keyser High School yesterday on Newcome Field, Keyser, by the score of 3-1.

Grant Cunningham gained the decision over Jimmy Householder in yesterday's contest as Romney tied Keyser for first place in the P.V.C. Each school has a record of four wins and one loss. Householder also saw his 4-game winning streak shattered in yesterday's game.

Each team was limited to three hits and Householder's double was the game's only extra base blow.

Keyser scored its lone run in the third when Stanley walked, advanced to 2nd on Hamilton's sacrifice, moved to third on a wild throw by Cunningham and was squeezed home by Bishop.

Romney sewed up the game by scoring twice in the 4th without the aid of a base hit. Stanley's muff of Jack Heavener's long fly to left started the trouble. An error by Stickley, wild throws by Lipscomb and Householder and Michael's muff of a throw to the plate marked the Keyser blow-up. Romney scored its final tally in the 6th.

Romney High School plays host to Petersburg today at 2 p. m. in a P.V.C. contest. Keyser plays at Petersburg tomorrow. Box score:

Feller Notches Second Victory

Indians Retain Lead, Trim White Sox, 5-2

CLEVELAND, April 24 (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox today with a 5 to 2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

The White Sox tagged Feller for 10 hits to Cleveland's eight off Bob (Sugar) Cain. But fast double plays and tight clutch pitching stopped them.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1 his first time out, fanned only one, his ex-team mate Eddie Robinson, and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

The Indians grabbed a two-run lead in the second inning and stayed in front. Box:

Lopat Hurls Four-Hitter

Hapless A's Suffer 5th Loss In Row, 3-0

NEW YORK, April 24—(AP)—Ed Lopat, the easy going lefthander, hurled a four-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics today for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight victory and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee Stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Bobby Shantz, little Philadelphia southpaw, was reached for only six hits but the World Champions collected three of them in the opening frame for all of their runs. Box:

British Champ Whips Beshore

10,400 See Cockell Trounce American

LONDON, April 24 (AP) — Don Cockell, British and European light heavyweight champion, pounded out a one-sided decision victory over Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., tonight in a non-title ten rounder before a capacity crowd of 10,400 in Harringay Arena. Beshore outweighed the Londoner, 185 to 181.

Blond Freddie first lost $420 in the afternoon for weighing three pounds over an agreed 182 and then he took a good shellacking from the 22-year-old Englishman in the evening.

There was never much doubt in this contest from the first round on. Cockell drew blood from Beshore's nose midway in the first round with three solid lefts, rocked him hard throughout the bout with whistling right uppercuts and battered him with a tremendous body attack at the final bell.

There were no knockdowns.

GORDON IS HERO

Preacher Roe had a one-run lead when he was forced to retire after seven innings. Erskine walked Earl Torgeson and Bob Elliott before Gordon slammed his 350-foot homer into the left field seats in the eighth.

The Braves salted down the decision with two more runs in the ninth on Elliott's single with the bases loaded off Dan Bankhead.

Feller Notches Second Victory

Indians Retain Lead, Trim White Sox, 5-2

CLEVELAND, April 24 (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox today with a 5 to 2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

The White Sox tagged Feller for 10 hits to Cleveland's eight off Bob (Sugar) Cain. But fast double plays and tight clutch pitching stopped them.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1 his first time out, fanned only one, his ex-team mate Eddie Robinson, and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

The Indians grabbed a two-run lead in the second inning and stayed in front. Box:

Lopat Hurls Four-Hitter

NEW YORK, April 24—(AP)—Ed Lopat, the easy going lefthander, hurled a four-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics today for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight victory and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee Stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Bobby Shantz, little Philadelphia southpaw, was reached for only six hits but the World Champions collected three of them in the opening frame for all of their runs. Box:

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Chico Vejar aims for his 28th straight victory tomorrow night against left-hooking Billy Murphy at the St. Nicholas Arena.

The 10 p. m. (EST) bout, limited to eight rounds because Vejar is only 19, will be broadcast and telecast by CBS.

Vejar has won all 27 of his pro starts, 17 of them via the knockout route. Irish Billy has a 32-11-2 record against good opponents.

GORDON IS HERO

Preacher Roe had a one-run lead when he was forced to retire after seven innings. Erskine walked Earl Torgeson and Bob Elliott before Gordon slammed his 350-foot homer into the left field seats in the eighth.

The Braves salted down the decision with two more runs in the ninth on Elliott's single with the bases loaded off Dan Bankhead.

Feller Notches Second Victory

Indians Retain Lead, Trim White Sox, 5-2

CLEVELAND, April 24 (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox today with a 5 to 2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

The White Sox tagged Feller for 10 hits to Cleveland's eight off Bob (Sugar) Cain. But fast double plays and tight clutch pitching stopped them.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1 his first time out, fanned only one, his ex-team mate Eddie Robinson, and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

The Indians grabbed a two-run lead in the second inning and stayed in front. Box:

Lopat Hurls Four-Hitter

NEW YORK, April 24—(AP)—Ed Lopat, the easy going lefthander, hurled a four-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics today for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight victory and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee Stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Bobby Shantz, little Philadelphia southpaw, was reached for only six hits but the World Champions collected three of them in the opening frame for all of their runs. Box:

The tailoring job was done in Berlin, Wisconsin, by Eskimo Comfort. Houseworth holds the distinction of having made the longest run in the history of the Ridgeley traps. Last year during the West irginia State Shoot he broke 200 straight targets from 16 yards. Over the year he hit 1,409 out of 1,500 for an average of .9393 on 16-yard clays. British Champ Whips Beshore

10,400 See Cockell Trounce American

LONDON, April 24 (AP) — Don Cockell, British and European light heavyweight champion, pounded out a one-sided decision victory over Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., tonight in a non-title ten rounder before a capacity crowd of 10,400 in Harringay Arena. Beshore outweighed the Londoner, 185 to 181.

Blond Freddie first lost $420 in the afternoon for weighing three pounds over an agreed 182 and then he took a good shellacking from the 22-year-old Englishman in the evening.

There was never much doubt in this contest from the first round on. Cockell drew blood from Beshore's nose midway in the first round with three solid lefts, rocked him hard throughout the bout with whistling right uppercuts and battered him with a tremendous body attack at the final bell.

There were no knockdowns.

All-American Airways Is Hometown Air Line

To most people, Washington, D. C. means dignified Senate Chambers, filibusters, Washington-Lincoln-Jefferson monuments, gray-stoned embassies, cigar-smoking politicians. Washington and private business just aren't synonymous.

In spite of this impression, on the banks of the Potomac eight scheduled airlines are busy serving National Airport, the nation's third busiest—an outstanding example of progressive, efficient American business. Giant airliners roar in from Los Angeles, Dallas, Chicago. That is, all except the white-topped twin-engined planes branded "All-American Airways" which seem to be constantly taxiing, landing, and taking-off. Occupying Hangar No. 12 at National, to All-American Washington is home.

In contrast to the impressive names of Eastern, United, TWA, or National, All-American could be looked upon as the "hometown" airline. Its byline, "Serving 45 key cities and resorts in seven Eastern states," succinctly describes the extent of its operation. "Key cities" include terminal points such as New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Cincinnati, but also stands for Bradford, Pa., Jamestown, N. Y. Easton, Md.; resorts range from drumbeating Atlantic City, Wildwood, and Ocean City, Md., to quiet Chautauqua Lake, Rehoboth Beach, and Cumberland, Md. in the picturesque mountain area.

All-American is regarded by many of these 45 cities as their airline. To over half of these communities, scheduled air service is a new thing, and they have adopted All American as a member of the community. Company officials feel the same way. Local station managers have been encouraged to join the Chamber of Commerce, to take an active part in the life of the community, and to cooperate with local business in every way possible.

Only 18 Months Old

Although All American's passenger service is only 18 months old, operation as a scheduled carrier is not new to the Company. Organized in 1937 to develop a technique to deliver and receive mail and cargo while in full flight, the Company was awarded in 1939 a Post Office Department contract to operate an experimental air mail service to 55 points in the Middle Atlantic Area.

ROBERT M. LOVE

In 1940, the Company's routes were not only extended to over 120 cities in the East, but All American became the first air carrier to be certified by the Civil Aeronautics Board after passage of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

During World War II, All American's technique was adopted by the Air Force. Military uses included the launching of gliders and emergency pickup of human beings. At home, the Company provided an important air service between military bases on the East Coast.

After the War, many of the larger cities served by All American were clamoring for passenger service. Former military bases were being leased, new fields constructed, and impatient cities were improving their airport facilities in anticipaton of scheduled passenger service.

Covers Seven States

At the same time, All American had applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to suspend its limited air mail services in favor of all-inclusive passenger, mail, and property service to an extensive area embracing seven Eastern states. When the Board approved All American's application, the Company instituted an accelerated conversion program in time to inaugurate service on its first passenger route, Washington to Pittsburgh, on March 7, 1949.

In 20 short weeks after the inauguration of its first route, All American succeeded in activating progressively six more segments, establishing 35 stations throughout its network. Taking into consideration the number of cities served and the plane mileage of almost 9,000 miles a day, the Company was successful in completing one of the most rapid inaugural programs ever undertaken by a scheduled airline.

All American had definite reasons for adopting such an expedited schedule. Many of the cities on All American's routes had been agitating for air service since the end of the war. Municipal expenditures had been devoted to improving facilities at local airports, and air-minded citizens were impatent for air service to begin. Moreover, the certificate granted All American by the Civil Aeronautics Board was, as is customary, a temporary one to expire in 1952. Extension of this certificate would depend upon the efficiency of All American's service as well as the support of the various communities served by the airline.

Time Was Essential

It was anticipated that in many communities the program of air education would have to be undertaken to realize acceptance of the new airline. The Company's first year of operation revealed this belief to be well-founded. Moreover, to achieve year-round dependability, a program to encourage the installation of radio navigational aids and other improved facilities at local airports was adopted.

Since the first flight in March of last year, All American's ever-increasing passenger traffic is evidence that the Company's hopes are being gradually realized. Comparative statistics for passenger traffic reveals that air travelers for 1950 have doubled those of 1949. This most encouraging trend has vaulted All American into first place among the nation's 17 socalled "feeder airlines" in number of passengers carried.

People in cities experiencing air transportation for the first time have become accustomed to seeing the Triple A insignia fly high over their homes and above Main Street. Last week, their next-door-neighbor flew for the first time. Now they're "old hands"—wouldn't go any other way. Even the town skeptics have admitted "air transportation is here to stay."

Community Relations

Close company-community relationship has made for more dependability, too. The installation of radio beacons, night landing lights, extension of runways, and construction of new terminal buildings have all meant better service. Though such improvement programs the airline aims at year-round dependability, the goal of the aviation industry. The man behind this bustling air-

All-American Airways Is Hometown Air Line

To most people, Washington, D. C. means dignified Senate Chambers, filibusters, Washington-Lincoln-Jefferson monuments, gray-stoned embassies, cigar-smoking politicians. Washington and private business just aren't synonymous.

In spite of this impression, on the banks of the Potomac eight scheduled airlines are busy serving National Airport, the nation's third busiest—an outstanding example of progressive, efficient American business. Giant airliners roar in from Los Angeles, Dallas, Chicago. That is, all except the white-topped twin-engined planes branded "All-American Airways" which seem to be constantly taxiing, landing, and taking-off. Parole Violator Sentenced In Keyser Court

Cavanaugh Booked In Chicken Theft

KEYSER, W. Va.—Charles Chester Cavanaugh, 24, was sentenced to a two-to-10 year prison term in the state penitentiary at Moundsville by Judge Ernest A. See, in Mineral County Circuit Court yesterday for violation of his parole.

He was arrested at an early hour Monday morning in the alleged theft of nine chickens from the farm of Robert Anderson in the Horseshoe section on Route 46, near Keyser, with his former wife, Helen Ferrebee, 22, and Charles Spencer, 27.

They were in a car driven by Spencer that was stopped by city police on Armstrong Street for speeding. Spencer was arrested, placed in the county jail and held on a charge of speeding. The other two were ordered to go to their homes, and the car was impounded and placed on North Davis Street, near the City Police Station.

The police discovered nine headless chickens in the car and then started out to find the two who had been released, but were not found. Upon returning to the car, they discovered that the chickens had been removed from the car, and the police started a search for the other two and found Cavanaugh, with the chickens as he walked near the Keyser Elementary School. He was taken into custody. They nabbed the woman later and all were held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle, where all three waived a hearing and were held, after bond was set at $1,000 each.

Cavanaugh who had been out on parole, was taken before Judge See in Court yesterday where he was sentenced. Spencer later posted $1,000 bond was released, but the Ferrebee woman is still in jail.

Keyser Store Hours To Be Set

KEYSER, W. Va. — Keyser merchants are expected to announce their intentions on Daylight Savings Time opening and closing in a few days, to become effective on Monday.

There still remain some who prefer to go along with the B & O Railroad and the city and remain on standard time. Whether they can be persuaded to change to the new time, remains to be seen in the next few days.

The majority want to do business on summer time and it appears that the city will again have a battle with the hands of clocks and watches this year as in the past couple of years, with some parts of the city on fast time and others on the slow watch.

An effort will be made in the next few days to win over the churches to fast time, but the public schools in Keyser will continue to the closing day of the term on slow time.

Parole Violator Sentenced In Keyser Court

Cavanaugh Booked In Chicken Theft

KEYSER, W. Va.—Charles Chester Cavanaugh, 24, was sentenced to a two-to-10 year prison term in the state penitentiary at Moundsville by Judge Ernest A. See, in Mineral County Circuit Court yesterday for violation of his parole.

He was arrested at an early hour Monday morning in the alleged theft of nine chickens from the farm of Robert Anderson in the Horseshoe section on Route 46, near Keyser, with his former wife, Helen Ferrebee, 22, and Charles Spencer, 27.

They were in a car driven by Spencer that was stopped by city police on Armstrong Street for speeding. Spencer was arrested, placed in the county jail and held on a charge of speeding. The other two were ordered to go to their homes, and the car was impounded and placed on North Davis Street, near the City Police Station,

The police discovered nine headless chickens in the car and then started out to find the two who had been released, but were not found. Upon returning to the car, they discovered that the chickens had been removed from the car, and the police started a search for the other two and found Cavanaugh, with the chickens as he walked near the Keyser Elementary School. He was taken into custody. They nabbed the woman later and all were held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle, where all three waived a hearing and were held, after bond was set at $1,000 each.

Cavanaugh who had been out on parole, was taken before Judge See in Court yesterday where he was sentenced. Spencer later posted $1,000 bond was released, but the Ferrebee woman is still in jail.

Keyser Store Hours To Be Set

KEYSER, W. Va. — Keyser merchants are expected to announce their intentions on Daylight Savings Time opening and closing in a few days, to become effective on Monday.

There still remain some who prefer to go along with the B & O Railroad and the city and remain on standard time. Whether they can be persuaded to change to the new time, remains to be seen in the next few days.

The majority want to do business on summer time and it appears that the city will again have a battle with the hands of clocks and watches this year as in the past couple of years, with some parts of the city on fast time and others on the slow watch.

An effort will be made in the next few days to win over the churches to fast time, but the public schools in Keyser will continue to the closing day of the term on slow time.

Parole Violator Sentenced In Keyser Court

Cavanaugh Booked In Chicken Theft

KEYSER, W. Va.—Charles Chester Cavanaugh, 24, was sentenced to a two-to-10 year prison term in the state penitentiary at Moundsville by Judge Ernest A. See, in Mineral County Circuit Court yesterday for violation of his parole.

He was arrested at an early hour Monday morning in the alleged theft of nine chickens from the farm of Robert Anderson in the Horseshoe section on Route 46, near Keyser, with his former wife, Helen Perrebee, 22, and Charles Spencer, 27.

They were in a car driven by Spencer that was stopped by city police on Armstrong Street for speeding. Spencer was arrested, placed in the county jail and held on a charge of speeding. The other two were ordered to go to their homes, and the car was impounded and placed on North Davis Street, near the City Police Station.

The police discovered nine headless chickens in the car and then started out to find the two who had been released, but were not found. Upon returning to the car, they discovered that the chickens had been removed from the car, and the police started a search for the other two and found Cavanaugh, with the chickens as he walked near the Keyser Elementary School. He was taken into custody. They nabbed the woman later and all were held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle, where all three waived a hearing and were held, after bond was set at $1,000 each.

Cavanaugh who had been out on parole, was taken before Judge See in Court yesterday where he was sentenced. Spencer later posted $1,000 bond was released, but the Ferrebee woman is still in jail.

Keyser Store Hours To Be Set

KEYSER, W. Va. — Keyser merchants are expected to announce their intentions on Daylight Savings Time opening and closing in a few days, to become effective on Monday.

There still remain some who prefer to go along with the B & O Railroad and the city and remain on standard time. Whether they can be persuaded to change to the new time, remains to be seen in the next few days.

The majority want to do business on summer time and it appears that the city will again have a battle with the hands of clocks and watches this year as in the past couple of years, with some parts of the city on fast time and others on the slow watch.

An effort will be made in the next few days to win over the churches to fast time, but the public schools in Keyser will continue to the closing day of the term on slow time.

Thomas Wedding Is Announced

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mr. and Mrs. B. William Phillips, Thomas announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna Marie, to Earl William Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Shaffer, Thomas.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized March 31 in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, Md. with Rev. S. R. Neel officiating.

Miss Peggy Shaffer, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Harry Romenick, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Shaffer is a graduate of Wytheville High School, Wytheville, Va., and is now employed in the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. by the Army Signal Corps.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Thomas High School is a veteran of World War II. He is now attending the Bliss Electrical school in Takoma Park, Md. They are residing in Arlington, Va.

Soldiers Promoted

KEYSER, W. Va. — Robert B. Baker, RFD 1, Keyser; Luther A. Dove, Burlington, and Lester E. Robinson, RFD 2, Box 92, Keyser, now with the 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion, at Fort Benning, Ga., have been promoted to the rank of corporal, according to information received in Keyser.

Among the things I never knew is that Fernando Lamas, MGM's Argentine singer, was on the Argentine Olympic swimming team. That's why he'll play opposite Esther Williams in "Everybody Swims."

Lamas, with whom I had quite a talk some time ago when I lunched at the MGM commissary, is very ambitious, and at that time was excited about going into Greer Garson's picture, "The Law And Lady Loverly." Well, he scored in that movie so now he gets another break with Esther.

In Esther's movie he plays a French champagne king who takes to the water and backs Esther when she attempts to swim the English Channel.

While Mrs. Angier Duke has been acting as Stanton Griffis' hostess at the embassy in Spain, and she and her husband have been much in our Ambassador's company, there is much talk about his attentions to Annabella.

He has had the former Mrs. Tyrone Power at numerous dinners and has paid her marked attention. Whether or not he will marry the attractive Annabella, I do not know.

Stan, popular and charming, was formerly chairman of the board of directors of Paramount, and was once married to Whitney Bourne, a beautiful actress.

Susan Peters, in the east doing a TV series, plans to adopt another child. In spite of the accident years ago which left her paralyzed from the waist down, Susan has been a wonderful mother to her adopted son, Timmy.

Yvonne De Carlo admits she is really in love this time. He's Cesare Siepi, Met basso. He's 28 and she met him a year ago through a mutual friend.

Rita Hayworth, who has been emotionally upset, had a pleasant afternoon watching her daughter, Rebecca, skate at Rockefeller Center. Yasmine was with her mother and had great fun watching her stepsister.

Evelyn Ankers' mother telephoned to say that Evelyn and Richard Denning will have the honeymoon they were never able to have, in Honolulu. Evelyn married Dick nine years ago and he went into the Army the next day.

Jean Feldman is in Hollywood, and the one she is seeing the most is her former husband, Charles K., well known producer-agent.

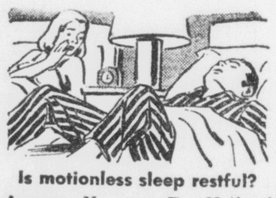
The Hollywood friends of former Consul General Alexander De Manziarly are turning out to greet him at a cocktail party given at the French Research Foundation Thursday. When Sacha was the French consul here he was one of the most popular men in the film colony and in great demand at dinner parties.

SUSIE Q. SMITH — By Linda and Jerry Walter

"Did someone call me?"

Mirror Of Your Mind

By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist



Is motionless sleep restful?

Answer: No, says Dr. Nathaniel Kleitman of the University of Chicago Sleep Laboratory. You normally change position from 20 to 45 times during eight hours' sleep, and thus seeming restlessness actually provides a chance to relax different parts of your body in turn. An intoxicated person wakes up stiff and sore because he has slept without moving. Dreamless sleep — which probably does not exist in any case —would not be desirable, either, since dreams are the normal way of draining off pent-up emotions.

Is anthropology an aid to self-knowledge?

Answer: Yes, says Herman G. Canady in "School and Society." The study of people whose standards and ways of living differ from our own helps us to see ourselves in a more accurate perspective and to realize the extent to which our characters and personalities are products of the "culture" we grow up in. The better we realize that foreigners, and even savages are mainly products of a different environment from ours, not our "inferiors," the more easily we shall be able to outgrow race prejudice and suspicion.

Do some people prefer dangerous jobs?

Answer: Yes. There is a type of insecurity based on unconscious need which can be kept within tolerable limits only by regularly facing and conquering danger so as to "prove" that you are invulnerable. When a person with this feeling is compelled to take a safe and humdrum job, he frequently goes into a severe depression. But aside from the fact that we need people to do dangerous jobs, many men and women whose jobs force them to take chances have simply become accustomed to them and cannot be charged with doing them "just for the excitement."

Draft Test Dates Set For Students

Selective Service officials have announced a fourth testing date—July 12—for college students seeking draft deferment.

Examinations have been scheduled for May 26, June 16 and June 30, Clerk Co-ordinator P. Emmett Fahey pointed out, adding:

"Because each of these dates falls on a Saturday and there are certain students whose religious affiliations prevent their taking the test on that day, a fourth testing date has been arranged only for registrants in the religious category."

Among the things I never knew is that Fernando Lamas, MGM's Argentine singer, was on the Argentine Olympic swimming team. That's why he'll play opposite Esther Williams in "Everybody Swims."

Lamas, with whom I had quite a talk some time ago when I lunched at the MGM commissary, is very ambitious, and at that time was excited about going into Greer Garson's picture, "The Law And Lady Loverly." Well, he scored in that movie so now he gets another break with Esther.

In Esther's movie he plays a French champagne king who takes to the water and backs Esther when she attempts to swim the English Channel.

While Mrs. Angier Duke has been acting as Stanton Griffis' hostess at the embassy in Spain, and she and her husband have been much in our Ambassador's company, there is much talk about his attentions to Annabella.

He has had the former Mrs. Tyrone Power at numerous dinners and has paid her marked attention. Whether or not he will marry the attractive Annabella, I do not know.

Stan, popular and charming, was formerly chairman of the board of directors of Paramount, and was once married to Whitney Bourne, a beautiful actress.

Susan Peters, in the east doing a TV series, plans to adopt another child. In spite of the accident years ago which left her paralyzed from the waist down, Susan has been a wonderful mother to her adopted son, Timmy.

Yvonne De Carlo admits she is really in love this time. He's Cesare Siepi, Met basso. He's 28 and she met him a year ago through a mutual friend.

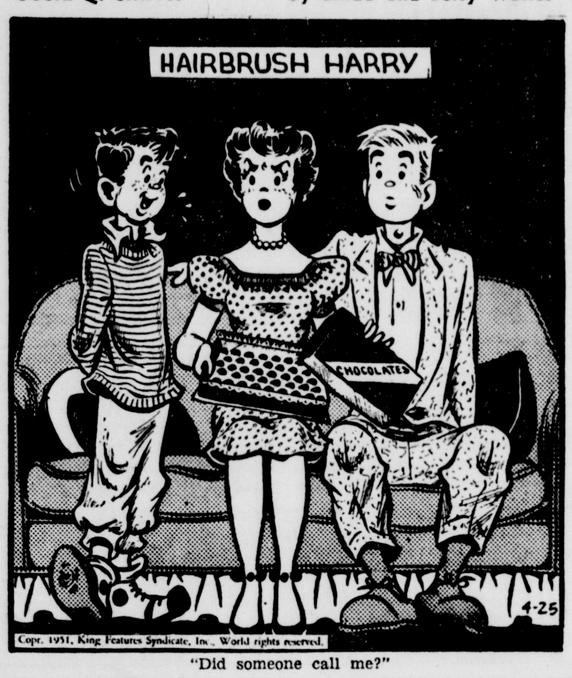
Rita Hayworth, who has been emotionally upset, had a pleasant afternoon watching her daughter, Rebecca, skate at Rockefeller Center. Yasmine was with her mother and had great fun watching her stepsister.

Evelyn Ankers' mother telephoned to say that Evelyn and Richard Denning will have the honeymoon they were never able to have, in Honolulu. Evelyn married Dick nine years ago and he went into the Army the next day.

Jean Feldman is in Hollywood, and the one she is seeing the most is her former husband, Charles K., well known producer-agent.

The Hollywood friends of former Consul General Alexander De Manziarly are turning out to greet him at a cocktail party given at the French Research Foundation Thursday. When Sacha was the French consul here he was one of the most popular men in the film colony and in great demand at dinner parties.

SUSIE Q. SMITH — By Linda and Jerry Walter



"Did someone call me?"

Mirror Of Your Mind

By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist

Is motionless sleep restful?

Answer: No, says Dr. Nathaniel Kleitman of the University of Chicago Sleep Laboratory. You normally change position from 20 to 45 times during eight hours' sleep, and thus seeming restlessness actually provides a chance to relax different parts of your body in turn. An intoxicated person wakes up stiff and sore because he has slept without moving. Dreamless sleep — which probably does not exist in any case —would not be desirable, either, since dreams are the normal way of draining off pent-up emotions.

Is anthropology an aid to self-knowledge?

Answer: Yes, says Herman G. Canady in "School and Society." The study of people whose standards and ways of living differ from our own helps us to see ourselves in a more accurate perspective and to realize the extent to which our characters and personalities are products of the "culture" we grow up in. The better we realize that foreigners, and even savages are mainly products of a different environment from ours, not our "inferiors," the more easily we shall be able to outgrow race prejudice and suspicion.

Do some people prefer dangerous jobs?

Answer: Yes. There is a type of insecurity based on unconscious feelings of guilt which can be kept within tolerable limits only by regularly facing and conquering danger so as to "prove" that you are invulnerable. When a person with this feeling is compelled to take a safe and humdrum job, he frequently goes into a severe depression. But aside from the fact that we need people to do dangerous jobs, many men and women whose jobs force them to take chances have simply become accustomed to them and cannot be charged with doing them "just for the excitement."

Draft Test Dates Set For Students

Selective Service officials have announced a fourth testing date—July 12—for college students seeking draft deferment.

Examinations have been scheduled for May 26, June 16 and June 30, Clerk Co-ordinator P. Emmett Fahey pointed out, adding:

"Because each of these dates falls on a Saturday and there are certain students whose religious affiliations prevent their taking the test on that day, a fourth testing date has been arranged only for registrants in the religious category."

Great Yarns On The Air

THE SOMERSET Maugham Theater, to which Mr. Maugham is now contributing little but a filmed glimpse of himself, usually patting a book—whatever that is—has been extended from a half to a full hour and has switched its allegiance to NBC. You'll find it at 9:30 p. m. EST Mondays (NBC-TV) every other week, alternating with Robert Montgomery's theater.

John Crosby

I'm not altogether happy about this change and I fail to understand why it was done. Many of Mr. Maugham's dry sardonic tales were admirably suited to half an hour; they are going to rattle around in an hour. For the first program, though, the producers selected, not a short story, but Mr. Maugham's monumental "Of Human Bondage," probably his best novel, though I'll take "Cakes and Ale" and "Moon and Sixpence" any day.

It was an ambitious but an unfortunate choice. "Of Human Bondage," one of the most painful personal revelations ever penned, cannot be whittled down to an hour without grave damage to Mr. Maugham's characters. This is the tragedy of a sensitive man hopelessly in love with an incredibly vulgar woman. He despises her but can't get her out of his blood. Abbreviated to an hour, the story was flattened and coarsened. Instead of exciting our sympathy, Philip ended only by exasperating us; he became a pitiful and rather dull sucker, not a tragic figure at all. I must admit it's the hardest part in the world to play sympathetically and it's just possible that the late Leslie Howard, who played it in the movies, was the only man for the job.

* * *

I have a number of other complaints. The adaptors were carried away by delicacy to the point of softening all of Mr. Maugham's most telling blows, presumably in the interest of protecting the home audience from the facts of life. In the book, Philip actually prayed for the death of his uncle so that he might inherit his money. An evil prayer but a believable one for a man in his agony. From a streetwalker, the girl, Mildred, was transformed on the TV show into an alcoholic. The whole story, in fact, was dimmed, put into soft focus, and a great and powerful novel became just another hour of television.

The problem of adaptation of great yarns to the arbitrary demands of broadcasting is an acute one and I don't know whether I could solve it any better than the rest of the boys. A writer sets down his story in the length which it demands. The story ends—whether it be page 10 or page 115—when it ends. The radio and television adaptor is stuck with the half or full hour lengths. On NBC's "Short Story," a radio program (NBC 10:30 p. m. EST Wednesdays), Ernest Hemingway's "Fifty Grand," a fine story of an aging, finished prizefighter, presented a problem opposite to that of the Maugham novel.

It was a spare story, economical and hard-hitting in its dialogue. As a radio play, it had fat all over it in the wrong places, the authors having to pad out that half hour. In case you never read it, it's the story of a fighter who is more interested in his wife and his kids and his investments than he is in fighting. He lays $50,000 on his opponent in his last fight and then has a terrible time losing, a story of courage in reverse. Somewhere the emphasis got lost in the padded out dialogue. It was just another fight story and Mr. Hemingway's illustrious name was exploited for illicit purposes.

Occasionally, by accident a great story just happens to fit the exacting requirements of the broadcaster. Ford Theater's adaptation of Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness," for example, the tale of an English philosopher who set himself up as a sort of king in the middle of the Congo, came out just about right, neither too long nor too short. Nothing on television can approximate the splendor and precision of Conrad's prose but this play did the job as well as it could be done.

It was a spare story, economical and hard-hitting in its dialogue. As a radio play, it had fat all over it in the wrong places, the authors having to pad out that half hour. In case you never read it, it's the story of a fighter who is more interested in his wife and his kids and his investments than he is in fighting. He lays $50,000 on his opponent in his last fight and then has a terrible time losing, a story of courage in reverse. Somewhere the emphasis got lost in the padded out dialogue. It was just another fight story and Mr. Hemingway's illustrious name was exploited for illicit purposes.

* * *

Occasionally, by accident a great story just happens to fit the exacting requirements of the broadcaster. Ford Theater's adaptation of Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness," for example, the tale of an English philosopher who set himself up as a sort of king in the middle of the Congo, came out just about right, neither too long nor too short. Nothing on television can approximate the splendor and precision of Conrad's prose but this play did the job as well as it could be done.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Great Yarns On The Air

THE SOMERSET Maugham Theater, to which Mr. Maugham is now contributing little but a filmed glimpse of himself, usually patting a book—whatever that is—has been extended from a half to a full hour and has switched its allegiance to NBC. You'll find it at 9:30 p. m. EST Mondays (NBC-TV) every other week, alternating with Robert Montgomery's theater.

John Crosby

I'm not altogether happy about this change and I fail to understand why it was done. Many of Mr. Maugham's dry, sardonic tales were admirably suited to half an hour; they are going to rattle around in an hour. For the first program, though, the producers selected, not a short story, but Mr. Maugham's monumental "Of Human Bondage," probably his best novel, though I'll take "Cakes and Ale" and "Moon and Sixpence" any day.

It was an ambitious but an unfortunate choice. "Of Human Bondage," one of the most painful personal revelations ever penned, cannot be whittled down to an hour without grave damage to Mr. Maugham's characters. This is the tragedy of a sensitive man hopelessly in love with an incredibly vulgar woman. He despises her but can't get her out of his blood. Abbreviated to an hour, the story was flattened and coarsened. Instead of exciting our sympathy, Philip ended only by exasperating us; he became a pitiful and rather dull sucker, not a tragic figure at all. I must admit it's the hardest part in the world to play sympathetically and it's just possible that the late Leslie Howard, who played it in the movies, was the only man for the job.

* * *

I have a number of other complaints. The adaptors were carried away by delicacy to the point of softening all of Mr. Maugham's most telling blows, presumably in the interest of protecting the home audience from the facts of life. In the book, Philip actually prayed for the death of his uncle so that he might inherit his money. An evil prayer but a believable one for a man in his agony. From a streetwalker, the girl, Mildred, was transformed on the TV show into an alcoholic. The whole story, in fact, was dimmed, put into soft focus, and a great and powerful novel became just another hour of television.

The problem of adaptation of great yarns to the arbitrary demands of broadcasting is an acute one and I don't know whether I could solve it any better than the rest of the boys. A writer sets down his story in the length which it demands. The story ends—whether it be page 10 or page 115—when it ends. The radio and television adaptor is stuck with the half or full hour lengths. On NBC's "Short Story," a radio program (NBC 10:30 p. m. EST Wednesdays), Ernest Hemingway's "Fifty Grand," a fine story of an aging, finished prizefighter, presented a problem opposite to that of the Maugham novel.

It was a spare story, economical and hard-hitting in its dialogue. As a radio play, it had fat all over it in the wrong places, the authors having to pad out that half hour. In case you never read it, it's the story of a fighter who is more interested in his wife and his kids and his investments than he is in fighting. He lays $50,000 on his opponent in his last fight and then has a terrible time losing, a story of courage in reverse. Somewhere the emphasis got lost in the padded out dialogue. It was just another fight story and Mr. Hemingway's illustrious name was exploited for illicit purposes.

Ford Theater's adaptation of Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness," for example, the tale of an English philosopher who set himself up as a sort of king in the middle of the Congo, came out just about right, neither too long nor too short. Nothing on television can approximate the splendor and precision of Conrad's prose but this play did the job as well as it could be done.

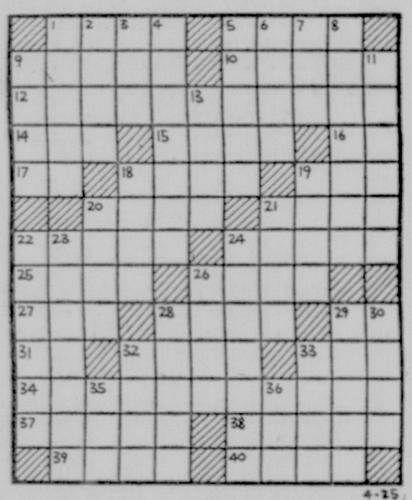
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

RIGHT MAY BE WRONG

A CERTAIN contract may be the theoretically correct one on a particular hand. But most things in bridge are relative, the same as in other phases of life. A player whose soundness is not developed highly enough may fail in the correct contract because of his lack of experience or acumen, whereas a more able cardsman would have no trouble with it. In such a case, the less adept performer might be better off in what would abstractly be the wrong contract, nevertheless one he could make.

	♠ A J 9 4 ♥ K Q 7 ♦ K J 2 ♣ 7 5 4
♠ K 8 6 5 ♥ 3 2 ♦ 8 5 3 ♣ K Q J 9	N W E S	♠ Q 10 2 ♥ 9 8 6 4 ♦ 10 7 ♣ A 10 6 3
	♠ 7 3 ♥ A J 10 5 ♦ A Q 9 6 4 ♣ 8 2

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	4 ♥

In a big duplicate tournament with players of many degrees of skill, the best bid was as recorded, South showing hearts first for convenience because his hand was not big enough for reverse bidding of diamonds first, then later rebidding diamonds after heart preference from North to indicate that they were five and the hearts only four. Norths with confidence in their partners then preferred the seven-trump major suit to the eight-trump minor which required one more trick.

Some Norths shifted the contract to 5-Diamonds, which took a trick beating with two in clubs and one in spades. A few Souths landed in only 4-Diamonds and made it. Not all of the 4-Hearts declarers succeeded, because several made a bid mistake in the play, yet one frequently seen.

Against the 4-Hearts, West everywhere scored two club tricks and led a third. Where South ruffed this with the heart 5, tried to eliminate trumps in three rounds and thus left the 9 out with East, the third ensuing diamond was ruffed, the club A was scored and the spade 2 return to the K and A caused the 9 and J to lose to the 10 and Q to put the declarer down three. Several declarers knew the simple play of not ruffing the third club in order to conserve trump length, discarding a spade instead. No matter what was then led, South was able to win it, ruffing a club in dummy if necessary, then score four tricks in trumps plus five in diamonds and one in spades to have ten and game.

Farmers Warned About Insects

Farmers in Allegany County are reminded by County Agent R. F. McHenry that a number of harmful insects are beginning to be observed around the state.

The notes disclose that plum curculios are emerging in small numbers at Cambridge. A few spider mites (red spider) may be found on strawberry leaves in Somerset and Wicomico County fields. The notes suggest that it is about time to dust for mites and clipper with a dust of 75 per cent sulphur and 3 per cent DDT.

A few armyworms were found in roadside grass at Easton. Searchers at a number of places have not revealed any armyworms in grain, but they may be expected by the third week in May, according to Bissell's notes.

Spittlebugs are hatching in Montgomery County and the small yellow bug may be found in the crowns of clover and certain weeds. It is time to spray, the bulletin advises. Farmers also are urged to spray tulip poplar trees now for scale, using 3 per cent dormant oil emulsion.

Concerning termites the notes state:

"Spring has brought many reports from different sections of swarming termites in buildings. A few of these proved to be winged ants which are harmless."

Late Selling Wave Pushes Stock Prices Downward

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—A sudden selling squall late in the session pushed prices down fractions to around $1 a share today after the stock market had wavered uncertainly during the first four hours of trading.

A few stocks dropped as much as $2 during the final hour but a majority of the losses by far were counted in fractions.

The selling was accompanied by a very slight increase in volume and trading for the entire session was only 1,420,000 shares, a good deal better than yesterday's 1,160,000 but still below recent averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 50 cents at $94.60 and all categories of the market—industrials, rails and utilities—showed declines.

U. S. Steel, which announced not quite as good a first quarter as in 1950 and declared its regular 75 cent dividend after the market closed, was steady at $44.12 at the close.

Other large steels were down, however. Bethlehem, which has its quarterly meeting Thursday, was down $1 at $55.75 and Republic was off 75 cents at $42.75.

Some of the weakest issues were among the aircrafts—Boeing, down $2 at $48.37 and Douglas, off $3 at $100. Other aircrafts were down fractions.

Illinois Central Railroad was down $1.62 at $63.25 and Union Pacific fell $1 at $101.50 while other rails were steady to fractions lower.

Goodyear Rubber held steady at $77 but Goodrich was down 50 cents at $50 and U. S. Rubber was down a similar amount at $58.50.

All-American

line is Robert M. Love. Love organized his first airline in 1932. Known as Inter City Airlines, it was a scheduled airline operating between Boston, Springfield and Albany.

When war appeared imminent in 1941, he left Inter City and joined the Air Corps. As Colonel Love, he became Deputy Chief of Staff for the Air Transport Command and was responsible for the establishment and operation of many initial routes, bases and weather stations of the ATC. His last assignment was Commander of the West Coast Wing, Pacific Division of the Air Transport Command, which was the operating base for the Pacific overseas route of ATC.

In addition to area ribbons, Love was also awarded the Air Medal, Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Service Medal, the Peruvian Cross, and the Degree of Honorary Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

In 1946, he became President of All American and is also the largest stockholder of the corporation.

Speaking for the Company, Love looks optimistically to the future. His airline has not only brought dependable service to millions of people for the first time, but it has also won the wholehearted acceptance and support of its 45 cities as their "hometown" airlane.

The term "buccaneers" was first applied to early French cowboys in Haiti who turned to piracy when raising cattle proved unprofitable.

American museums employ more than 7,000 people.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

RIGHT MAY BE WRONG

A CERTAIN contract may be the theoretically correct one on a particular hand. But most things in bridge are relative, the same as in other phases of life. A player whose soundness is not developed highly enough may fail in the correct contract because of his lack of experience or acumen, whereas a more able cardsman would have no trouble with it. In such a case, the less adept performer might be better off in what would abstractly be the wrong contract, nevertheless one he could make.

1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	4 ♥

In a big duplicate tournament with players of many degrees of skill, the best bid was as recorded, South showing hearts first for convenience because his hand was not big enough for reverse bidding of diamonds first, then later rebidding diamonds after heart preference from North to indicate that they were five and the hearts only four. Norths with confidence in their partners then preferred the seven-trump major suit to the eight-trump minor which required one more trick.

Some Norths shifted the contract to 5-Diamonds, which took a trick beating with two in clubs and one in spades. A few Souths landed in only 4-Diamonds and made it. Not all of the 4-Hearts declarers succeeded, because several made a bid mistake in the play, yet one frequently seen.

Against the 4-Hearts, West everywhere scored two club tricks and led a third. Where South ruffed this with the heart 5, tried to eliminate trumps in three rounds and thus left the 9 out with East, the third ensuing diamond was ruffed, the club A was scored and the spade 2 return to the K and A caused the 9 and J to lose to the 10 and Q to put the declarer down three. Several declarers knew the simple play of not ruffing the third club in order to conserve trump length, discarding a spade instead. No matter what was then led, South was able to win it, ruffing a club in dummy if necessary, then score four tricks in trumps plus five in diamonds and one in spades to have ten and game.

Late Selling Wave Pushes Stock Prices Downward

NEW YORK, Apil 24 (AP)—A sudden selling squall late in the session pushed prices down fractions to around $1 a share today after the stock market had wavered uncertainly during the first four hours of trading.

A few stocks dropped as much as $2 during the final hour but a majority of the losses by far were counted in fractions.

The selling was accompanied by a very slight increase in volume and trading for the entire session was only 1,420,000 shares, a good deal better than yesterday's 1,160,000 but still below recent averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 50 cents at $94.60 and all categories of the market—industrials, rails and utilities—showed declines.

U. S. Steel, which announced not quite as good a first quarter as in 1950 and declared its regular 75 cent dividend after the market closed, was steady at $44.12 at the close.

Other large steels were down, however. Bethlehem, which has its quarterly meeting Thursday, was down $1 at $55.75 and Republic was off 75 cents at $42.75.

Some of the weakest issues were among the aircrafts—Boeing, down $2 at $48.37 and Douglas, off $3 at $100. Other aircrafts were down fractions.

Illinois Central Railroad was down $1.62 at $63.25 and Union Pacific fell $1 at $101.50 while other rails were steady to fractions lower.

Goodyear Rubber held steady at $77 but Goodrich was down 50 cents at $50 and U. S. Rubber was down a similar amount at $58.50.

Farmers Warned About Insects

Farmers in Allegany County are reminded by County Agent R. F. McHenry that a number of harmful insects are beginning to be observed around the state.

The notes disclose that plum curculios are emerging in small numbers at Cambridge. A few spider mites (red spider) may be found on strawberry leaves in Somerset and Wicomico County fields. The notes suggest that it is about time to dust for mites and clipper with a dust of 75 per cent sulphur and 3 per cent DDT.

A few armyworms were found in roadside grass at Easton. Searchers at a number of places have not revealed any armyworms in grain, but they may be expected by the third week in May, according to Bissell's notes.

Spittlebugs are hatching in Montgomery County and the small yellow bug may be found in the crowns of clover and certain weeds. It is time to spray, the bulletin advises. Farmers also are urged to spray tulip poplar trees now for scale, using 3 per cent dormant oil emulsion.

Concerning termites the notes state:

"Spring has brought many reports from different sections of swarming termites in buildings. A few of these proved to be winged ants which are harmless."

All-American

line is Robert M. Love. Love organized his first airline in 1932. Known as Inter City Airlines, it was a scheduled airline operating between Boston, Springfield and Albany.

When war appeared imminent in 1941, he left Inter City and joined the Air Corps. As Colonel Love, he became Deputy Chief of Staff for the Air Transport Command and was responsible for the establishment and operation of many initial routes, bases and weather stations of the ATC. His last assignment was Commander of the West Coast Wing, Pacific Division of the Air Transport Command, which was the operating base for the Pacific overseas route of ATC.

In addition to area ribbons, Love was also awarded the Air Medal, Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Service Medal, the Peruvian Cross, and the Degree of Honorary Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

In 1946, he became President of All American and is also the largest stockholder of the corporation.

Speaking for the Company, Love looks optimistically to the future. His airline has not only brought dependable service to millions of people for the first time, but it has also won the wholehearted acceptance and support of its 45 cities as their "hometown" airlane.

The term "buccaneers" was first applied to early French cowboys in Haiti who turned to piracy when raising cattle proved unprofitable.

American museums employ more than 7,000 people.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

RIGHT MAY BE WRONG

A CERTAIN contract may be the theoretically correct one on a particular hand. But most things in bridge are relative, the same as in other phases of life. A player whose soundness is not developed highly enough may fail in the correct contract because of his lack of experience or acumen, whereas a more able cardsman would have no trouble with it. In such a case, the less adept performer might be better off in what would abstractly be the wrong contract, nevertheless one he could make.

♠ K 8 6 5 ♥ 3 2 ♦ 8 5 3 ♣ K Q J 9	N W E S	♠ Q 10 2 ♥ 9 8 6 4 ♦ 10 7 ♣ A 10 6 3

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	4 ♥

In a big duplicate tournament with players of many degrees of skill, the best bid was as recorded, South showing hearts first for convenience because his hand was not big enough for reverse bidding of diamonds first, then later rebidding diamonds after heart preference from North to indicate that they were five and the hearts only four. Norths with confidence in their partners then preferred the seven-trump major suit to the eight-trump minor which required one more trick.

Some Norths shifted the contract to 5-Diamonds, which took a trick beating with two in clubs and one in spades. A few Souths landed in only 4-Diamonds and made it. Not all of the 4-Hearts declarers succeeded, because several made a bid mistake in the play, yet one frequently seen.

Against the 4-Hearts, West everywhere scored two club tricks and led a third. Where South ruffed this with the heart 5, tried to eliminate trumps in three rounds and thus left the 9 out with East, the third ensuing diamond was ruffed, the club A was scored and the spade 2 return to the K and A caused the 9 and J to lose to the 10 and Q to put the declarer down three. Several declarers knew the simple play of not ruffing the third club in order to conserve trump length, discarding a spade instead. No matter what was then led, South was able to win it, ruffing a club in dummy if necessary, then score four tricks in trumps plus five in diamonds and one in spades to have ten and game.

Late Selling Wave Pushes Stock Prices Downward

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—A sudden selling squall late in the session pushed prices down fractions to around $1 a share today after the stock market had wavered uncertainly during the first four hours of trading.

A few stocks dropped as much as $2 during the final hour but a majority of the losses by far were counted in fractions.

The selling was accompanied by a very slight increase in volume and trading for the entire session was only 1,420,000 shares, a good deal better than yesterday's 1,160,000 but still below recent averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 50 cents at $94.60 and all categories of the market—industrials, rails and utilities—showed declines.

U. S. Steel, which announced not quite as good a first quarter as in 1950 and declared its regular 75 cent dividend after the market closed, was steady at $44.12 at the close.

Other large steels were down, however. Bethlehem, which has its quarterly meeting Thursday, was down $1 at $55.75 and Republic was off 75 cents at $42.75.

Some of the weakest issues were among the aircrafts—Boeing, down $2 at $48.37 and Douglas, off $3 at $100. Other aircrafts were down fractions.

Illinois Central Railroad was down $1.62 at $63.25 and Union Pacific fell $1 at $101.50 while other rails were steady to fractions lower.

Goodyear Rubber held steady at $77 but Goodrich was down 50 cents at $50 and U. S. Rubber was down a similar amount at $58.50.

Farmers Warned About Insects

Farmers in Allegany County are reminded by County Agent R. F. McHenry that a number of harmful insects are beginning to be observed around the state.

The notes disclose that plum curculios are emerging in small numbers at Cambridge. A few spider mites (red spider) may be found on strawberry leaves in Somerset and Wicomico County fields. The notes suggest that it is about time to dust for mites and clipper with a dust of 75 per cent sulphur and 3 per cent DDT.

A few armyworms were found in roadside grass at Easton. Searchers at a number of places have not revealed any armyworms in grain, but they may be expected by the third week in May, according to Bissell's notes.

Spittlebugs are hatching in Montgomery County and the small yellow bug may be found in the crowns of clover and certain weeds. It is time to spray, the bulletin advises. Farmers also are urged to spray tulip poplar trees now for scale, using 3 per cent dormant oil emulsion.

"Spring has brought many reports from different sections of swarming termites in buildings. A few of these proved to be winged ants which are harmless."

In addition to area ribbons, Love was also awarded the Air Medal, Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Service Medal, the Peruvian Cross, and the Degree of Honorary Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

In 1946, he became President of All American and is also the largest stockholder of the corporation.

Speaking for the Company, Love looks optimistically to the future. His airline has not only brought dependable service to millions of people for the first time, but it has also won the wholehearted acceptance and support of its 45 cities as their "hometown" airlane.

Local Set-Up Would Cost $1,350,000

Two plans have been prepared. One, sufficient to take care of the needs of the city, is estimated to cost $1,350,000. The second, providing for sewage disposal in the greater Cumberland area, would cost $1,480,000, officials said.

Would Cost $1,350,000

The second project, officials said, has to do with the collection of sewage from the greater Cumberland area and bringing it to Cumberland for processing.

Under the second plan, it was explained, surrounding communities would have to set up some type of special taxing area, such as have been formed to finance water and lighting systems, to defray the cost of sewage disposal estimated to cost another $1,480,000.

The governor las week signed House Bill 218, which authorized the city, subject to a referendum, to borrow $1,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance a sewage disposal and treatment system.

Ruling Is Made

The City of Cumberland, the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, and the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company last summer were ordered by the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission to take immediate steps to install treatment plants for sewage and factory wastes.

The Attorney General's Office last week, however, ruled that body has no power to force a city to install a sewage treatment plant.

The Attorney General's office said municipalities must get a permit from the health department before discharging sewage into a stream.

Armed Forces Day To Feature Gen. Olmsted

Supply Officer To Be Here May 19

Brigadier General George H. Olmsted, deputy chief of staff in G-4, Supply, in the Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at the Armed Forces Day celebration in Cumberland May 19.

Thomas F. Conlon, Sr., chairman of the Cumberland Armed Forces Day Steering Committee, said yesterday General Olmsted will deliver an address at both the luncheon meeting at the Elks home, South Centre Street, at 1 p. m. and at the program in the amphitheatre in Constitution Park following the huge parade planned that day.

The parade, which will get underway at 3:30 p. m., is expected to extend about a mile and a half. It will follow a circuitous route through Mapleside and will not enter the business district of the city.

The parade will form on Pennsylvania Avenue and South Street facing Oldtown Road and will march to Louisiana Avenue, up Kent Avenue to Greenway Avenue, across Williams Road to Constitution Park via River Avenue.

The reviewing stand will be placed on Greenway Avenue opposite Fort Hill High School, Conlon noted.

The Second Army military band has been invited to lead the parade and invitations also have been sent to 200 other marching organizations. Conlon said he has been receiving acknowledgements and acceptance to the invitations daily at the Post Office.

The Second Army band also will participate in the band concert which will be a part of the Constitution Park program.

In addition to the musical numbers and the main address by General Olmsted there will be brief talks by Mayor Thomas S. Post and a member of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Thomas B. Finan, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies for the Constitution Park program.

The luncheon program will be held at the BPO Elks at 1 p. m. prior to the parade. Invitations have been extended to fraternal, labor, military and service organizations to attend the luncheon.

In the event of inclement weather the latter part of the program will be held in Fort Hill High School auditorium, Conlon said.

Forester Warns Of Fire Danger

Weather the last several days has increased the dangers of forest and brush fires in this area to the point that the condition is approaching critical, District Forester William H. Johnson said yesterday.

Forester Johnson based his warning on the fact that the fire index has reached 40, considered alarming. This index is figured from a number of factors, including the condition of leaves, the number of days since the last rain, moisture in wood and wind velocity.

Despite the signs of fire danger only one fire was reported in Johnson's four-county district. That burned over three acres of Garrett County, near Vindex.

The best way residents of the area can guard against fire is to abide by regulations for burning trash n these three Spring months of March, April and May, Johnson said. Within 200 feet of woodland or by inflammable material near woodland, the law prohibits burning of trash and other debris until after 4 p. m. Then, burning is permissable near woodland, only if a 10-foot area around the fire is cleared of inflammable material.

A supply of tools and personnel to fight fires also should be on hand, he added.

WEATHER

The thermometer went up into the seventies yesterday and Cumberlanders continued to bask in the spring sunshine. The high for yesterday as recorded by the Weather Station in Constitution Park was 73, the low 32 and it was 62 at 9:15 o'clock last night. The dew point was 42.25 and humidity 46.5. The forecast for today is rather cloudy and mild followed by scattered showers in extreme west portion.

Exchange Club Hears Pastor

"The Uncommon Man" was the subject of the remarks of Rev. Seth C. Morrow, new pastor of First Presbyterian Church, at the regular weekly meeting of the Cumberland Exchange Club at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last night.

The club, headed by William Newberry, has laid out plans for an intensive program, with some special activity each week. Plans will be developed within the next week to raise funds for the Brace Clinic for the Allegany County Crippled Children's League.

At the meeting next Tuesday night three new members will be inducted. About 25 attended last night's session.

Fruit Loss Is Slight

Area orchardists reported no extensive damage to budding peach blossoms as a result of frost yesterday morning. It was the third freeze in recent weeks.

According to an Associated Press report last night the temperature in some areas of the Maryland fruit belt went to slightly below 27 and some buds were blackened.

Water pipes at the Henry Miller, Jr. orchards, Paw Paw, W. Va. were not drained and yesterday morning the trees were being sprayed. A similar situation existed at the Mountain Fruit Sales, Romney, W. Va.

Charles O. Dunbar, University of Maryland horticulturist, said because peach buds always exceed the amount of fruit some can be killed without hurting the crop.

The temperature in Cumberland last night at 9:15 o'clock was 62. The forecast for today is rather cloudy and mild with scattered showers in the west portion tonight.

City Weatherman Is Kept Busy On Job At Constitution Park

CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Everyone talks about the weather but no one seems to do anything about it. This well known saying could hardly be applicable to Robert R. Golden, superintendent of Constutition Park.

He has instruments in the "weather house" which indicate the high and low temperature for the day. A rain gauge is also located nearby to measure precipitation. Recently he acquired a psychrometer and calculator, used to determine the dew point and relative humidity each day.

Golden checks the Potomac river's stage each day at the Wiley Ford Bridge. If an extra heavy rainfall hits Cumberland and vicinity he checks the river more often.

Maintaining the park is Golden's main job and he has a crew of four men working with him. Yesterday he and the workers were raking up leaves and putting the park "in order" for the coming season. He said they had finished planting 230 white and red pine and white spruce seedling ranging from six inches to a foot in height. Two-hundred rose bushes have also been added to beautify the park.

The Constitution Park will officially open he added, on Memorial Day when the swimming pool is put into operation. Actually the park is open the year round. Golden said that a ski trail and sleigh riding facilities are provided during the winter should the weatherman bring the necessary snowfall.

Last year's record crowd for one day was on the Fourth of July when about 13,000 persons visited the 85 acre park. From May 27 to September 27 an average of 1,200 visited it each day with a season's attendance of 137,000.

About 600 registered for the three-day affair and approximately 750 attended the dinner meeting on Monday night, which preceded the Governor's Ball. Robert Kazamyer, lecturer and commentator was guest speaker at the dinner meeting.

Dr. Ivan C. Diehl, dean of Frostburg State Teacher's College was named governor of the district at a Tri-State Area conference on Monday. He succeeds Dr. J. H. Campbell, Emporium, Pa.

John Francis Whitacre a 64-year-old Cumberland resident was found dead in a one room shack yesterday at 11:30 a. m. in the rear of 123 Roberts Street, by Knova Twigg, owner of the property.

Whitacre had been living in the shack for the past several months prior to his death and had been in ill health. Up until the time of his illness he had done "odd jobs" in Cumberland, police said.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy medical examiner, said last night Whitacre's death was attributed to natural causes.

Authorities had been notified of the man's predicament and several weeks ago was taken to Memorial Hospital for treatment. Following his release he returned to live in the one-room shack.

Twigg, on whose property the building is located, had been caring for Whitacre since his illness. He went to the shack at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and again at 11:30 a. m. when he found Whitacre dead and notified police.

Lt. Edwin R. Lilya and Officer James C. Stouffer of the City Police Department investigated. Lilya said the one room shack contained a bed and stove. A floor had been put in some time ago.

Whitacre had lived here in Cumberland for the past 15 years. Born in Green Spring, W. Va., he was a son of Jennie C. Whitacre and the late John T. Whitacre.

Surviving beside his wife, Susey, are two sons, Calvin Whitacre, William Whitacre, Cumberland, one daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Woods, North Branch, seven brothers, Luther Whitacre, Vernon Whitacre, Grover Whitacre, Arthur Whitacre, Clarence Whitacre, Green Spring, W. Firemen Will Elect Officers For Area Civil Defense Setup

Representatives from 33 area volunteer fire companies are expected to attend an election meeting tonight in conjunction with the Civil Defense Program. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Public Safety Building.

Joseph G. Wenrich, Cresaptown, who has been acting as chairman for the meetings in behalf of the Allegany-Garrett County Fire Chiefs Association said he hopes a delegate from each of the area companies will attend.

The election of officers will be held and plans discussed for "mock raids" which will be held in the near future. The purpose of the raids will be to familiarize each company with the region it will respond to in event of attack or similar catastrophe.

Wenrich said last night the entire area within a radius of 50 miles of Cumberland, the pivot center, will be mapped out within a few weeks. Fire companies will be given definite areas to cover.

Industrial plants of the area have been brought into the overall program. Fire companies who will respond to calls at the various plants will work in conjunction with the company's fire department. They will familiarize themselves with water facilities and location of hydrants at the plants.

The area which includes the George's Creek Region will also extend as far as Romney, W. Va., Paw Paw, W. Va., Bedford, Pa., and Hyndman, Pa.

Police Alerted On Operations Of Junk Dealers

Investigation Fails To Disclose Yards

Police Commissioner John J. Long reported last night that all patrolmen in the city have been alerted to enforce this city's junk yard laws.

He added that investigation failed to disclose the presence of the 21 junk yards reported to be operating within this city.

Commissioner Long said Abe Feldstein, who charged that many unlicensed junk yards were operating here, produced the names or locations of seven alleged dealers.

In a report to the Mayor and Council, the commissioner said Feldstein's report included the following:

"Weaver, Valley Road; Jones Sylvan Avenue; unknown name, Hyndman, Pa.; Bonner, address unknown; Shephard, address unknown, and unknown name, Somerset, Pa."

The commissioner said investigation revealed that, with the exception of Jones, who has applied for a city license, none of the above have storage facilities in the city unless it be in cellars.

Feldstein, who operates the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, said several of the men he referred to live outside the city and collect scrap metals here.

Ralph C. Beard, vice president, said a strike vote will be taken at the meeting if a settlement is not reached by that time on contract issues.

Union officials reported Sunday, after members authorized calling for a strike vote, that discussions were bogged down on several issues, including a union shop, recall clause and vacation schedules.

The United States Conciliation Service has been notified of the dispute and Commissioner C. Stanley Clevenger, Winchester, Va., is assigned to the case.

Clevenger held several conferences with the company and union last week.

Top personnel of the State Roads Commission here will go to College Park today to witness the erection of a Bailey Bridge.

The bridge, one of the emergency bridges which became famous in World War II, will be placed across Briar Run there to give SRC personnel experience in erecting the structures.

The demonstration is scheduled for 2 p. m. G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, said the SRC secured several of the Bailey bridges from war surplus stocks to be used in emergencies.

The bridges will serve a dual purpose now, due to the needs for Civil Defense, and can be used to restore vital traffic in case bridges should be damaged by atom bomb blasts.

Bedford Road Clinic Will Open Today

An immunization clinic for infants and pre-school children of the Bedford Road area will be held today at 1:30 p. m. in Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

Mrs. Roeder said the work of making the street passable began Monday after ditching work on the Michigan Avenue sewer was completed, freeing the department's power shovel.

The work will include grading and disposal of surplus material, placing some 1,200 cubic yards of fill and surfacing with cinders or stone.

Vets Receiving NSLI Payments

A couple of local veterans of World War II have reported receiving their second dividend check from the U. S. Government on National Service Life Insurance policies.

The first dividend check was paid over a year ago to all veterans who held insurance while in the service. The original premium was based on the estimated number of casualties expected in the last world war and when the total number of casualties was less than anticipated a refund was paid to all service men who held the policies.

The government then recently announced it was sending out additional dividend checks to servicemen who still have their insurance in effect. These checks will be based on information already in the hands of the Veterans Administration.

Men still in the service who pay for their insurance by allotments from their pay were required to fill out a card requesting the dividend, but those veterans who pay for the policies personally will receive their checks automatically.

The amounts of the checks being sent out in payment of the second dividend have been totaling approximately one-fourth of the original amounts received in the initial payments.

Two Allegany High Seventh Graders Pose As Newsmen To See General MacArthur

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON
News Staff Writer

Posing as a reporter and a press photographer gave two youthful Allegany High School students the thrill of their lives last week.

In Washington, D. C., last Thursday to see the arrival of General Douglas MacArthur the two Potomac Park youths, Milton VanMeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claudis M. VanMeter, and Ronald Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Dick, bought a ticket to the General's reviewing stand and then posed as members of the press in order to get pictures and hear the General's speech.

Arriving in Washington at 8 a. m. that eventful day, the two seventh grade boys took in a sight-seeing tour with the Dick boy's father as chaperon. They arrived at the Washington Monument grounds about 10 o'clock that morning long before MacArthur was due to appear.

Buy Reviewing Ticket

Skimming through the already thronging crowd the enterprising youths came upon a Washington woman who was with her mother. The woman had a blue ticket which was necessary to get to the reviewing stand, but since only one ticket was available she intended to stay back in the crowd with her mother so the AHS "newspapermen" bought the ticket for $3.

The two boys then bluffed their way to the reviewing stand on the single ticket, good for only one person, after telling the head usher they were on assignment from the Alcohi Mirror, a Cumberland newspaper. The usher directed them to the press box in front of the reviewing stand, and the numerous columnists and photographers from all over the country who were assigned to the story went along with the "gag" and accepted the boys as bonafide newsmen.

Get Tips From Newsmen

Tipping off the boys how to get by the numerous police guards and ushers several of the Washington newspapermen gave the youths "tricks of their trade" in enabling them to move about freely without the usual red tape encountered in such a huge affair.

At last the great moment came when the controversial figure of General Douglas MacArthur arrived at the monumental grounds to receive the key to the city, numerous other gifts and make a stirring speech to the huge congregation assembled there.

Gets Fresh Supply

Ronnie, in his eagerness to get a picture of MacArthur, accidently tripped the flash on his camera ruining the only bulb he had in his possession. Heartsick he turned to a woman photographer nearby and sought to buy several flash bulbs from her but she had only enough equipment for her own pictures.

Another genial Washington newspaperman, seeing the boys' plight, brought them a bagful of flash bulbs, laughingly remarking as he turned away, "Next time your newspaper sends you on an assignment get them to give you enough equipment to do a good job."

The Campobello lads then were ushered by the other newsmen to the front ranks of the press box where they were able to "cover" the event without trouble.

They saw the General receive the gold key to the city, saw numerous other gifts presented to the former Asiatic commander and his wife and saw MacArthur's son, Arthur, receive a beautiful watch.

Meanwhile Ronnie was gleefully popping away with his camera, recording the event to show his many friends when he returned home. Then, the huge gold key was brought to the pressbox to be photographed by the newsmen.

Ronnie Takes Pictures

After the many photographers present had taken the picture, the newsman in charge of the press box called Ronnie forward and told him to take his picture of the key also for his "paper." So Ronnie got a closeup shot of the key that had been presented to MacArthur.

Then the two settled down to hear MacArthur's talk, Milton studiously taking "notes" in his role of the reporter.

Upon their return home the story became known to Miss Mary Murray, advisor of the Alcohi Mirror, Allegany High School semi-monthly publication, which the boys had "represented" at the affair.

Thinking they were going to be reprimanded for their "little white lie" they were at first fearful of the outcome, but a talk with Miss Murray proved that all she wanted them to do was make a report to the other classes in school on their adventure and then write a story for the paper.

True Journalists

When they were asked if they would do it again if presented the chance, the answer was a unanimous "Yes, sir."

Local Set-Up Would Cost $1,350,000

Details of plans prepared for sewage treatment and disposal plants for this area have been presented to city officials.

Two plans have been prepared. One, sufficient to take care of the needs of the city, is estimated to cost $1,350,000. The second, providing for sewage disposal in the greater Cumberland area, would cost $1,480,000, officials said.

Details of the plans were presented to city officials by Robert T. Register, Baltimore engineer, who is preparing plans for the project.

Officials explained that no decision was reached at the meeting which was held to allow preliminary discussions of the projects.

Would Cost $1,350,000

The first plan, costing $1,350,000, would provide a primary sewage treatment plant, interceptor facilities and a pumping system for sewage within the city.

The second project, officials said, has to do with the collection of sewage from the greater Cumberland area and bringing it to Cumberland for processing.

Under the second plan, it was explained, surrounding communities would have to set up some type of special taxing area, such as have been formed to finance water and lighting systems, to defray the cost of sewage disposal estimated to cost another $1,480,000.

The governor las week signed House Bill 218, which authorized the city, subject to a referendum, to borrow $1,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance a sewage disposal and treatment system.

Ruling Is Made

The City of Cumberland, the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, and the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company last summer were ordered by the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission to take immediate steps to install treatment plants for sewage and factory wastes.

The Attorney General's Office last week, however, ruled that body has no power to force a city to install a sewage treatment plant.

The Attorney General's office said municipalities must get a permit from the health department before discharging sewage into a stream.

Armed Forces Day To Feature Gen. Olmsted

Supply Officer To Be Here May 19

Brigadier General George H. Olmsted, deputy chief of staff in G-4, Supply, in the Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at the Armed Forces Day celebration in Cumberland May 19.

Thomas F. Conlon, Sr., chairman of the Cumberland Armed Forces Day Steering Committee, said yesterday General Olmsted will deliver an address at both the luncheon meeting at the Elks home, South Centre Street, at 1 p. m. and at the program in the amphitheatre in Constitution Park following the huge parade planned that day.

The parade, which will get underway at 3:30 p. m., is expected to extend about a mile and a half. It will follow a circuitous route through Mapleside and will not enter the business district of the city.

The parade will form on Pennsylvania Avenue and South Street facing Oldtown Road and will march to Louisiana Avenue, up Kent Avenue to Greenway Avenue, across Williams Road to Constitution Park via River Avenue.

The reviewing stand will be placed on Greenway Avenue opposite Fort Hill High School, Conlon noted.

The Second Army military band has been invited to lead the parade and invitations also have been sent to 200 other marching organizations. Conlon said he has been receiving acknowledgements and acceptance to the invitations daily at the Post Office.

The Second Army band also will participate in the band concert which will be a part of the Constitution Park program.

In addition to the musical numbers and the main address by General Olmsted there will be brief talks by Mayor Thomas S. Post and a member of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Thomas B. Finan, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies for the Constitution Park program.

The luncheon program will be held at the BPO Elks at 1 p. m. prior to the parade. Invitations have been extended to fraternal, labor, military and service organizations to attend the luncheon.

In the event of inclement weather the latter part of the program will be held in Fort Hill High School auditorium, Conlon said.

A special meeting for chairmen and committee reports will be held at the Post Office building tonight at 8 p. m., Conlon reported.

Exchange Club Hears Pastor

"The Uncommon Man" was the subject of the remarks of Rev. Seth C. Morrow, new pastor of First Presbyterian Church, at the regular weekly meeting of the Cumberland Exchange Club at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last night.

The club, headed by William Newberry, has laid out plans for an intensive program, with some special activity each week. Plans will be developed within the next week to raise funds for the Brace Clinic for the Allegany County Crippled Children's League.

At the meeting next Tuesday night three new members will be inducted. About 25 attended last night's session.

Fruit Loss Is Slight

Area orchardists reported no extensive damage to budding peach blossoms as a result of frost yesterday morning. It was the third freeze in recent weeks.

According to an Associated Press report last night the temperature in some areas of the Maryland fruit belt went to slightly below 27 and some buds were blackened.

Water pipes at the Henry Miller, Jr. orchards, Paw Paw, W. Va. were not drained and yesterday morning the trees were being sprayed. A similar situation existed at the Mountain Fruit Sales, Romney, W. Va.

Charles O. Dunbar, University of Maryland horticulturist, said because peach buds always exceed the amount of fruit some can be killed without hurting the crop.

The temperature in Cumberland last night at 9:15 o'clock was 62. The forecast for today is rather cloudy and mild with scattered showers in the west portion tonight.

Forester Warns Of Fire Danger

Weather the last several days has increased the dangers of forest and brush fires in this area to the point that the condition is approaching critical, District Forester William H. Johnson said yesterday.

Forester Johnson based his warning on the fact that the fire index has reached 40, considered alarming. This index is figured from a number of factors, including the condition of leaves, the number of days since the last rain, moisture in wood and wind velocity.

Despite the signs of fire danger only one fire was reported in Johnson's four-county district. That burned over three acres of Garrett County, near Vindex.

The best way residents of the area can guard against fire is to abide by regulations for burning trash n these three Spring months of March, April and May, Johnson said. Within 200 feet of woodland or by inflammable material near woodland, the law prohibits burning of trash and other debris until after 4 p. m. Then, burning is permissable near woodland, only if a 10-foot area around the fire is cleared of inflammable material.

A supply of tools and personnel to fight fires also should be on hand, he added.

WEATHER

The thermometer went up into the seventies yesterday and Cumberlanders continued to bask in the spring sunshine. City Weatherman Is Kept Busy On Job At Constitution Park

CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Everyone talks about the weather but no one seems to do anything about it. This well known saying could hardly be applicable to Robert R. Golden, superintendent of Constutition Park.

He has instruments in the "weather house" which indicate the high and low temperature for the day. A rain gauge is also located nearby to measure precipitation. Recently he acquired a psychrometer and calculator, used to determine the dew point and relative humidity each day.

Golden checks the Potomac river's stage each day at the Wiley Ford Bridge. If an extra heavy rainfall hits Cumberland and vicinity he checks the river more often.

Maintaining the park is Golden's main job and he has a crew of four men working with him. Yesterday he and the workers were raking up leaves and putting the park "in order" for the coming season. He said they had finished planting 230 white and red pine and white spruce seedling ranging from six inches to a foot in height. Two-hundred rose bushes have also been added to beautify the park.

The Constitution Park will officially open he added, on Memorial Day when the swimming pool is put into operation. Actually the park is open the year round. Golden said that a ski trail and sleigh riding facilities are provided during the winter should the weatherman bring the necessary snowfall.

Last year's record crowd for one day was on the Fourth of July when about 13,000 persons visited the 85 acre park. From May 27 to September 27 an average of 1,200 visited it each day with a season's attendance of 137,000.

Aside from the two swimming pools there are tennis court space, see-saws, sliding boards, merry-go-rounds, swings and facilities for picnickers.

Two Allegany High Seventh Graders Pose As Newsmen To See General MacArthur

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON
News Staff Writer

Posing as a reporter and a press photographer gave two youthful Allegany High School students the thrill of their lives last week.

In Washington, D. C., last Thursday to see the arrival of General Douglas MacArthur the two Potomac Park youths, Milton VanMeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claudis M. VanMeter, and Ronald Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Dick, bought a ticket to the General's reviewing stand and then posed as members of the press in order to get pictures and hear the General's speech.

Arriving in Washington at 8 a. m. that eventful day, the two seventh grade boys took in a sight-seeing tour with the Dick boy's father as chaperon. They arrived at the Washington Monument grounds about 10 o'clock that morning long before MacArthur was due to appear.

Buy Reviewing Ticket

Skimming through the already thronging crowd the enterprising youths came upon a Washington woman who was with her mother. The woman had a blue ticket which was necessary to get to the reviewing stand, but since only one ticket was available she intended to stay back in the crowd with her mother so the AHS "newspapermen" bought the ticket for $3.

The two boys then bluffed their way to the reviewing stand on the single ticket, good for only one person, after telling the head usher they were on assignment from the Alcohi Mirror, a Cumberland newspaper. The usher directed them to the press box in front of the reviewing stand, and the numerous columnists and photographers from all over the country who were assigned to the story went along with the "gag" and accepted the boys as bonafide newsmen.

Get Tips From Newsmen

Tipping off the boys how to get by the numerous police guards and ushers several of the Washington newspapermen gave the youths "tricks of their trade" in enabling them to move about freely without the usual red tape encountered in such a huge affair.

At last the great moment came when the controversial figure of General Douglas MacArthur arrived at the monumental grounds to receive the key to the city, numerous other gifts and make a stirring speech to the huge congregation assembled there.

Gets Fresh Supply

Ronnie, in his eagerness to get a picture of MacArthur, accidently tripped the flash on his camera ruining the only bulb he had in his possession. Heartsick he turned to a woman photographer nearby and sought to buy several flash bulbs from her but she had only enough equipment for her own pictures.

Another genial Washington newspaperman, seeing the boys' plight, brought them a bagful of flash bulbs, laughingly remarking as he turned away, "Next time your newspaper sends you on an assignment get them to give you enough equipment to do a good job."

The Campobello lads then were ushered by the other newsmen to the front ranks of the press box where they were able to "cover" the event without trouble.

They saw the General receive the gold key to the city, saw numerous other gifts presented to the former Asiatic commander and his wife and saw MacArthur's son, Arthur, receive a beautiful watch.

Meanwhile Ronnie was gleefully popping away with his camera, recording the event to show his many friends when he returned home. Then, the huge gold key was brought to the pressbox to be photographed by the newsmen.

Ronnie Takes Pictures

After the many photographers present had taken the picture, the newsman in charge of the press box called Ronnie forward and told him to take his picture of the key also for his "paper." So Ronnie got a closeup shot of the key that had been presented to MacArthur.

Then the two settled down to hear MacArthur's talk, Milton studiously taking "notes" in his role of the reporter.

Upon their return home the story became known to Miss Mary Murray, advisor of the Alcohi Mirror, Allegany High School semi-monthly publication, which the boys had "represented" at the affair.

Thinking they were going to be reprimanded for their "little white lie" they were at first fearful of the outcome, but a talk with Miss Murray proved that all she wanted them to do was make a report to the other classes in school on their adventure and then write a story for the paper.

True Journalists

When they were asked if they would do it again if presented the chance, the answer was a unanimous "Yes, sir."

Police Alerted On Operations Of Junk Dealers

Investigation Fails To Disclose Yards

Police Commissioner John J. Long reported last night that all patrolmen in the city have been alerted to enforce this city's junk yard laws.

He added that investigation failed to disclose the presence of the 21 junk yards reported to be operating within this city.

Commissioner Long said Abe Feldstein, who charged that many unlicensed junk yards were operating here, produced the names or locations of seven alleged dealers.

In a report to the Mayor and Council, the commissioner said Feldstein's report included the following:

"Weaver, Valley Road; Jones Sylvan Avenue; unknown name, Hyndman, Pa.; Bonner, address unknown; Shephard, address unknown, and unknown name, Somerset, Pa."

The commissioner said investigation revealed that, with the exception of Jones, who has applied for a city license, none of the above have storage facilities in the city unless it be in cellars.

Feldstein, who operates the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, said several of the men he referred to live outside the city and collect scrap metals here.

Local 26 Plans Special Meeting

Local 26, United Rubber Workers Union (CIO), will hold a special meeting Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in the State Armory to present a report on contract negotiations with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Ralph C. Beard, vice president, said a strike vote will be taken at the meeting if a settlement is not reached by that time on contract issues.

Discussions on revisions in the pact are slated to resume today.

Union officials reported Sunday, after members authorized calling for a strike vote, that discussions were bogged down on several issues, including a union shop, recall clause and vacation schedules.

The United States Conciliation Service has been notified of the dispute and Commissioner C. Stanley Clevenger, Winchester, Va., is assigned to the case.

Clevenger held several conferences with the company and union last week.

SRC Officials To Attend Meet

Top personnel of the State Roads Commission here will go to College Park today to witness the erection of a Bailey Bridge.

The bridge, one of the emergency bridges which became famous in World War II, will be placed across Briar Run there to give SRC personnel experience in erecting the structures.

The demonstration is scheduled for 2 p. m. G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, said the SRC secured several of the Bailey bridges from war surplus stocks to be used in emergencies.

The bridges will serve a dual purpose now, due to the needs for Civil Defense, and can be used to restore vital traffic in case bridges should be damaged by atom bomb blasts.

Bedford Road Clinic Will Open Today

An immunization clinic for infants and pre-school children of the Bedford Road area will be held today at 1:30 p. m. in Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

Two more injections of the combined serum are needed. Vaccination is usually administered when the child receives the third injection.

Firemen Will Elect Officers For Area Civil Defense Setup

Representatives from 33 area volunteer fire companies are expected to attend an election meeting tonight in conjunction with the Civil Defense Program. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Public Safety Building.

Joseph G. Wenrich, Cresaptown, who has been acting as chairman for the meetings in behalf of the Allegany-Garrett County Fire Chiefs Association said he hopes a delegate from each of the area companies will attend.

The election of officers will be held and plans discussed for "mock raids" which will be held in the near future. The purpose of the raids will be to familiarize each company with the region it will respond to in event of attack or similar catastrophe.

Wenrich said last night the entire area within a radius of 50 miles of Cumberland, the pivot center, will be mapped out within a few weeks. Fire companies will be given definite areas to cover.

Industrial plants of the area have been brought into the overall program. Fire companies who will respond to calls at the various plants will work in conjunction with the company's fire department. They will familiarize themselves with water facilities and location of hydrants at the plants.

The area which includes the George's Creek Region will also extend as far as Romney, W. Va., Paw Paw, W. Va., Bedford, Pa., and Hyndman, Pa.

2,100-Foot Stretch Will Be Constructed

Mrs. Roeder said the work of making the street passable began Monday after ditching work on the Michigan Avenue sewer was completed, freeing the department's power shovel.

The work will include grading and disposal of surplus material, placing some 1,200 cubic yards of fill and surfacing with cinders or stone.

The department, Mrs. Roeder said, will try to secure fill material from the flood control project.

Vets Receiving NSLI Payments

A couple of local veterans of World War II have reported receiving their second dividend check from the U. S. Government on National Service Life Insurance policies.

The first dividend check was paid over a year ago to all veterans who held insurance while in the service. The original premium was based on the estimated number of casualties expected in the last world war and when the total number of casualties was less than anticipated a refund was paid to all service men who held the policies.

The government then recently announced it was sending out additional dividend checks to servicemen who still have their insurance in effect. These checks will be based on information already in the hands of the Veterans Administration.

Men still in the service who pay for their insurance by allotments from their pay were required to fill out a card requesting the dividend, but those veterans who pay for the policies personally will receive their checks automatically.

The amounts of the checks being sent out in payment of the second dividend have been totaling approximately one-fourth of the original amounts received in the initial payments.

Would Cost $1,350,000

The first plan, costing $1,350,000, would provide a primary sewage treatment plant, interceptor facilities and a pumping system for sewage within the city.

The second project, officials said, has to do with the collection of sewage from the greater Cumberland area and bringing it to Cumberland for processing.

Under the second plan, it was explained, surrounding communities would have to set up some type of special taxing area, such as have been formed to finance water and lighting systems, to defray the cost of sewage disposal estimated to cost another $1,480,000.

The governor las week signed House Bill 218, which authorized the city, subject to a referendum, to borrow $1,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance a sewage disposal and treatment system.

Ruling Is Made

The City of Cumberland, the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, and the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company last summer were ordered by the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission to take immediate steps to install treatment plants for sewage and factory wastes.

The Attorney General's Office last week, however, ruled that body has no power to force a city to install a sewage treatment plant.

The Attorney General's office said municipalities must get a permit from the health department before discharging sewage into a stream.

Armed Forces Day To Feature Gen. Olmsted

Supply Officer To Be Here May 19

Brigadier General George H. Olmsted, deputy chief of staff in G-4, Supply, in the Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at the Armed Forces Day celebration in Cumberland May 19.

Thomas F. Conlon, Sr., chairman of the Cumberland Armed Forces Day Steering Committee, said yesterday General Olmsted will deliver an address at both the luncheon meeting at the Elks home, South Centre Street, at 1 p. m. and at the program in the amphitheatre in Constitution Park following the huge parade planned that day.

The parade, which will get underway at 3:30 p. m., is expected to extend about a mile and a half. It will follow a circuitous route through Mapleside and will not enter the business district of the city.

The parade will form on Pennsylvania Avenue and South Street facing Oldtown Road and will march to Louisiana Avenue, up Kent Avenue to Greenway Avenue, across Williams Road to Constitution Park via River Avenue.

The reviewing stand will be placed on Greenway Avenue opposite Fort Hill High School, Conlon noted.

The Second Army military band has been invited to lead the parade and invitations also have been sent to 200 other marching organizations. Conlon said he has been receiving acknowledgements and acceptance to the invitations daily at the Post Office.

The Second Army band also will participate in the band concert which will be a part of the Constitution Park program.

In addition to the musical numbers and the main address by General Olmsted there will be brief talks by Mayor Thomas S. Post and a member of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Thomas B. Finan, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies for the Constitution Park program.

The luncheon program will be held at the BPO Elks at 1 p. m. prior to the parade. Invitations have been extended to fraternal, labor, military and service organizations to attend the luncheon.

In the event of inclement weather the latter part of the program will be held in Fort Hill High School auditorium, Conlon said.

A special meeting for chairmen and committee reports will be held at the Post Office building tonight at 8 p. m., Conlon reported.

Forester Warns Of Fire Danger

Weather the last several days has increased the dangers of forest and brush fires in this area to the point that the condition is approaching critical, District Forester William H. Johnson said yesterday.

Forester Johnson based his warning on the fact that the fire index has reached 40, considered alarming. This index is figured from a number of factors, including the condition of leaves, the number of days since the last rain, moisture in wood and wind velocity.

Despite the signs of fire danger only one fire was reported in Johnson's four-county district. That burned over three acres of Garrett County, near Vindex.

The best way residents of the area can guard against fire is to abide by regulations for burning trash n these three Spring months of March, April and May, Johnson said. Within 200 feet of woodland or by inflammable material near woodland, the law prohibits burning of trash and other debris until after 4 p. m. Then, burning is permissable near woodland, only if a 10-foot area around the fire is cleared of inflammable material.

A supply of tools and personnel to fight fires also should be on hand, he added.

Exchange Club Hears Pastor

"The Uncommon Man" was the subject of the remarks of Rev. Seth C. Morrow, new pastor of First Presbyterian Church, at the regular weekly meeting of the Cumberland Exchange Club at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last night.

The club, headed by William Newberry, has laid out plans for an intensive program, with some special activity each week. Plans will be developed within the next week to raise funds for the Brace Clinic for the Allegany County Crippled Children's League.

Fruit Loss Is Slight

Area orchardists reported no extensive damage to budding peach blossoms as a result of frost yesterday morning. It was the third freeze in recent weeks.

According to an Associated Press report last night the temperature in some areas of the Maryland fruit belt went to slightly below 27 and some buds were blackened.

Water pipes at the Henry Miller, Jr. orchards, Paw Paw, W. Va. were not drained and yesterday morning the trees were being sprayed. A similar situation existed at the Mountain Fruit Sales, Romney, W. Va.

Charles O. Dunbar, University of Maryland horticulturist, said because peach buds always exceed the amount of fruit some can be killed without hurting the crop.

The temperature in Cumberland last night at 9:15 o'clock was 62. The forecast for today is rather cloudy and mild with scattered showers in the west portion tonight.

City Weatherman Is Kept Busy On Job At Constitution Park

CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Everyone talks about the weather but no one seems to do anything about it. This well known saying could hardly be applicable to Robert R. Golden, superintendent of Constutition Park.

He has instruments in the "weather house" which indicate the high and low temperature for the day. A rain gauge is also located nearby to measure precipitation. Recently he acquired a psychrometer and calculator, used to determine the dew point and relative humidity each day.

Golden checks the Potomac river's stage each day at the Wiley Ford Bridge. If an extra heavy rainfall hits Cumberland and vicinity he checks the river more often.

Maintaining the park is Golden's main job and he has a crew of four men working with him. Yesterday he and the workers were raking up leaves and putting the park "in order" for the coming season. He said they had finished planting 230 white and red pine and white spruce seedling ranging from six inches to a foot in height. Two-hundred rose bushes have also been added to beautify the park.

The Constitution Park will officially open he added, on Memorial Day when the swimming pool is put into operation. Actually the park is open the year round. Golden said that a ski trail and sleigh riding facilities are provided during the winter should the weatherman bring the necessary snowfall.

Last year's record crowd for one day was on the Fourth of July when about 13,000 persons visited the 85 acre park. From May 27 to September 27 an average of 1,200 visited it each day with a season's attendance of 137,000.

Aside from the two swimming pools there are tennis court space, see-saws, sliding boards, merry-go-rounds, swings and facilities for picnickers.

Two Allegany High Seventh Graders Pose As Newsmen To See General MacArthur

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON
News Staff Writer

Posing as a reporter and a press photographer gave two youthful Allegany High School students the thrill of their lives last week.

In Washington, D. C., last Thursday to see the arrival of General Douglas MacArthur the two Potomac Park youths, Milton VanMeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claudis M. VanMeter, and Ronald Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Dick, bought a ticket to the General's reviewing stand and then posed as members of the press in order to get pictures and hear the General's speech.

Arriving in Washington at 8 a. m. that eventful day, the two seventh grade boys took in a sight-seeing tour with the Dick boy's father as chaperon. They arrived at the Washington Monument grounds about 10 o'clock that morning long before MacArthur was due to appear.

Buy Reviewing Ticket

Skimming through the already thronging crowd the enterprising youths came upon a Washington woman who was with her mother. The woman had a blue ticket which was necessary to get to the reviewing stand, but since only one ticket was available she intended to stay back in the crowd with her mother so the AHS "newspapermen" bought the ticket for $3.

The two boys then bluffed their way to the reviewing stand on the single ticket, good for only one person, after telling the head usher they were on assignment from the Alcohi Mirror, a Cumberland newspaper. The usher directed them to the press box in front of the reviewing stand, and the numerous columnists and photographers from all over the country who were assigned to the story went along with the "gag" and accepted the boys as bonafide newsmen.

Get Tips From Newsmen

Tipping off the boys how to get by the numerous police guards and ushers several of the Washington newspapermen gave the youths "tricks of their trade" in enabling them to move about freely without the usual red tape encountered in such a huge affair.

At last the great moment came when the controversial figure of General Douglas MacArthur arrived at the monumental grounds to receive the key to the city, numerous other gifts and make a stirring speech to the huge congregation assembled there.

Gets Fresh Supply

Ronnie, in his eagerness to get a picture of MacArthur, accidently tripped the flash on his camera ruining the only bulb he had in his possession. Heartsick he turned to a woman photographer nearby and sought to buy several flash bulbs from her but she had only enough equipment for her own pictures.

Another genial Washington newspaperman, seeing the boys' plight, brought them a bagful of flash bulbs, laughingly remarking as he turned away, "Next time your newspaper sends you on an assignment get them to give you enough equipment to do a good job."

The Campobello lads then were ushered by the other newsmen to the front ranks of the press box where they were able to "cover" the event without trouble.

They saw the General receive the gold key to the city, saw numerous other gifts presented to the former Asiatic commander and his wife and saw MacArthur's son, Arthur, receive a beautiful watch.

Meanwhile Ronnie was gleefully popping away with his camera, recording the event to show his many friends when he returned home. Then, the huge gold key was brought to the pressbox to be photographed by the newsmen.

Ronnie Takes Pictures

After the many photographers present had taken the picture, the newsman in charge of the press box called Ronnie forward and told him to take his picture of the key also for his "paper." So Ronnie got a closeup shot of the key that had been presented to MacArthur.

Then the two settled down to hear MacArthur's talk, Milton studiously taking "notes" in his role of the reporter.

Upon their return home the story became known to Miss Mary Murray, advisor of the Alcohi Mirror, Allegany High School semi-monthly publication, which the boys had "represented" at the affair.

Thinking they were going to be reprimanded for their "little white lie" they were at first fearful of the outcome, but a talk with Miss Murray proved that all she wanted them to do was make a report to the other classes in school on their adventure and then write a story for the paper.

True Journalists

When they were asked if they would do it again if presented the chance, the answer was a unanimous "Yes, sir."

Firemen Will Elect Officers For Area Civil Defense Setup

Representatives from 33 area volunteer fire companies are expected to attend an election meeting tonight in conjunction with the Civil Defense Program. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Public Safety Building.

Joseph G. Wenrich, Cresaptown, who has been acting as chairman for the meetings in behalf of the Allegany-Garrett County Fire Chiefs Association said he hopes a delegate from each of the area companies will attend.

The election of officers will be held and plans discussed for "mock raids" which will be held in the near future. The purpose of the raids will be to familiarize each company with the region it will respond to in event of attack or similar catastrophe.

Wenrich said last night the entire area within a radius of 50 miles of Cumberland, the pivot center, will be mapped out within a few weeks. Fire companies will be given definite areas to cover.

Industrial plants of the area have been brought into the overall program. Fire companies who will respond to calls at the various plants will work in conjunction with the company's fire department. They will familiarize themselves with water facilities and location of hydrants at the plants.

The area which includes the George's Creek Region will also extend as far as Romney, W. Va., Paw Paw, W. Va., Bedford, Pa., and Hyndman, Pa.

Police Alerted On Operations Of Junk Dealers

Investigation Fails To Disclose Yards

Police Commissioner John J. Long reported last night that all patrolmen in the city have been alerted to enforce this city's junk yard laws.

He added that investigation failed to disclose the presence of the 21 junk yards reported to be operating within this city.

Commissioner Long said Abe Feldstein, who charged that many unlicensed junk yards were operating here, produced the names or locations of seven alleged dealers.

In a report to the Mayor and Council, the commissioner said Feldstein's report included the following:

The commissioner said investigation revealed that, with the exception of Jones, who has applied for a city license, none of the above have storage facilities in the city unless it be in cellars.

Feldstein, who operates the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, said several of the men he referred to live outside the city and collect scrap metals here.

Discussions on revisions in the pact are slated to resume today.

Union officials reported Sunday, after members authorized calling for a strike vote, that discussions were bogged down on several issues, including a union shop, recall clause and vacation schedules.

The United States Conciliation Service has been notified of the dispute and Commissioner C. Stanley Clevenger, Winchester, Va., is assigned to the case.

Clevenger held several conferences with the company and union last week.

Top personnel of the State Roads Commission here will go to College Park today to witness the erection of a Bailey Bridge.

The bridge, one of the emergency bridges which became famous in World War II, will be placed across Briar Run there to give SRC personnel experience in erecting the structures.

The demonstration is scheduled for 2 p. m. G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, said the SRC secured several of the Bailey bridges from war surplus stocks to be used in emergencies.

The bridges will serve a dual purpose now, due to the needs for Civil Defense, and can be used to restore vital traffic in case bridges should be damaged by atom bomb blasts.

Bedford Road Clinic Will Open Today

An immunization clinic for infants and pre-school children of the Bedford Road area will be held today at 1:30 p. m. in Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

Mrs. Roeder said the work of making the street passable began Monday after ditching work on the Michigan Avenue sewer was completed, freeing the department's power shovel.

The work will include grading and disposal of surplus material, placing some 1,200 cubic yards of fill and surfacing with cinders or stone.

Vets Receiving NSLI Payments

A couple of local veterans of World War II have reported receiving their second dividend check from the U. S. Government on National Service Life Insurance policies.

The first dividend check was paid over a year ago to all veterans who held insurance while in the service. The original premium was based on the estimated number of casualties expected in the last world war and when the total number of casualties was less than anticipated a refund was paid to all service men who held the policies.

The government then recently announced it was sending out additional dividend checks to servicemen who still have their insurance in effect. These checks will be based on information already in the hands of the Veterans Administration.

Men still in the service who pay for their insurance by allotments from their pay were required to fill out a card requesting the dividend, but those veterans who pay for the policies personally will receive their checks automatically.

The amounts of the checks being sent out in payment of the second dividend have been totaling approximately one-fourth of the original amounts received in the initial payments.
